Sevastopol On Photographs Of War:

Sevastopol William Allen, 1997 Sevastopol's Wars Mungo Melvin CB OBE, 2017-05-18 Sevastopol's Wars is the first book in any language to cover the full history of Russia's historic Crimean naval citadel from its founding through to the current tensions that threaten the region Founded by Catherine the Great the maritime city of Sevastopol has been fought over for centuries Crucial battles of the Crimean War were fought on the hills surrounding the city and the memory of this stalwart defence inspired those who fruitlessly battled the Germans during World War II Twice the city has faced complete obliteration yet twice it has risen phoenix like from the ashes In this groundbreaking volume award winning author Mungo Melvin explores how Sevastopol became the crucible of conflict over three major engagements the Crimean War the Russian Civil War and World War II witnessing the death and destruction of countless armies yet creating the indomitable spirit of Sevastopol By weaving together first hand interviews detailed operational reports and battle analysis Melvin creates a rich tapestry of history A Photographic History of Airborne Warfare, 1939-1945 Simon Forty, Jonathan Forty, 2022-01-12 On 10 May 1940 German Fallschirmjäger stormed the Dutch fort of Eben Emael south of Maastricht The brilliantly executed operation was the first signal success by airborne troops in the Second World War and it made the military world sit up and take notice Improved parachutes and the creation of gliders that could carry troops meant that assault forces could be dropped or landed behind enemy lines This was a significant new tactic which had a dramatic impact on several of the key campaigns and it is the subject of Simon and Jonathan Forty's in depth highly illustrated history They tell the story of the development of airborne forces how they were trained and equipped and how they were landed and put into action in every theatre of the global conflict The results were mixed German airborne forces were victorious on Crete but the cost was so great that Hitler vowed never to use them in the same way again The Allies saw things differently After Crete they built up elite units who would play important roles in later battles in Normandy for example where the British 6th Airborne Division took vital bridges prior to the D Day landings These are just two examples of the many similar operations on the Western and Eastern Fronts and in the Pacific which are covered in this wide ranging book It offers the reader a fascinating insight into airborne warfare over seventy years ago Blackwood's Magazine ,1909 Photographic Literacy Katherine M. H. Reischl, 2018-12-15 Photography introduced to Russia in 1839 was nothing short of a sensation Its rapid proliferation challenged the other arts including painting and literature as well as the very integrity of the self If Leo Tolstoy and Fyodor Dostoevsky greeted the camera with skepticism in the nineteenth century numerous twentieth century authors welcomed it with a warm embrace As Katherine M H Reischl shows in Photographic Literacy authors as varied as Leonid Andreev Ilya Ehrenburg and Alexander Solzhenitsyn picked up the camera and reshaped not only their writing practices but also the sphere of literacy itself For these authors a single photograph or a photograph as illustration is never an endpoint their authorial practices continually transform and animate the frozen moment But just as authors used images to shape the reception of their work and selves Russian photographers including Sergei Prokudin Gorsky and Alexander Rodchenko used text to shape the reception of their visual work From the diary to print the literary word imbues that photographic moment with a personal life story and frames and reframes it in the writing of history In this primer on photographic literacy Reischl argues for the central place that photography has played in the formation of the Russian literary imagination over the course of roughly seventy years From image to text and back again she traces the visual consciousness of modern Russian literature as captured through the lens of the Russian author photographer Archives in Russia: A Directory and Bibliographic Guide to Holdings in Moscow and St.Petersburg Patricia Kennedy Grimsted,Patricia Kennedy Grimstead,2016-04-01 This is a comprehensive directory and bibliographic guide to Russian archives and manuscript repositories in the capital cities of Moscow and St Petersburg It is an essential resource for any researcher interested in Russian sources for topics in diplomatic military and church history art dance film literature science ethnography and geography The first part lists general bibliographies of relevant reference literature directories bibliographic works and specialized subject related sources In the following sections of the directory archival listings are grouped in institutional categories Coverage includes federal ministerial agency presidential local university Academy of Sciences organizational library and museum holdings Individual entries include the name of the repository in Russian and English basic information on location staffing institutional history holdings access and finding aids More comprehensive and up to date than the 1997 Russian Version this edition includes Web site information dozens of additional repositories several hundred more bibliographical entries coverage of reorganization issues four indexes and a glossary The First Age of Industrial Globalization Maartje Abbenhuis,Gordon Morrell,2019-10-17 This book offers an accessible and lively survey of the global history of the age of industrialization and globalization that arose in the wake of the Napoleonic Wars and collapsed in the maelstrom of the First World War Through a combination of industrialization technological innovation and imperial expansion the industrializing powers of the world helped to create inter connected global space that left few regions untouched In ten concise chapters this book relays the major shifts in global power economics and society outlining the interconnections of global industrial imperial and economic change for local and regional experiences identities and politics It finishes with an expos on the catastrophic impact of the First World War on this global system The First Age of Industrial Globalization weaves together the histories of industrialization world economy imperialism international law diplomacy and war which historians usually treat as separate developments and integrates them to offer a new analysis of an era of fundamental historical change It shows that the revolutionary changes in politics society and international affairs experienced in the 19th century were inter connected developments It is essential reading for any student of modern global history A Photographic History of Amphibious Warfare 1939-1945 Simon Forty,Jonathan Forty,2023-04-06 contains a plethora of after action reports diagrams and text which makes the work a thorough and engaging study of amphibious landings during the war WWII History

Magazine Amphibious operations have always been an important element of warfare but they reached their climax during the Second World War when they were carried out on a large scale in every theater of the conflict That is why this wide ranging highly illustrated history of amphibious warfare 1939 1945 by Simon and Jonathan Forty is of such value Their book gives graphic accounts of the main amphibious assaults launched by the major combatants in particular the British American German and Japanese not just large scale landings like those in North Africa Normandy the Philippines and Okinawa but also raids such as Dieppe and St Nazaire and evacuations like Dunkirk and Kerch The rapid development of amphibious tactics and equipment is an essential element of the story as are the vital roles played by the navies air forces armies and special forces in each complex combined operation There is also a section on amphibious operations that were planned but didn't happen such as the German invasion of Britain and the Italian and German operation against Malta

Tony Harrison Edith Hall, 2021-01-14 This is the first book length study of the classicism of Tony Harrison one of the most important contemporary poets in England and the world It argues that his unique and politically radical classicism is inextricable from his core notion that poetry should be a public property in which communal problems are shared and crystallised and that the poet has a responsibility to speak in a public voice about collective and political concerns Enriched by Edith Hall's longstanding friendship with Harrison and involvement with his most recent drama inspired by Euripides Iphigenia in Tauris it also asserts that his greatest innovations in both form and style have been direct results of his intense engagements with individual works of ancient literature and his belief that the ancient Greek poetic imagination was inherently radical Tony Harrison's large body of work for which he has won several major and international prizes and which features on the UK National Curriculum ranges widely across long and short poems plays translations and film poems Having studied Classics at Grammar School and University and having translated ancient poets from Aeschylus to Martial and Pallasdas Harrison has been immersed in the myths history literary forms and authorial voices of Mediterranean antiquity for his entire working life and his classical interests are reflected in every poetic genre he has essayed from epigrams and sonnets to original stage plays translations of Greek drama and Racine to his experimental and harrowing film poems where he has pioneered the welding of tightly cut video materials to tightly phrased verse forms This volume explores the full breadth of his oeuvre offering an insightful new perspective on a writer who has played an important part in shaping our contemporary literary landscape

The Black Sea Encyclopedia Sergei R. Grinevetsky, Igor S. Zonn, Sergei S. Zhiltsov, Aleksey N. Kosarev, Andrey G. Kostianoy, 2014-09-30 This publication is devoted to the natural feature the Black Sea and its littoral states At the same time the Azov Sea is also considered here This region is the focus of many geopolitical economic social and environmental issues that involve not only the countries coming out to the Black and Azov Seas but other world countries too This publication contains over 1500 articles and terms providing descriptions of geographical and oceanographic features cities ports transport routes marine biological resources international treaties national and international programs research institutions historical and archaeological monuments activities of prominent scientists researchers travelers military commanders etc who had relation to the Black Sea It includes a multi century chronology of the events that became the outstanding milestones in the history of development of the Black Sea Azov Sea region The Amateur Photographer ,1914 The popular illustrated journal for all photographers devoted to the interests of photography and kindred arts and sciences The Amateur Photographer and Photographic News ,1914 Tolstoy George Rapall Noyes,1918 Leo Tolstoy Liza Knapp,2019-05-24 War and Peace and Anna Karenina are widely recognised as two of the greatest novels ever written Their author Leo Tolstoy has been honoured as the father of the modern war story as an innovator in psychological prose and forerunner of stream of consciousness and as a genius at using fiction to reveal the mysteries of love and death At the time of his death in 1910 Tolstoy was known the world over as both a great writer and as a merciless critic of institutions that perpetrated bred or tolerated injustice and violence in any form Yet among literary critics and rival writers it has become a commonplace to disparage Tolstoy s thought while praising his art In this Very Short Introduction Liza Knapp explores the heart of Tolstoy s work Focussing on his masterpieces of fiction which have stood the test of time she analyses his works of non fiction alongside them and sketches out the core themes in Tolstoy s art and thought and the interplay between them Tracing the continuing influence of Tolstoy s work on modern literature Knapp highlights those aspects of his writings that remain relevant today ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable Putin Takes Crimea 2014 Mark Galeotti,2023-09-28 An authoritative analysis of how Putin s Russia conquered the Crimea in 2014 using grey zone warfare techniques blending operations by anonymous special forces with cyber sabotage and propaganda Russia s annexation of Crimea in 2014 was almost bloodless fought as much through propaganda cyberattacks and subversion as by force of arms but it is crucial for our understanding of both modern warfare and recent Russian history Ironically this slick triumph eventually led to the full scale invasion of Ukraine the largest and costliest conventional war in Europe since 1945 This is a fascinating account of the Crimea conquest from a supremely qualified expert on modern Russian forces Illustrated throughout it explores how Russia developed its new model of hybrid or grey zone warfare and planned and deployed it against Crimea from the choreographed appearance of spontaneous protesters through to the deployment of unbadged Russian elite forces In this book Mark Galeotti explores the lessons that Russia Ukraine and the West took from it correctly and mistakenly and how this apparently textbook operation sowed the seeds that would erupt so catastrophically in 2022 Memory, Conflict and New Media Ellen Rutten,Julie Fedor,Vera Zvereva,2013-04-12 This book examines the online memory wars in post Soviet states where political conflicts take the shape of heated debates about the recent past and especially World War II and Soviet socialism To this day former socialist states face the challenge of constructing national identities producing national memories and relating to the Soviet legacy Their pasts are principally intertwined changing readings of history in one country generate fierce reactions in others In this transnational memory war digital media form a pivotal discursive space one that provides speakers with radically new commemorative tools Uniting contributions by leading scholars in the field Memory Conflict and New Media is the first book length publication to analyse how new media serve as a site of political and national identity building in post socialist states The book also examines how the construction of online identity is irreversibly affected by thinking about the past in this geopolitical domain By highlighting post socialist memory s digital mediations and digital memory s transcultural scope the volume succeeds in a twofold aim to deepen and refine both post socialist memory theory and digital memory studies This book will be of much interest to students of media studies post Soviet studies Eastern European Politics memory studies and International Relations in general

The violence of colonial photography Daniel Foliard,2022-11-15 The late nineteenth century saw a rapid increase in colonial conflicts throughout the French and British empires It was also the period in which the camera began to be widely available Colonial authorities were quick to recognise the power of this new technology which they used to humiliate defeated opponents and to project an image of supremacy across the world Drawing on a wealth of visual materials from soldiers personal albums to the collections of press agencies and government archives this book offers a new account of how conflict photography developed in the decades leading up to the First World War It explores the various ways in which the camera was used to impose order on subject populations in Africa and Asia and to generate propaganda for the public in Europe where a visual economy of violence was rapidly taking shape At the same time it reveals how photographs could escape the intentions of their creators offering a means for colonial subjects to push back against oppression

Picturing War in France, 1792-1856 Katie Hornstein,2018-02-06 From the walls of the Salon to the pages of weekly newspapers war imagery was immensely popular in postrevolutionary France This fascinating book studies representations of contemporary conflict in the first half of the 19th century and explores how these pictures provided citizens with an imaginative stake in wars being waged in their name As she traces the evolution of images of war from a visual form that had previously been intended for mostly elite audiences to one that was enjoyed by a much broader public over the course of the 19th century Katie Hornstein carefully considers the influence of emergent technologies and popular media such as lithography photography and panoramas on both artistic style and public taste With close readings and handsome reproductions in various media from monumental battle paintings to popular prints Picturing War in France 1792 1856 draws on contemporary art criticism war reporting and the burgeoning illustrated press to reveal the crucial role such images played in shaping modern understandings of conflict

The People's Wars Mark Hewitson,2017 The second of three volumes from Mark Hewitson which explore the experiences of conflict in modern Germany and the resounding impact of these across Europe and the world The People s War takes a new look at the wars of unification and charts the rise of nationalism and the breakdown of the existing state system in the 1850s and 1860s The Royal Engineers Journal ,1911
