Larson, Rita Butzer, Yair Mundlak, 1998 The Demography of Africa Bloomsbury Publishing, 1996-11-25 Written lucidly and simply to serve as an introduction to the study of the African continent from a human population perspective this book demonstrates important factors in the ebb and flow of group size and structure using the example of the fastest growing region in the world From a total original population of less than a quarter million in prehistoric times to the present count of 642 million people in 1990 Africa is now demonstrating an annual growth rate of 3.0% the highest on the planet While the rest of the world's population is expected to increase by 60% Africa's is expected to increase by 100% doubling by the year 2025 to a projected total of 1.6 billion people The major factor creating the high growth rate is the drop in death rates while the fertility rates remain high Stress on the population has been related to urbanization which has increased since African countries attained independence in the 1960s Employment opportunities in cities are inadequate and slum conditions have appeared around most major cities Since agriculture remains the major industry and occupation rural development policies are seen to hold the most promise for stemming urban migration and reducing famine and poverty Asian Industrialization and Africa Howard Stein, 1995-06-18 Drawing on case studies from the industrialization of East and Southeast Asian nations this text critically examines the structural adjustment policies used in Africa since the 1980s The Asian country studies include Singapore Malaysia Taiwan South Korea Hong Kong and Meiji Japan Myths Of Rich And Poor Michael W. Cox, Richard Alm, 2008-08-04 Popular wisdom holds that the years since 1973 the end of the postwar miracle have been a time of economic decline and stagnation lackluster productivity falling real wages and lost competitiveness The rich have gotten richer the poor have gotten poorer and most of us have barely held on while watching all the best jobs disappear overseas As Myths of Rich and Poor demonstrates this picture is not just wrong

Berend,2020-02-28 This book presents the sharp regional differences within the integrating European continent Four regions Northwestern Europe Southern Europe Central Europe and Eastern Southeastern Europe represent high medium and relatively less developed levels of economic advancement These disparities have emerged as a result of historical differences that produced and reinforced cultural and behavioral differences The author examines the distinctions between the regions looks at how these differences transpired and became so retrenched and answers the question of why some countries were able to elevate to higher levels of economic development while others could not This book is unique in that it provides a timely historical analysis of the main causes of the most pressing conflicts in Europe today Readers will come away from this book with a deeper understanding of the sharp divergence in economic standing between the four different regions of Europe as well as knowledge about how institutional corruption and other cultural features exacerbated these variations The book also offers a better understanding of major European Union conflicts between member countries and between member and nonmember countries as well as the rise of autocratic regimes in certain countries The book begins with a short history of European integration throughout European civilization and then goes on to discuss the modern reality of integration and attempts to homogenize the Continent that divided into four different macro regions It will primarily appeal to scholars researchers and students studying Europe from various fields including economics business history political science and sociology as well as a general readership interested in Europe s past present and future Yearbook of the United Nations, Volume 39 (1985) United Nations,2023-08-28
