Teaching African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2011 Focuses on theoretical and pedagogical approaches to the teaching of African literature on both sides of the Atlantic and beyond The publication of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart in 1958 drew universal attention not only to contemporary African creative imagination but also established the art of the modern African novel In 1986 Wole Soyinka became the first African to win the Nobel Prize for Literature and opened the gate for other African writers By the close of the 20th century African literature had gained world wide acceptance and legitimacy in the academy and featured on the literature curriculum of schools and colleges across the globe This special issue of African Literature Today examines the diverse experiences of teachers of African literature across regional racial cultural and national boundaries It explores such issues as student responses productive pedagogical innovations the impact of modern technology case studies of online teaching teaching criticism of African literature and teaching African literature in an age of multiculturalism It is intended as an invaluable teacher's handbook and essential student companion for the effective study of African literature

Emerging Perspectives on Dambudzo Marechera A. J. Chennells, Flora Veit-Wild, 1999 Regarded by some as mad and by others as a genius Zimbabwean writer Dambudzo Marechera is today ten years after his death considered to be one of the most innovative writers that Africa has produced This new book is a collection of critical essays devoted entirely to Marechera's work and includes contributions from academics in Zimbabwe South Africa Italy Nigeria Germany and the United Kingdom who show the complexity and variety of responses that Marechera's writing evokes Speculative & Science Fiction Ernest N. Emenyonu, Chimalum Nwankwo, Louisa Uchum Egbunike, 2021 Over the past two decades there has been a resurgence in the writing of African and African diaspora speculative and science fiction writing Discussions around the rise of science fiction and fantasy have led to a push back by writers and scholars who have suggested that this is not a new phenomenon in African literature This collection focuses on the need to recalibrate ways of reading and categorising this genre of African writing through critical examinations both of classics such as Kojo Laing's Woman of the Aeroplanes 1988 and Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o's oeuvre as well as more recent fiction from writers including Nnedi Okorafor Namwali Serpell and Masande Ntshanga Back cover War in African Literature Today Ernest Emenyonu, 2008 This issue of African Literature Today is devoted to studies of how African writers as historical witnesses have handled the recreation of war as a cataclysmic phenomenon in various locations on the continent The theoretical question is whether the fictionalized representation demonstrated equitable balance between socio political messages lessons of war and the sanctity of art aesthetics Contributors have explored the subject from a variety of perspectives panoramic regional national and through comparative studies War has enriched contemporary African literature but at what price to human lives peace and the environment Publisher's description The Palgrave Handbook of Cold War Literature Andrew Hammond, 2020-09-04 This book offers a comprehensive guide to global literary engagement with the Cold War Eschewing the common focus on national cultures the collection defines Cold War literature as an international current focused on the military and ideological conflicts of the age and characterised by styles and approaches that transcended national borders Drawing on specialists from across the world the volume analyses the period's fiction poetry drama and autobiographical writings in three sections dominant concerns socialism decolonisation nuclearism propaganda censorship espionage common genres postmodernism socialism realism dystopianism migrant poetry science fiction testimonial writing and regional cultures Asia Africa Oceania Europe and the Americas In doing so the volume forms a landmark contribution to Cold War literary studies which will appeal to all those working on literature of the 1945-1989 period including specialists in comparative literature postcolonial literature contemporary literature and regional literature New Directions in African Literature Ernest Emenyonu, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, F. D. Imbuga, 2006 Contributors to this volume ask what are the new directions of African literature What should be the major concerns of writers critics and teachers in the twenty first century What are the accomplishments and legacies What gaps remain to be filled and what challenges are there to be addressed by publishers and the book industry What are the implications for pedagogy in the new technological era ERNEST EMENYONU is Professor of the Department of Africana Studies University of Michigan Flint North America Africa World Press Nigeria

HEBN Legacies of Departed African Women Writers Helen O. Chukwuma, Chioma Carol Opara, 2022-08-29 Legacies of Departed African Women Writers Matrix of Creativity and Power proffers varied perspectives of the invaluable contributions of ten deceased African writers from all across Africa who have cleared the path to a vibrant African feminist arena The dynamics of change gleaned from both their textual and contextual concerns unarguably set the pace for contemporary African women writers who have striven to follow in the footsteps of their literary mothers as well as their oral foremothers This book edited by Helen Chukwuma and Chioma Carol Opara shows the collective testament of ample creativity and power generated by these departed heroes Flora Nwapa Mariama Ba Grace Ogot Zulu Sofola Bessie Head Buchi Emecheta Nawal El Saadawi Assia Djebar Yvonne Vera and Nadine Gordimer These chapters revolve around the positive impact of the celebrated writers on creative writing theoretical formulations and socio cultural change The contributors argue that these corpuses of works have illuminated creativity rooted in power vision and freedom ALA Bulletin African Literature Association, 1984 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 Fiction of Imperialism Philip Darby, 1998-05-01 The Fiction of Imperialism attempts to promote dialogue between international relations and postcolonialism It addresses the value of fiction to an understanding of the imperial relationship between the West and Asia and Africa A wide range of fiction and criticism is examined as it pertains to colonialism the North South engagement and contemporary Third World politics The book begins by contrasting the treatment of cross cultural relations in political studies and literary texts It then examines the personal as a metaphor for the political in fiction depicting the imperial connection between Britain and India This is paired with an analysis of African literary texts which takes as its theme the relationship between culture and politics The concluding chapters approach literature from the outside considering its apparent silence on economics and realpolitik and assessing the utility of postcolonial reconceptualisations The Journal of Commonwealth Literature ,1985 African Theatre Martin Banham, James Morel Gibbs, James Gibbs, Femi Osofisan, 2002 The contributions to this volume in the African Theatre series make clear that the role of women in the theatre across the continent has changed as control is mainly held by literate elites and women s traditional standing has been lost to men Africana Journal ,1990 Children's Literature & Story-telling Ernest Emenyonu, Patricia Thornton Emenyonu, Jane Bryce, Maureen N. Eke, Stephanie Newell, Charles E. Nnolim, Alphonse Kwawisi Tekpetey, Iniobong I. Uko, Obi Nwakanma, Chimalum Moses Nwankwo, 2015 Contributors analyse the theories behind children s literature its functions and cultural significance and suggest the new directions this literature is taking in terms of its craft themes and intentions Africa s encounter with the West and its implications and consequences remain far reaching and enduring in the craft and thrust of its creative writers The contributors to ALT 33 analyse the connections between traditional stories and myths that have been told to children as well as the work of contemporary creative writers who are writing for children in order that they understand this complex history Some of these writers are developing traditional myths folk tales and legends and are writing them in new forms while others focus on the encounter with the West that has dominated much modern African literature for adults The previous neglect of the cultural significance study criticism and teaching of children s literature is addressed in this volume How can the successes and or failures of stories and story telling for children in Africa be measured Are there models to be followed and what makes them models What is the relationship between the text and the illustration of children s books What should guide the reader or critic of children s literature coming out of Africa globalism transculturality or internal regionalism What problems confront teachers students publishers and promoters of children s books in Africa Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Reviews Editor Obi Nwakanma HEBN Nigeria

Writers and Social Thought in Africa Wale Adebani, 2017-10-02 Social theory and social theorizing about Africa has largely ignored African literature However because writers are some of the continent s finest social thinkers they have produced and continue to produce works which constitute potential sources for the analysis of social thought and for constructing social theory in and beyond the continent This comprehensive collection examines the relationship between African literature and African social thought It explores the evolution and aesthetics of social thought in African fiction and African writers conceptions of power and authority legitimacy history and modernity gender and sexuality culture epistemology globalization and change and continuity in Africa This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies

Writing Africa in the Short Story Ernest Emenyonu, 2013 The success of the Caine Prize for African Writing and the growth of online publishing have played key roles in putting the short story in its rightful place within the study and criticism of African literature African writers have much more than the critics recognized the beauty and potency of the short story Always the least studied in African literature classrooms and the most critically overlooked genre in African literature today the African short story is now given the attention it deserves Contributors here take a close look at the African short story to re define its own peculiar pedigree chart its trajectory critique its present state and examine its creative possibilities They examine how the short story and the novel complement each other or exist in contradistinction within the context of culture and politics history and public memory legends myths and folklore Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Nigeria HEBN
