Making Of Britains European Foreign Policy:

Britain and Europe Since 1945 Oliver J. Daddow, 2004-04-15 This important book offers a refreshing and challenging perspective on the nature of history by analyzing the character role functioning and wider uses of historiography Taking British policies toward European integration since the Second World War as a case study the author demonstrates how its interpretation and reportage over time is subject to changing trends Seeking to explain these trends in terms of the different conceptions of the past which are maintained by different schools of writing it forces us to confront the fundamental difficulties we encounter in undertaking studies in history It draws attention to the impact on historical interpretation of changing times political discourse the opening of archives and of subjects being brought to the fore by professional historians

European Foreign Policy-Making and the Arab-Israeli Conflict David John Allen, Alfred Pijpers, 1984-01-01

Understanding European Foreign Policy Brian White, 2017-03-14 A broad ranging introduction to European foreign policy looking at the extent to which a concerted approach is emerging at EU level the extent of Europeanization of National Foreign Policy and the theoretical issues posed for theories of foreign policy and international relations more generally

The Making of Britain's European Foreign Policy Alasdair Blair, 2012 Few commentators would contest that Britain's relationship with the European Union EU has been one of the most consistent and troublesome issues to have influenced British politics during the last fifty years This has been reflected in the number of publications devoted to this subject and in particular to the question of the reluctance of successive British governments to commit to Europe Much of this scholarship has analysed Britain's relationship with the EU in a historical context citing the various phases that this debate has passed through Greenwood 1992 George 1991 and 1994 Gowland and Turner 2000 J Young 1984 and 2000 H Young 1998 This book offers a new contribution to debates by examining the making of British European policy It focuses on the dynamics of policy making in a European context using a case study approach to analyse a wide range of issues more closely More broadly it also analyses the changing nature of the foreign policy process itself and so to remedy the gap of 25 years since the last major study of the process of making British foreign policy was published W Wallace 1975 In line with the Political Dynamics of the European Union series the book has three key aims The first is to examine the extent to which Britain's relationship with the EU is changing The second is to determine where power lies in the construction of what we term Britain's European policy The third is to examine the extent to which existing structures are adequate to meet the current demands and future challenges to the making of British European policy

Britain and the European Union David Gowland, 2022-04-07 This engaging and concise new edition offers the student and general reader a compact readable treatment of British membership of the European Union EU from 1973 up until the present day and Brexit with detailed analysis of the period 1945 1972 accounting for Britain's absence from the formation of the EU It provides a highly distilled and accessible analysis and overview of some of the parameters and recurring features of Britain's membership of the European Union touching on all the major facets of membership at this critical time in Britain's relationship with Europe. Key features of the new edition examines the constant and changing character of British membership of the EU, discusses the problematical and often paradoxical features of EU membership, familiarises the reader with both academic and public debates about the subject, offers thematic treatment of all aspects of policy and attitudes towards the EU, significantly restructured and updated to include the origins of the decision to hold a referendum on UK membership of the EU, the campaign, explanations for its outcome and the course, substance and implications of the UK EU Brexit negotiations. This book will be of key interest to scholars, students and the generally interested reader in the areas of European Politics, Studies, British Politics, EU Politics, Studies, Area Studies and International Relations.

Britain and European Integration Since 1945 David Gowland, Arthur Turner, Alex Wright, 2009-10-30. This book provides both a comprehensive introduction and a perceptive examination of Britain's relations with the European Community and the European Union since 1945, combining an historical account with political analysis to illustrate the changing and multifaceted nature of British and European politics. Few issues in British politics since 1945 have generated such heated controversy as Britain's approach to the process of European integration associated with the European Union. The long running debate on the subject has not only played a major part in the downfall of prime ministers and other leading political figures but has also exposed major fault lines within governments and caused deep and rancorous divisions within and between the major political parties. This highly contested issue has given rise to bitter campaigning in the press and between pressure groups and it has bemused, confused and divided the public at large. Key questions addressed include: Why has Europe had such an explosive impact on British politics? What impelled British policymakers to join the European Community and to undertake one of the radical if not the most radical changes in modern British history? What have been the perceived advantages and disadvantages of British membership of the European Union? Why has British membership of the European Union rarely attracted a national consensus? Engaging with both academic and public debates about Britain and the European Union, this volume is essential reading for all students of British history, British politics and European politics.

The Europeanization of National Foreign Policy E. Gross, 2009-04-17. Eva Gross analyzes changing national preferences towards the EU, CFSP and ESDP by providing detailed accounts of British, French and German crisis decision making in FYROM, Afghanistan, Lebanon and DR Congo. While transatlantic relations remain important, crisis management under the EU label is increasingly accepted in national capitals.

The European Finality Debate and Its National Dimensions Simon Serfaty, 2003.

Britain and the World since 1945 Alasdair Blair, 2014-07-11. This Seminar Studies title is a succinct study of modern British foreign policy focusing on the period from 1945 to the present day. Since the end of the Second World War, Britain has been engaged in international conflicts from the Suez Crisis to the Gulf War and has actively sought involvement in transnational and global affairs. Starting with a brief overview of the rise and fall of the British Empire and continuing chronologically with detailed chapters covering the second half of the twentieth century and the beginning of the twenty first Alasdair Blair discusses the highs and lows of British foreign policy in an accessible yet analytical manner Dealing with themes such as the issues triggered by decolonisation and the changing relationship between Britain and Europe this text considers the pivotal moments in modern Britain s engagement with the wider world Included in this title are supporting materials such as a chronology of important events from 1945 a Who s Who of key government figures and a collection of relevant primary sources Thorough yet concise Britain and the World since 1945 is the ideal resource for students interested in the development of British foreign policy      The Ecumenical Movement and the Making of the European Community Lucian Leuștean,2014 A study that assesses the political history of religious dialogue in the European Community detailing close relations between churchmen and high ranking officials in European institutions immediately after the 1950 Schuman Declaration
