Making Human Beings Human:

Making Human Beings Human Urie Bronfenbrenner, 2005 Making Human Beings Human Bioecological Perspectives on Human Development is a landmark collection that traces and summarizes Urie Bronfenbrenner's thoughts on the bioecological theory of human development and recommends avenues for future research. The majority of the twenty-three retrospective articles were written by Bronfenbrenner while some were written with colleagues in his own or related fields over the course of six decades. The book's articles document the domain of inquiry that has emerged gradually over many years and has now acquired a title of its own: the bioecological theory of human development. Making Human Beings Human is a culminating work by a prominent figure in the field of human development and will help to shape the future of the field.

Comprehensive Handbook of Personality and Psychopathology, Personality and Everyday Functioning Jay C. Thomas, Daniel L. Segal, 2006-01-03 Personality and Everyday Functioning covers the foundations of personality theory and the impact of personality on normal functioning. Leading personality researchers present chapters on major theories of personality such as psychoanalytic, developmental, behavioral, and constructivist to name a few. Introducing Bronfenbrenner Nóirín Hayes, Leah O'Toole, Ann Marie Halpenny, 2017-03-16 Children learn in contexts and the spaces, places, and people they come into contact with have a deep influence on their development. Urie Bronfenbrenner's bioecological model of development places the child at the centre of this complex network and his influence has been extensive in early childhood education. This book presents an introduction to Bronfenbrenner's model of development drawing on practice-based research to identify and animate key elements of his model's impact. It illustrates how his model can help bring quality to early learning environments and incorporate it into daily work with young children. As well as providing a glossary of key terms, Introducing Bronfenbrenner covers areas such as a bioecological perspective on educational transition, early education as a dynamic process nurturing children's learning and development reflecting the bioecological in early years practice. Using a variety of vignettes, practical examples of good practice, and case studies, Introducing Bronfenbrenner is an essential guide to his work. It will be of interest to professionals working with children in early childhood settings and to undergraduate students training to become early childhood professionals. Making Human Matthew S. Weinert, 2015-02-20 An International Relations scholar examines the processes by which formerly denigrated peoples become recognized as human beings worthy of rights and dignity. Rethinking Play as Pedagogy Sophie Alcock, Nicola Stobbs, 2019-03-06 The conceptualisation and practice of play is considered core to early childhood pedagogy. In this essential text, contributors from a range of countries and cultures explore how play might be defined, encouraged, and interpreted in early childhood settings and practice. Rethinking Play as Pedagogy provides a fresh perspective of play as a purposeful pedagogy offering multi-layered opportunities for learning and development. Written to provoke group discussion and extend thinking opportunities for international comparison, points for reflection, and editorial provocations, this volume will help students engage critically.

with a variety of understandings of play and diverse approaches to harnessing children's natural propensity to play. Considering the role of the learning environment, the practitioner, the wider community and policy, chapters are divided into four key sections which reflect major influences on practice and pedagogy: Being alongside children, Those who educate, Embedding families and communities, Working with systems. Offering in-depth discussion of diverse perceptions, potentials and practicalities of early childhood play, this text will enhance understanding, support self-directed learning and provoke and transform thinking at both graduate and postgraduate levels, particularly in the field of early childhood education and care for students, educators, integrated service providers and policy makers.

Integral Ecology Gerard Magill, Jordan Potter, 2018-06-11

This edited book is a collection of essays presented at the 2nd annual Integrity of Creation Conference at Duquesne University, USA, and thus represents the 2nd Conference Proceedings of an annual endowed series. The title of this conference was 'Protecting Our Common Home', adopted in the title of this volume. The concept of Integral Ecology conveys the indispensable interrelation of topics, expertise and specialties in the quest to protect the planet whose environment may face catastrophic threat. A leitmotif throughout the book is the ecological encyclical of Pope Francis called Laudato Si' 'On Care for our Common Home', published in 2015. Indeed, the title of the volume refers to the phrase 'integral ecology' and the challenge to protect our common home in the encyclical. Although the inspiration for the title comes from a religious leader, the analysis engages both secular and religious perspectives on crucial issues that threaten the ecology of our planet. The sections of the book are divided into the context of the problem: environmental science, social science, religion and ethics, and advocacy.

The Urgency of Climate Change Kiarash Aramesh, Gerard Magill, 2017-01-06

The Urgency of Climate Change addresses a pivotal challenge for the sustainability of our planet. This topic was selected for the inaugural conference in 2015 of an annual series on the Integrity of Creation. The essays in this collection were selected in a peer-reviewed manner and appeal to a general audience. The chapters move from general to more specific points of view, with a discussion at the end of each section addressing the global impact of climate change. The first section sets the context for the discussion, explaining that the climate is an indispensable common good. The part on Science emphasises that empirical reality must guide any analysis of the climate as a matter of basic knowledge and comprehension. A crucial implication is whether the climate is sufficiently robust for the Earth to flourish for millennia ahead, as discussed in the part on Sustainability. In turn, these sections raise pivotal questions regarding Ethics about social obligations for the planet to flourish and regarding Religion to foster global stewardship. Finally, this alignment of Ethics and Religion around the problems related to Science and Sustainability leads to the final section on Law that considers policy possibilities to effectively engage Climate Change.
