Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae, 2020-10-15 A poet walks into a bar In Lyric as Comedy Calista McRae explores the unexpected comic opportunities within recent American poems about deeply personal often embarrassing experiences Lyric poems she finds can be surprising sites of a shifting unruly comedy as seen in the work of John Berryman Robert Lowell A R Ammons Terrance Hayes Morgan Parker Natalie Shapero and Monica Youn Lyric as Comedy draws out the ways in which key American poets have struggled with persistent expectations about what expressive poetry can and should do McRae reveals how the modern lyric rather than bestowing order on the poet's thoughts and emotions can center on impropriety and confusion formal breakage and linguistic unruliness and self observation and self staging The close readings in Lyric as Comedy also provide new insight into the theory and aesthetics of comedy taking in the indirect glancing comic affordances of poetry In doing so McRae captures varieties of humor that do not align with traditional terms centering abjection and pleasure as facets of contemporary lyric practice

Ecological Poetics; or, Wallace Stevens's Birds Cary Wolfe, 2020-04-17 The poems of Wallace Stevens teem with birds grackles warblers doves swans nightingales owls peacocks and one famous blackbird who summons thirteen ways of looking What do Stevens's evocations of birds and his poems more generally tell us about the relationship between human and nonhuman In this book the noted theorist of posthumanism Cary Wolfe argues for a philosophical and theoretical reinvention of ecological poetics using Stevens as a test case Stevens Wolfe argues is an ecological poet in the sense that his places worlds and environments are co created by the life forms that inhabit them Wolfe argues for a nonrepresentational conception of ecopoetics showing how Stevens's poems reward study alongside theories of system environment and observation derived from a multitude of sources from Ralph Waldo Emerson and Niklas Luhmann to Jacques Derrida and Stuart Kauffman Ecological Poetics is an ambitious interdisciplinary undertaking involving literary criticism contemporary philosophy and theoretical biology

Unnatural Ecopoetics Sarah Nolan,2017-04-28 What constitutes an environment in American literature is an issue that has undergone much debate across environmental humanities in the last decade In the field some have argued that environments are markedly natural or wild sites while others contend literary spaces can be both wild and urban or even cultural Yet few of the works produced to date have addressed the pronounced influence the author of a text has on a literary environment Despite exciting work on materiality and culture in conceptions of environments critics have not yet fully examined the contributions of poetry s language form and self awareness in rethinking what constitutes an environment By approaching environments in a new way Nolan closes this gap and recognizes how contemporary poets employ self reflexive commentary and formal experimentation in order to create new natural cultural environments on the page She proposes a radical new direction for ecopoetics and deploys it in relation to four major American poets Working from literal to textual spaces through the contemporary poetry of A R Ammons s Garbage Lyn Hejinian s My Life Susan Howe s The Midnight and Kenneth Goldsmith s Seven American Deaths and Disasters the book presents applications of unnatural ecopoetics in poetic environments ones that do not engage with traditional ideas of nature and would otherwise remain outside the scope of ecocritical and ecopoetic studies Nolan proposes a new practical approach for reading poetic language Ecocriticism is a very fluid and evolving discipline and Nolan's pioneering new book pushes the boundaries of second wave ecopoetics the fundamental issue being what is nature natural and how does poetic language particularly self-conscious contemporary poetic agency contribute to and complicate that question

The Lyric in the Age of the Brain Nikki Skillman, 2016-06-06 Science has transformed understandings of the mind supplying physiological explanations for what once seemed transcendental Nikki Skillman shows how lyric poets caught between a reductive scientific view and naive literary metaphors struggled to articulate a vision of consciousness that was both scientifically informed and poetically truthful

Wordsworth's Fun Matthew Bevis, 2019-08-20 The next day Wordsworth arrived from Bristol at Coleridge's cottage William Hazlitt recalled He answered in some degree to his friend's description of him but was more quaint and Don Quixote like there was a convulsive inclination to laughter about the mouth Hazlitt presents a Wordsworth who differs from the one we know and as Matthew Bevis argues in his radical new reading of the poet this Wordsworth owed his quixotic creativity to a profound feeling for comedy Wordsworth's Fun explores the writer's debts to the ludic and the ludicrous in classical tradition his reworkings of Ariosto Erasmus and Cervantes his engagement with forms of English poetic humor and his love of comic prose Combining close reading with cultural analysis Bevis travels many untrodden ways studying Wordsworth's interest in laughing gas pantomime the figure of the fool and the value of play Intrepid immersive and entertaining Wordsworth's Fun sheds fresh light on how one poet's strange humor helped to shape modern literary experiment

Attention Equals Life Andrew Epstein, 2016 Poetry has long been thought of as a genre devoted to grand subjects timeless themes and sublime beauty Why then have contemporary poets turned with such intensity to documenting and capturing the everyday and mundane Drawing on insights about the nature of everyday life from philosophy history and critical theory Andrew Epstein traces the modern history of this preoccupation and considers why it is so much with us today Attention Equals Life argues that a potent hunger for everyday life explodes in the post 1945 period as a reaction to the rapid unsettling transformations of this epoch which have resulted in a culture of perilous distraction Epstein demonstrates that poetry is an important and perhaps unlikely cultural form that has mounted a response and even a mode of resistance to a culture suffering from an acute crisis of attention In this timely and engaging study Epstein examines why a compulsion to represent the everyday becomes predominant in the decades after modernism and why it has so often sparked genre bending formal experimentation With chapters devoted to illuminating readings of a diverse group of writers including poets associated with influential movements like the New York School language poetry and conceptual writing the book considers the variety of forms contemporary poetry of everyday life has taken and analyzes how gender race and political forces all profoundly inflect the experience and the representation of the quotidian By exploring the rise of experimental realism as a poetic mode and the turn to rule governed everyday life projects Attention Equals Life offers a new way of understanding a vital strain at the heart of twentieth and twenty first century literature It not only charts the evolution of a significant concept in cultural theory and poetry but also reminds readers that the quest to pay attention to the everyday within today's frenetic world of and social media is an urgent and unending task

Time and the Warm Body David L. Burrows, 2007 This study deals with time and with music and the link between the two is the suggestion that music is a modeling of the way we construct time Time the now duration succession and order of succession the past the future is seen as a resource for managing systemic disequilibrium and as the evolutionary elaboration of the now As organic dynamical systems humans maintain themselves by means of self regulatory actions nows and these nows are proposed as feeding off a pre temporal interindividually accessed energy in nature an ongoing cosmic proto present Speech is a way out of sensory immediacy and a way into a complex shared world where coordination and planning take place away from the distractions of the present as given by the senses Music is presented as one of a group of behaviors comprising the arts and games that evolved in parallel with language to compensate for its abstractness Language tends to the complexly abstract and music favors the complex sensorially concrete like speech music operates on a synthetic plane but provides synthetic occasions for sensory immediacy at a level of complexity to match that of language
