LeAnne Howe at the Intersections of Southern and Native American Literature Kirstin L. Squint, 2018-05-18 With the publication of her first novel Shell Shaker 2001 Choctaw writer LeAnne Howe quickly emerged as a crucial voice in twenty first century American literature Her innovative award winning works of fiction poetry drama and criticism capture the complexities of Native American life and interrogate histories of both cultural and linguistic oppression throughout the United States In the first monograph to consider Howe's entire body of work LeAnne Howe at the Intersections of Southern and Native American Literature Kirstin L. Squint expands contemporary scholarship on Howe by examining her nuanced portrayal of Choctaw history and culture as modes of expression Squint shows that Howe's writings engage with Native southern and global networks by probing regional identity gender power authenticity and performance from a distinctly Choctaw perspective a method of discourse which Howe terms Choctalking Drawing on interdisciplinary methodologies and theories Squint complicates prevailing models of the Native South by proposing the concept of the Interstate South a space in which Native Americans travel physically and metaphorically between tribal national and U S boundaries Squint considers Howe's engagement with these interconnected spaces and cultures as well as how indigeneity can circulate throughout them This important critical work which includes an appendix with a previously unpublished interview with Howe contributes to ongoing conversations about the Native South positioning Howe as a pivotal creative force operating at under examined points of contact between Native American and southern literature
