National Gallery Technical Bulletin National Gallery (Great Britain),2012 Traces of Vermeer Jane Jelley,2017-07-14

Johannes Vermeer's luminous paintings are loved and admired around the world yet we do not understand how they were made. We see sunlit spaces, the glimmer of satin, silver and linen; we see the softness of a hand on a lute string or letter. We recognise the distilled impression of a moment of time and we feel it to be real. We might hope for some answers from the experts but they are confounded too. Even with the modern technology available, they do not know why there is no evidence of any preliminary drawing, why there are shifts in focus and why his pictures are unusually blurred. Some wonder if he might possibly have used a camera obscura to capture what he saw before him. The few traces Vermeer has left behind tell us little: there are no letters or diaries and no reports of him at work. Jane Jelley has taken a new path in this detective story. A painter herself, she has worked with the materials of his time: the cochineal insect and lapis lazuli, the sheep bones, soot, earth and rust. She shows us how painters made their pictures, layer by layer; she investigates old secrets and hears travellers' tales. She explores how Vermeer could have used a lens in the creation of his masterpieces. The clues were there all along. After all this time, now we can unlock the studio door and catch a glimpse of Vermeer inside painting light. The Renaissance Restored Matthew Hayes,2021-07-27

This handsomely illustrated volume traces the intersections of art history and paintings restoration in nineteenth century Europe. Repairing works of art and writing about them, the practices that became art conservation and art history share a common ancestry. By the nineteenth century, the two fields had become inseparably linked. While the art historical scholarship of this period has been widely studied, its restoration practices have received less scrutiny until now. This book charts the intersections between art history and conservation in the treatment of Italian Renaissance paintings in nineteenth century Europe. Initial chapters discuss the restoration of works by Giotto and Titian, framed by the contemporary scholarship of art historians such as Jacob Burckhardt, G. B. Cavalcaselle and Joseph Crowe, that was redefining the earlier age. Subsequent chapters recount how paintings conservation was integrated into museum settings. The narrative uses period texts, unpublished archival materials and historical photographs in probing how paintings looked at a time when scholars were writing the foundational texts of art history and how contemporary restorers were negotiating the appearances of these works. The book proposes a model for a new conservation history, object-focused yet enriched by consideration of a wider cultural horizon.

La pintura sobre tela II Ana Villarrquide Jevenois,2016-12-12

La pintura sobre lienzo constituye una de las más delicadas estructuras artísticas integrada por elementos heterogéneos y con frecuencia de comportamiento contrapuesto. Toda obra, por buena que sea, la calidad técnica que posea, está siempre sometida a cambios químicos y físicos inevitables que dan lugar a lo que conocemos como envejecimiento. El presente trabajo analiza con rigor y exhaustividad todos los agentes causantes de las alteraciones en la pintura y sus consecuencias, así como los sistemas de conservación y restauración que ralentizan el proceso de degradación de las obras o que procuran una intervención directa.
