

Background of National Broadcasting Policy (2014)

Important events on the perspective of developing national broadcasting policy are describing in the below-

- Between 1959 and 1963 the first 100 kw medium wave and short wave transmitters installed in Dhaka.
- In 1964 television begun by the courtesy of Nippon electric company as part owner of the pilot TV program.
- ❑ There are, however, comparatively new laws enacted after the independence, which in addition to the above laws/policies, work to govern the broadcasting sector. These laws/policies for example, include:
 - Provisions of the Constitution of the People's Republic of Bangladesh, 1972
 - (Provisions of) The Special Power Act, 1974
 - Advertising Policy for Bangladesh Betar, 1979
 - Guidelines for Radio Television Programs, 1986
 - Bangladesh Television Film Censor Guidelines and Rules, 1985
 - Guideline Regarding Selection of Foreign Films for Telecast on Bangladesh Television, 1988
- ❑ By turns of these events both the principal political parties the AL and the BNP called for a free, national and democratic broadcasting system under an independent authority.
- On September 09, 1996 the formal government appointed a 16 member committee to recommend measures and authorize private TV and Radio.
- The first measure toward privatization was however taken in March 1999, authorizing privately owned Ekushey TV to go on air by the end of 1999.
- On July 12, 2001 parliament approved two bills granting autonomy to state run Bangladesh Television (BTV) and Bangladesh Betar (Bangladesh Radio)
