Defining Travel Susan L. Roberson, 2007-06. With essays by Gloria Anzaldúa, Jean Baudrillard, William Bevis, Homi Bhabha, Michel Butor, Hélène Cixous, Erik Cohen, Michel de Certeau, Wayne Franklin, Paul Fussell, Farah Jasmine Griffin, Caren Kaplan, Eric Leed, Dean MacCannell, Doreen Massey, Carl Pedersen, Gustavo Pérez Firmat, Mary Louise Pratt, R. Radhakrishnan, Edward W. Said, and Thayer Scudder. Travel, movement, mobility: these are some of the essential activities in human life. Whether we travel to foreign lands or just across the city, we all journey, and from our journeying we shape ourselves, our history, and the stories we tell. In essays written by some of the most respected contemporary scholars, this anthology brings together some of the best informed convictions about travel. Travel, so essential to human life, is a complex matter that encompasses a variety of travel experiences: family vacation, political exile, exploration of distant lands, immigration, mundane shopping trips. Likewise, as the essays in the collection demonstrate, discussion of travel crosses a range of personal and theoretical perspectives, from the postmodern sensibility of Jean Baudrillard to R. Radhakrishnan's explanation to his son of what it means for Indians to live in the United States. As the field of travel itself travels across academic and theoretical boundaries, it brings together sociology, anthropology, geography, history, psychology, and literary criticism. Recognizing that multidimensional quality of travel, this book gathers essays that represent various travel experiences and approaches to discussing them. Mapping out definitions of travel, the collection includes essays on tourism and travel writing, on modern globalization and the diaspora, on immigration, migration, and forced relocation. Defining Travel also highlights American experiences of mobility by including essays on Native Americans and early contact with the New World, as well as the massive migration of African Americans to northern cities. Running throughout the essays are sometimes conflicting discussions about what constitutes travel and the home site, the role of travel knowledge and power, especially when travel is accompanied by imperialistic motives. Here, readers truly will discover that the essence of human life is wayfaring. Susan L. Roberson, an assistant professor of English at Alabama State University in Montgomery, is the editor of Women, America, and Movement: Narratives of Relocation and author of Emerson in His Sermons: A Man Made Self.

Navigating the American West Thomas A. Permar, 2015-03-14. If you've ever stared in awe at the Rocky Mountains and wondered how early travelers could possibly traverse those peaks, then this is the book for you. In a time of smartphones, GPS devices, and voice-automated navigation systems, it's difficult to imagine crossing unknown deserts, mountains, and prairies with just a few ancient techniques and the heavens above. This history of movement across the American West brings three centuries of travel to life. It shows how four different cultures, in four different areas, migrated across this harsh and beautiful land: the native travelers on foot, Spanish conquistadors on horseback, Frenchmen by canoe, and American settlers by wagon.

In this history the who where and when take a back seat to the fascinating how How did they find their way from place to place How did they measure time distance and direction traveled How did they provide themselves with food water and shelter the barest necessities of human existence Travel the myth and reality of the raw land that made the American West Discover the depth of human bravery determination and ingenuity And enjoy the adventure Eternal Sovereigns Gloria Jane Bell, 2024-09-06 In 1925 Pius XI staged the Vatican Missionary Exposition in Rome's Vatican City Offering a narrative of the Catholic Church's beneficence to a global congregation the exposition displayed thousands of cultural belongings stolen from Indigenous communities across Turtle Island which were seen by one million pilgrims Gloria Bell's Eternal Sovereigns offers critical revision to that story Bell reveals the tenacity mobility and reception of Indigenous artists travelers and activists in 1920s Rome Animating these conjunctures the book foregrounds competing claims to sovereignty from Indigenous and papal perspectives Bell deftly juxtaposes the Indian Museum of nineteenth century sculptor Ferdinand Pettrich with the oeuvre of Indigenous artist Edmonia Lewis Bell analyzes Indigenous cultural belongings made by artists from diverse nations including Cree Lakota Anishinaabe Nipissing Kanien keh ka Wolastoqiyik and Kwakwaka wakw Drawing on years of archival research and field interviews Bell provides insight into the Catholic Church's colonial collecting and its ongoing ethnological display practices Written in a voice that questions the academy's staid conventions the book reclaims Indigenous belongings and other stolen treasures that remain imprisoned in the stronghold of the Vatican Museums
