Migration, Identity and Resistance in the Postcolonial Nation-State Sk Sagir Ali, Tanmoy Kundu, Saikat Sarkar, Sanjoy Saren, 2025-02-25 This volume represents a significant contribution to the fields of migration studies postcolonial theory and critical geography It critically engages with the intersections of power space and identity to deepen our understanding of the challenges and possibilities of negotiating citizenship and belonging in an increasingly interconnected and precarious world The book interrogates the construction of nationalist narratives and their role in perpetuating exclusionary paradigms which marginalize certain demographic segments and reinforce hierarchical notions of belonging Further it examines the bio political mechanisms that engender conditions of precarity reshaping conceptions of citizenship and nationhood in response to environmental degradation population control policies and state surveillance The essays in the volume delve into the diverse factors driving displacement encompassing both state driven policies of engineered displacement and environmental factors such as climate change resource depletion and natural disasters They also focus on the marginalized spaces of displacement and explore how these sites become loci of resistance and incubators of alternative forms of belonging Interdisciplinary in its approach and rigorous in its empirical analysis the volume will stimulate further research provoke new questions and inspire transformative interventions in the fields of migration and diaspora studies literary and cultural studies politics and political processes and sustainability studies Water,

Technology and the Nation-State Filippo Menga,Erik Swyngedouw,2018-05-15 Just as space territory and society can be socially and politically co constructed so can water and thus the construction of hydraulic infrastructures can be mobilised by politicians to consolidate their grip on power while nurturing their own vision of what the nation is or should become This book delves into the complex and often hidden connection between water technological advancement and the nation state addressing two major questions First the arguments deployed consider how water as a resource can be ideologically constructed imagined and framed to create and reinforce a national identity and secondly how the idea of a nation state can and is materially co constituted out of the material infrastructure through which water is harnessed and channelled The book consists of 13 theoretical and empirical interdisciplinary chapters covering four continents The case studies cover a diverse range of geographical areas and countries including China Cyprus Egypt Ethiopia France Nepal and Thailand and together illustrate that the meaning and rationale behind water infrastructures goes well beyond the control and regulation of water resources as it becomes central in the unfolding of power dynamics across time and space Democracy Beyond the Nation
