Rebels Renegades:

Renegades, Rebels and Rogues Under the Tsars Peter Julicher, 2003-08-25 In the Russia of the tsars people who criticized or questioned the autocratic prerogatives of the sovereign were brutally suppressed and sometimes actively persecuted So imbedded was this official hostility to anyone hoping to change or even influence government policy that even the most high minded reformers came to understand that the only way they could succeed was to overthrow the regime The author describes the activities of the most important dissidents and agitators from the reign of Ivan the Terrible to Nicholas II and the Communist Revolution in 1917 Many of these fascinating individuals were serious activists endeavoring to improve society others were opportunistic scoundrels and adventurers The author explores the causes that provoked them and the consequences they faced and explains how time and time again the tsars were goaded into mistakes and over reaction

Realist Ethics Valerie Morkevicius, 2018-01-25 Just war thinking and realism are commonly presumed to be in opposition If realists are seen as war mongering pragmatists just war thinkers are seen as naive at best and pacifistic at worst Just war thought is imagined as speaking truth to power forcing realist decision makers to abide by moral limits governing the ends and means of the use of force Realist Ethics argues that this oversimplification is not only wrong but dangerous Casting just war thought to be the alternative to realism makes just war thinking out to be what it is not and cannot be a mechanism for avoiding war A careful examination of the evolution of just war thinking in the Christian Islamic and Hindu traditions shows that it is no stranger to pragmatic politics From its origins just war thought has not aimed to curtail violence but rather to shape the morally imaginable uses of force deeming some of them necessary and even obligatory Morkevicius proposes here a radical recasting of the relationship

The New New Journalism Robert Boynton, 2007-12-18. Forty years after Tom Wolfe, Hunter S. Thompson, and Gay Talese launched the New Journalism movement, Robert S. Boynton sits down with nineteen practitioners of what he calls the New New Journalism to discuss their methods, writings, and careers. The New New Journalists are first and foremost brilliant reporters who immerse themselves completely in their subjects. Jon Krakauer accompanies a mountaineering expedition to Everest. Ted Conover works for nearly a year as a prison guard. Susan Orlean follows orchid fanciers to reveal an obsessive subculture few knew existed. Adrian Nicole LeBlanc spends nearly a decade reporting on a family in the South Bronx. And like their muckraking early twentieth-century precursors, they are drawn to the most pressing issues of the day: Alex Kotlowitz on race and class; Ron Rosenbaum on the problem of evil; Michael Lewis on boom and bust economies; Richard Ben Cramer on the nitty-gritty of politics. How do they do it? In these interviews, they reveal the techniques and inspirations behind their acclaimed works, from their felt-tip pens and tape recorders to long car rides and assumed identities to their intimate understanding of the way a truly great story unfolds. Interviews with Gay Talese, Jane Kramer, Calvin Trillin, Richard Ben Cramer, Ted Conover, Alex Kotlowitz, Richard Preston, William Langewiesche, Eric Schlosser, Leon Dash, William Finnegan, Jonathan Harr, Jon Krakauer, Adrian Nicole LeBlanc, Michael Lewis, Susan Orlean, Ron Rosenbaum, Lawrence Weschler, Lawrence Wright.

Hermeneutics, Social Criticism and Everyday Education Practice Wiktor Żłobicki, Monika Humeniuk, Grażyna Lubowicka, Iwona Paszenda, Beata Pietkiewicz-Pareek, 2020-06-03. The individual chapters written by scholars of the Department of General Pedagogy at the University of Wrocław included in the volume offered to the Readers showcase selected variants and problems of the hermeneutical and critical approaches to educational practice and research. The general pedagogy we practice in this way reveals its interdisciplinary character, drawing on the resources and achievements of philosophy, sociology, psychology, cultural anthropology, religious studies, and political sciences. By deliberately adopting such an approach, general pedagogy becomes the basic science of pedagogy; one of its major tasks is the integration and criticism of knowledge about education and the study of education and its broadly understood contexts, a knowledge which is produced not only in numerous disciplines of humanities and social sciences This ambitious task undertaken by many theoreticians and researchers of education all over the world calls for a continuous effort to review the resources of dynamically changing and transforming scientific knowledge and to draw on contemporary and historically significant philosophy Translating these experiences into the resources of general pedagogy requires from us the effort of understanding the languages of contemporary humanities social sciences and multicultural societies as well as the effort of critical thinking which can recognize and take into account the entanglement of scientific knowledge in social ideas and practices its conflicts inequalities and asymmetric discourses Hence the general pedagogy we practice exploring the area of ideology religion and utopias present in everyday educational practice implements the vision of bringing closer these two approaches hermeneutical and critical We believe that such a general pedagogy engaged practiced with passion aware of its present social context and its past and of the urgent needs theoretical and practical difficulties a pedagogy that explores the possible shapes of the future is both necessary and inspiring It addresses new topics and offers novel approaches revises well established and newly proposed findings is aware of opportunities and threats Nevertheless the chapters written by us are integral self contained wholes just as their authors retain their intellectual and research autonomy which can be seen in the issues we choose the mode of their presentation and addressing

The Organization of Cities John R Miron, 2017-01-20 This book focuses on the relationship between the state and economy in the development of cities It reviews and reinterprets fundamental theoretical models that explain how the operation of markets in equilibrium shapes the scale and organization of the commercial city in a mixed market economy within a liberal state These models link markets for the factors of production markets for investment and fixed capital formation markets for transportation and markets for exports in equilibrium both within the urban economy and the rest of the world In each case the model explains the urban economy by revealing how assumptions about causes and structures lead to predictions about scale and organization outcomes By simplifying and contrasting these models this book proposes another interpretation that governance and the urban economy are outcomes negotiated by political actors motivated by competing notions of commonwealth and the individual desire for wealth and power The book grounds its analysis in economic history explaining the rise of commercial cities and the emergence of the urban economy It then turns to factors of production export and factor markets introducing and parsing the Mills model breaking it down into its component parts and creating a series of simpler models that can better explain the significance of each economic assumption Simplified models are also presented for real estate and fixed capital investment markets transportation and land use planning The book concludes with a discussion of linear programming and the Herbert Stevens and the Ripper Varaiya models A fresh presentation of the theories behind urban economics this book emphasizes the links between state and economy and challenges the reader to see its theories in a new light As such this book will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners of economics public policy public administration urban policy and city and urban planning     Alternate Realities Chris Rawlings, 2011-10-28 Have you ever wondered whether or not our destiny is predetermined or how much of a choice do we really have when it comes to free will in shaping our own lives especially while society and government continues to limit our circumstances This book attempts to answer these questions and more In a world set thousands of years and several millennia in the future we might find that many problems and issues we face today will persist unless we change the way we look at our world In the year 3333 A D on Planet Zeon where the sky is no longer the limit a nonconformist philosopher goes up against all odds to revive the importance of artists in a society filled with laser bolts and launch pads where original ideas are becoming a rare commodity in the face of fast paced technological mass production Will commercial materialism dominate ethical values or can people regain their spiritual independence If a picture is worth a thousand words then this book might be worth millions It is a must read for anyone who has ever struggled to be recognized for their artistic integrity in order to survive amidst such a competitive corporate world dominated by greed Its for anyone who has ever worked hard for their dreams to come true
