Rebirth Of Rhetoric Essays In Language And Education:

Rebirth of Rhetoric Richard Andrews, 2012 Rebirth of Rhetoric brings together contributions from several fields to provide a forum in which a unifying theory for language and literature studies can be debated. The book does not aim to resurrect classical Renaissance rhetoric but to remake it within a contemporary context. The context of texts both spoken and written is one of the main emphases of this collection, whether it is the ideology informing the text or the way in which a text is transformed by its audience. The book also aims to present a range of practical approaches to the study of texts of all kinds: literary, televisual, film and photography. It also argues the case for developments in the Arts and Humanities which will bring together people working in Education, Linguistics, Composition, Literature and Cultural Studies. Rebirth of Rhetoric in Language Education Geoff Hall, 2015-07-06 A state of the art critical review of research into literature in language education of interest to teachers of English and modern foreign languages. Includes prompts and principles for those who wish to improve their own practice or to engage in projects or research in this area. Argumentation in Higher Education

Richard Andrews, 2009-09-10 Argumentation in Higher Education offers professors, lecturers and researchers informative guidance for teaching effective argumentation skills to their undergraduate and graduate students. This professional guide aims to make the complex topic of argumentation open and transparent. Grounded in empirical research and theory but with student voices heard strongly throughout, this book fills the gap of argumentation instruction for the undergraduate and graduate level. Written to enlighten even the most experienced professor, this text contributes to a better understanding of the demands of speaking, writing and visual argumentation in higher education and will undoubtedly inform and enhance course design. The book argues for a more explicit treatment of argument, the product and argumentation, the process in higher education so that the ground rules of the academic discipline in question are made clear. Each chapter concludes with practical exercises for staff development use. Topics discussed include: The importance of argument; The current state of argumentation in higher education; Generic skills in argumentation; The balance between generic and discipline specific skills.

Information communication technologies and visual argumentation How can we best teach argumentation so that students feel fully empowered in their academic composition Professors new and experienced lecturers researchers professional developers and writing coaches worldwide grappling with this question will find this accessible text to be an extremely valuable resource Richard Andrews is Professor in English at the Institute of Education University of London

Polyrhythmicity in Language, Music and Society Richard Andrews, 2021-06-14 This book addresses the complex time relations that occur in some types of jazz and classical music as well as in the novel plays and poetry It discusses these multiple levels of rhythm from a social science as well as an arts and humanities perspective Building on his ground breaking work in Re framing Literacy A Prosody of Free Verse and Multimodality Poetry and Poetics the author explores the world of multiple or poly rhythms in music literature and the social sciences He reveals that multi layered rhythms are uncommon and little researched Nevertheless they are important to the experience of art and social situations not least because they link physicality to feeling and to decision making timing as well as to aesthetic experience Whereas most poly rhythmic relations are felt unconsciously this book reveals the complex patterning that underpins the structures of feeling and of experience

Re-framing Literacy Richard Andrews, 2010-09-13 Imaginative and attractive cutting edge in its conception this text explicates a model for the integration of language arts and literacy education based on the notion of framing The act of framing not frames in themselves provides a creative and critical approach to English as a subject Re framing Literacy breaks new ground in the language arts literacy field integrating arts based and sociologically based conceptions of the subject The theory of rhetoric the book describes and which provides its overarching theory is dialogic political and liberating Pedagogically the text works inductively from examples up toward theory starting with visuals and moving back and forth between text and image exploring multimodality and engaging in the transformations of text and image that are at the heart of learning in English and the language arts Structured like a teaching course it is designed to excite and involve readers and lead them toward high level and useful theory in the field Offering an authoritative clear guide to a complex field it is widely appropriate for pre service and in service courses globally in English and language arts education Research on Sociocultural Influences on Motivation and Learning - 1st Volume Dennis M. McInerney, Shawn Van Etten, 2001-03-01 The aim of this book series is to provide a much needed outlet for the wealth of cross cultural research that has not impacted upon mainstream education This particular volume is divided into four parts the motivation context the learning context the family context and the curriculum context Ritual and Religious Experience in Early Christianities David John

McCollough, 2022-09-19 In this volume David John McCollough challenges the common assumptions that Paul thought the Spirit was communicated through water baptism that justification was non experiential and unrelated to ritual that Luke was incoherent or a poor editor and that water baptism was the cardinal initiation rite among early Christianities Developing Writing Teachers Terry Locke, 2014-08-07 The premise of Developing Writing Teachers is this When teachers of writing identify as writers it adds a special dimension to their writing pedagogy Practical and accessible while drawing on a range of relevant research and theory this text is distinguished by its dual focus on teachers as writers and the teaching of writing Part I addresses the question What does it take for a teacher of writing to develop an identity as writer Using case studies and teacher narratives it guides readers to an understanding of the current status of writing as the 21st century unfolds the role of expressive writing in developing a writing identity the relationship of writing to genre and rhetoric writing and professional identity and writing as design Part II focuses on pedagogical practice and helping writer teachers develop a toolkit to take into their classrooms Coverage includes building a community of writing practice the nature of writing as process the place of grammar the role of information communication and representational technologies and how assessment properly used can help develop writing Ideal for for pre service and in service courses on the teaching of writing the Companion Website provides aadditional readings documents PowerPoint presentations assessment resources and lesson and unit plans and planning guides
