African-American Social Leaders and Activists Jack Rummel, 2014-05-14 Whether abolitionists or slave revolt leaders

African American Literature in Transition, 1850-1865: Volume 4, 1850-1865 Teresa Zackodnik, 2021-05-13 The period of 1850 1865 consisted of violent struggle and crisis as the United States underwent the prodigious transition from slaveholding to ostensibly free nation This volume reframes mid century African American literature and challenges our current understandings of both African American and American literature It presents a fluid tradition that includes history science politics economics space and movement the visual and the sonic Black writing was highly conscious of transnational and international politics textual circulation and revolutionary imaginaries Chapters explore how Black literature was being produced and circulated how and why it marked its relation to other literary and expressive traditions what geopolitical imaginaries it facilitated through representation and what technologies including print enabled African Americans to pursue such a complex and ongoing aesthetic and political project We'll Fight It Out Here David Chanoff, Louis W.

Sullivan, 2022-10-11 How a coalition of Black health professions schools made health equity a national issue Winner of the Phillis Wheatley Award from the Sons Daughters of the United States Middle Passage Racism in the US health care system has been deliberately undermining Black health care professionals and exacerbating health disparities among Black Americans for centuries These health disparities only became a mainstream issue on the agenda of US health leaders and policy makers because a group of health professions schools at Historically Black Colleges and Universities banded together to fight for health equity We ll Fight It Out Here tells the story of how the Association of Minority Health Professions Schools AMHPS was founded by this coalition and the hard won influence it built in American politics and health care David Chanoff and Louis W Sullivan former secretary of health human services detail how the struggle for equity has been fought in the field of health care where bias and disparities continue to be volatile national issues Chanoff and Sullivan outline the history of Black health care from pre Emancipation to today centering on the work of AMHPS which brought to light health care inequities in 1983 and precipitated virtually all minority health care legislation since then Based on extensive research in the literature as well as more than seventy interviews with the people central to this fight for legislative and policy change We ll Fight It Out Here is the important story of a vital coalition movement virtually unknown until now that changed the national understanding of health inequities The work of this coalition of Black health schools continues both in supporting the training of more doctors and health professionals from minority backgrounds and in advancing issues related to health equity By highlighting these endeavors We ll Fight It Out Here brings attention to a pivotal group in the history of the health equity movement and provides a road map of practical mechanisms that can be used to advance it Romantic Reformers and

the Antislavery Struggle in the Civil War Era Ethan J. Kytte, 2014-08-11 On the cusp of the American Civil War a new generation of reformers including Theodore Parker Frederick Douglass Harriet Beecher Stowe Martin Robison Delany and Thomas Wentworth Higginson took the lead in the antislavery struggle Frustrated by political defeats a more aggressive Slave Power and the inability of early abolitionists like William Lloyd Garrison to rid the nation of slavery the New Romantics crafted fresh often more combative approaches to the peculiar institution Contrary to what many scholars have argued however they did not reject Romantic reform in the process Instead the New Romantics roamed widely through Romantic modes of thought embracing not only the immediatism and perfectionism pioneered by Garrisonians but also new motifs and doctrines including sentimentalism self culture martial heroism Romantic racialism and Manifest Destiny This book tells the story of how antebellum America s most important intellectual current Romanticism shaped the coming and course of the nation s bloodiest and most revolutionary conflict     The Story of Black Military Officers, 1861-1948 Krewasky A. Salter I,2014-01-10 Black members of the military served in every war conflict and military engagement between 1861 and 1948 Beyond serving only as enlisted soldiers and non commissioned officers many also served as commissioned officers in positions of leadership and authority This book offers the first complete and conclusive work to specifically examine the history of black commissioned officers     Freedom Dreams Robin D.
