Making Faith Sense:

Making Faith-sense Robert L. Kinast, 1999 Making faith sense is a new term for an ancient practice. It is what the early Christians called mystical or wisdom theology: understanding life in the light of God's participation recorded in the Gospels, recognizing the signs of God's presence in everyday events and shaping one's life accordingly. In Making Faith Sense, Robert Kinast shows all who seek to unify their life experience around their belief in God how to follow that ancient practice. Drawing upon the award-winning process he has used with students for the ministry, Father Kinast explains how to make sense of family work and cultural experience from the perspective of Christian faith. Each chapter contains numerous real-life examples and practical guidelines that can be used privately or with a group. Making Faith Sense begins with a discussion of wisdom theology and its revival in modern times, highlighting the turn to experience that characterizes feminist liberation and inculturated theologies. The methods for making faith sense embrace three main components: experience, reflection, and action. The first section describes what is meant by experience, the value of narrating it, how to analyze it, and what to pay attention to so that experience will reveal its theological meaning. The second section explains the role of reflection, its similarity to prayer techniques for connecting experience to theological tradition, and the most useful theological resources for making faith sense. The third section affirms the importance of putting reflection into practice, ensuring that action flows from reflection, planning and evaluating the effect of one's practice, and of using practice as the starting point for continuing the process of making faith sense. Examples from work, family, and cultural life are used throughout to provide illustrations of these general points. A concluding chapter summarizes the reemergence of practical theology since the 1980s as an effort of church communities to make faith sense of their collective lives. Chapters are: What Is Faith Sense? How to Make Faith Sense: Getting Started, How to Make Faith Sense: The Heart of the Matter, and Enacting Faith Sense: The Culmination of the Process. Robert L. Kinast, PhD, is a pastoral theologian specializing in the field of theological reflection. Through the publications and services of the Center for Theological Reflection, Indian Rocks Beach, Florida, he contributes to the ministry training programs of many denominations in the United States and Canada. Father Kinast is the author of the Vatican II Act II series and Let Ministry Teach, published by Liturgical Press. The Reflective Disciple Roger Walton, 2014-07-24 Helps readers to explore the concept of discipleship beginning with the New Testament and through examining snapshots of various patterns of discipleship as well as reflecting on discipleship in our contemporary context and setting. Making Faith Magnetic Daniel Strange, 2021-10-01 How to talk about Jesus in a way that connects with modern culture. As followers of Jesus, we know that the good news is deeply attractive. But we often fear that to those on the outside it comes across as irrelevant or even repellent. Sometimes the Christian worldview feels so out of step with everything else going on that we don't know how to share our faith. However, author Daniel Strange wants to show you that the connections are there in fact; the longings that our culture cannot help but express are the very ones that Jesus fulfills. Building on the work of theologian J H Bavinck Dan reveals five recurring themes that our culture can't stop talking about or as he puts it the five permanent itches that in our work rest and play we have to vigorously scratch From TV to books to social media these are the questions we can't stop asking and the tensions we can't stop wrestling with and Jesus speaks powerfully into each one This book will help you to spot these connections in our culture excite you about how Jesus makes sense of humankind's deepest questions and longings apply them to your own life first and then equip you to speak of him to others in a way that is truly magnetic Dan Strange has written another terrific down to earth book to help believers engage in fruitful conversations with friends about faith Dr Timothy Keller who has also written the foreword to this book Virtual Theology, Faith and Adult Education Ros Stuart-Buttle, 2013-07-29 Online learning is a key feature of the contemporary educational landscape and has entered mainstream policy provision and practice But if online education is to reach mature development and evaluation it must be open to critical appraisal This book considers the implementation of online learning within adult theological education This can be an area of challenge or contention especially when established academic practices and cherished values are seen as threatened when handed over to online delivery This opens questions about theology pedagogy and online education Does online teaching and learning bring or demand a new or transformed disruptive pedagogy or does it result in maintenance or replication sustaining of traditional values and existing practices What might the opportunities and benefits be Who stands to gain Who stands to lose And what evidence is there to evaluate the quality of doing theology online This book examines a long standing programme of continuing professional development delivered fully online to adult practitioners working across Christian education and ministry settings It builds upon the author's international experience as an online educator for over a decade Key themes relate adult learning to theological pedagogy authority and online community The concept of interruptive pedagogy is presented as an interpretative model to critically appraise an approach to online education that draws on the best theological tradition yet also looks to the future Faith Generation Nick Shepherd, 2016-08-18 The recent Church Growth Research see www.churchgrowthresearch.org.uk identifies that the successful transmission of faith to children and young people is a key factor in stemming decline and promoting growth This book explores the cultural and theological reasons as to why this is the case and makes research based recommendations for the faith formation of children and young people The central argument is that church communities need to engage in deliberate strategies that help foster intentional Christian Communities within which children and young people can form and sustain Christian identity Faith Your Seventh-Sense HUMPHREY O. Making Money Moves Bishop Kevin Foreman, Faith Can Move Mountains Tina Pitamber, 2025-08-31 Faith It s a word we hear in conversations read about in books and sing about in songs But what does faith really mean and can it change the trajectory of your life Everybody has faith Some people have a little faith and others have great faith But the question is Who or what is your faith in This book will challenge you to place your faith in God and when you do watch and see the amazing things He will do in your life Drawing on Bible stories and personal experience Tina Pitamber presents a refreshing and exciting view of faith From financial provision to physical healing to supernatural peace when the answers to prayer don t seem to be coming fast enough she describes the practice of faith and the ultimate rewards of trusting in our great God Come and exercise your faith in God and get ready to see big changes and blessings in your life

The Sexual Person Todd A. Salzman, Michael G. Lawler, 2008-05-21 Two principles capture the essence of the official Catholic position on the morality of sexuality first that any human genital act must occur within the framework of heterosexual marriage second each and every marriage act must remain open to the transmission of life In this comprehensive overview of Catholicism and sexuality theologians Todd A Salzman and Michael G Lawler examine and challenge these principles Remaining firmly within the Catholic tradition they contend that the church is being inconsistent in its teaching by adopting a dynamic historically conscious anthropology and worldview on social ethics and the interpretation of scripture while adopting a static classicist anthropology and worldview on sexual ethics While some documents from Vatican II like Gaudium et spes the marital act promotes self giving by which spouses enrich each other gave hope for a renewed understanding of sexuality the church has not carried out the full implications of this approach In short say Salzman and Lawler emphasize relationships not acts and recognize Christianity s historically and culturally conditioned understanding of human sexuality The Sexual Person draws historically methodologically and anthropologically from the best of Catholic tradition and provides a context for current theological debates between traditionalists and revisionists regarding marriage cohabitation homosexuality reproductive technologies and what it means to be human This daring and potentially revolutionary book will be sure to provoke constructive dialogue among theologians and between theologians and the Magisterium How to Make Your Faith Work! Chris Oyakhilome,2007
