E.H.Carr: A Critical Appraisal M. Cox, 2016-04-30 E H Carr 1892 1982 was born into security but lived a life of controversy Attacked for appeasing both Hitler and Stalin he was not only one of the most productive writers of the Twentieth century but one of its most provocative as well In this book the first ever to deal critically but fairly with Carr's contribution to international relations Soviet Studies and the study of history sixteen internationally respected authors grapple with his complex intellectual legacy For those seriously interested in understanding the life and times of this most English of establishment radicals this is the place to begin

Morgenthau William E. Scheuerman, 2013-04-30 The ideas of Hans Morgenthau dominated the study of international politics in the United States for many decades He was the leading representative of Realist international relations theory in the last century and his work remains hugely influential in the field

In this engaging and accessible new study of his work William E Scheuerman provides a comprehensive and illuminating introduction to Morgenthau's ideas and assesses their significance for political theory and international politics. Scheuerman shows Morgenthau to be an uneasy Realist uncomfortable with conventional notions of Realism and sometimes unsure whether his reflections should be grouped under its rubric. He was a powerful critic of the existing state system and defended the idea of a world state. By highlighting Morgenthau's engagement with the leading lights of European political and legal theory, Scheuerman argues that he developed a morally demanding political ethics and an astute diagnosis of the unprecedented perils posed by nuclear weaponry. Believing that the irrationalities of US foreign policy were rooted partly in domestic factors, he sympathized with demands for radical political and social change. Scheuerman illustrates that Morgenthau's thinking has been widely misunderstood by both disciples and critics and that it offers many challenges to contemporary Realists who discount his normative aspirations. With the advent of the cosmopolitan goal of international reform, Morgenthau's work serves up an unsettling mix of sympathy and hard-headed skepticism which remains crucially important in the development of the field. Lucidly and persuasively written, this book will be a valuable resource for students and scholars seeking to understand the continued importance of Morgenthau's thinking.

From 1918 to 1945 the British Labour Party worked closely with some of the biggest names in international relations IR scholarship Through such structures as the Advisory Committee on International Questions IR scholars were instrumental in the construction of Labour foreign policy and the experience of working closely with Labour s leadership influenced the approach to IR taken by these scholars One of the major effects of the collaboration of Labour with IR experts was a wealth of memoranda reports and pamphlets written by IR scholars for the Party This material despite its relevance to the history of the discipline of IR has received scant attention in modern IR scholarship This study has three major goals The first is to add to the literature on the study of Labour foreign policy by examining the crucial role played by IR theorists and writers The Advisory Committee and its intellectual members did much to shape the foreign policy of the Party giving it a coherent approach to international problems The second is to put the international theories of five key writers Leonard Woolf H N Brailsford Philip Noel Baker Norman Angell and David Mitrany into the context of both the development of Labour s international policy and the evolution of the international environment between the wars Although all five writers are acknowledged as key thinkers in this period the memoranda on foreign affairs that they did for the Labour Party are little known within IR The final goal is to demonstrate the inadequacy of the current interpretation within IR of the inter war period The obsession with the anachronistic division between realism and idealism terms that had different connotations before the Second World War masks both the very different debates that were going on at the time and the changing international landscape of the inter war period itself
