Les idées en mouvement Michel Ducharme, Damien-Claude Bélanger, Sophie Coupal, 2004

Duty to Dissent Geoff Keelan, 2019-11-01 During the First World War Henri Bourassa, fierce Canadian nationalist politician and journalist from Quebec, took centre stage in the national debates on Canada's participation in the war, its imperial ties to Britain and Canada's place in the world In Duty to Dissent Geoff Keelan draws upon Bourassa's voluminous editorials in Le Devoir, the newspaper he founded in 1910, to trace Bourassa's evolving perspective on the war's meaning and consequences What emerges is not a simplistic sketch of a local journalist engaged in national debates as most English Canadians know him, but a fully rendered portrait of a Canadian looking out at the world By situating Bourassa within a larger panorama that connects him to prominent war resisters from around the globe, Keelan offers fresh insight into one of Canada's most influential historical figures, reshaping our understanding of why Quebec's position on the Great War differed so radically from the rest of Canada

Canadian Multiculturalism and the Far Right Bàrbara Molas, 2022-08-22 Canadian Multiculturalism and the Far Right examines a neglected aspect of the history of 20th century Canadian multiculturalism and the far right to illuminate the ideological foundations of the concept of third force Focusing on the particular thought of ultra-conservative Ukrainian Canadian Walter J. Bossy during his time in Montreal, 1931-1970s, this book demonstrates that the idea that Canada was composed of three equally important groups emerged from a context defined by reactionary ideas on ethnic diversity and integration Two broad questions shape this research: first, what the meaning originally attached to the idea of a third force was, and what the intentions behind the conceptualization of a trichotomic Canada were; and second, whether Bossy's understanding of the third force precedes or is related in any way to postwar debates on liberal multiculturalism at the core of which was the existence of a third force This book will be of interest to students and researchers of multiculturalism, radical right ideology and the far right, and Canadian history and politics

Forging Alberta's Constitutional Framework Richard Connors, John M. Law, University of Alberta. Centre for Constitutional Studies, 2005-11 Forging Alberta's Constitutional Framework analyzes the principal events and processes that precipitated the emergence and formation of the law and legal culture of Alberta from the foundation of the Hudson's Bay in 1670 until the eve of the centenary of the Province in 2005 The formation of Alberta's constitution and legal institutions was by no means a simple process by which English and Canadian law was imposed upon a receptive and passive population Challenges to authority, latent lawlessness, interaction between indigenous and settler societies, periods pre and post 1905 of jurisdictional confusion and demands for individual, group and provincial rights and recognitions are as much part of Alberta
