Anthropology in the Age of Technology Paul van Dijk,2000 This book is the first to discuss for an English speaking audience the ideas of the German Jewish man of letters thinker and activist G nther Anders Anders is one of few philosophers to deal intensely with the moral consequences of Auschwitz and Hiroshima He can rightly be called the philosopher of the atomic age and his thinking a philosophy of modern technology In biting manifestoes sharp aphorisms and penetrating essays in stirring diary notes and political fables Anders strikes out the age in which we live As a twentieth century visionary he exposes the absence of the moral and social imaginations that is necessary to prevent our history from ending in a total catastrophe In the gap between our technical creations and our utter inability to imagine their destructive potential lies the basis for the unstoppable activity of this practical philosopher From every possible angle he attempts to comprehend this modern schizophrenia in its roots and consequences Anders is one of the most important thinkers of the twentieth century He tried to describe and analyze the variety of manifestations of the self destructive progress of our technical civilization which makes humanity into an anti quated sort He diagnosed countless important problems ranging from the world of media to the dictates of the world of machinery and he investigated their social political and philosophical meaning To read his writings is more than becoming acquainted with a rich and colorful philosopher It is more than an encounter with a moving and passionate individual It is ultimately a confrontation with oneself with our own guilt and responsibility with our personal hopes and fears with our lack of imagination and with our need to recover it
