Bud,2012-12-06 This study is an outgrowth of our interest in the history of modern chemistry The paucity of reliable quantitative knowledge about past science was brought home forcibly to us when we undertook a research seminar in the comparative history of modern chemistry in Britain Germany and the United States That seminar which took place at the University of Pennsylvania in the spring of 1975 was paralleled by one devoted to the work of the Annales School The two seminars together catalyzed the attempt to construct historical measures of change in aspects of one science or chemical indicators The present volume displays our results Perhaps our labors may be most usefully compared with the work of those students of medieval science who devote their best efforts to the establishment of texts Only when acceptable texts have been constructed from fragmentary and corrupt sources can scholars move on to the more satisfying business of making history So too in the modern period a necessary preliminary to the full history of any scientific profession is the establishing of reliable quantitative information in the form of statistical series This volume does not offer history Instead it provides certain element indicators that may be useful to individuals interested in the history of American chemistry and chemical industry and suggestive for policy Education and National Defense Series ,1942 Ruling Case Law William Mark McKinney,1917 Educating for Humanity Neil Tucker,2025-03-11 This book explores the international landscape of educational scholarship policy and practice Tucker argues there is a fundamental aim for world education It is to educate complete human beings in all their dimensions such that they become the best persons they can be and participate fully in the human story Tucker asks What is the world of education for What is it that early childhood centers schools and local communities are meant to do for children and their learning Representing a decade of research the text examines the most common concepts of the purposes of education human nature and learning offered by scholars international authorities and pedagogies nations education organizations neuroscience early childhood educators and individual schools To educate for humanity Tucker provides a complete concept of holistic education of whole child and holistic learning for a whole world The book is an essential resource for those involved in the world of education teachers university administrators school authorities policy makers and educational organizations Parents and community members with a strong interest in the education of all children will also find much that is informative and challenging to think about Resources in Education ,1997 International Relations, 5th Edition V.N. Power and Resistance, 7th ed. Jessica Antony,Wayne Antony,2022-06-30T00:00:00Z Power and Resistance debunks the dominant neoliberal hyper individualist approach to society s problems that sees poverty as a result of laziness environmental crises as a result of market demands for products that pollute and Indigenous Peoples struggles as a result of not assimilating We argue that it is social inequality and oppression that are the underlying causes of social problems In a society like ours powerful groups make choices that benefit them and force those choices onto others creating life problems for others and society as a whole The powerful also have influence over what is and is not called a social problem Solving social problems requires changing the structures of inequality and oppression For example industrial corporate agriculture has created huge profits for a few gigantic food corporations but left much of the world hungry But farmers and their allies are pushing back through agroecology an agriculture based on local small scale ecologically sustainable farming that brings eaters and growers closer to one another The seventh edition of Power and Resistance includes new chapters on anti Black racism in schools Indigenous people and mental health food security and sovereignty and work in the gig economy Digest of International Law Marjorie Millace Whiteman,1963
