Native Anthropology The Japanese Challenge To Western Academic Hegemony:

Native Anthropology Takami Kuwayama, 2004 The central theme of this book is the position of natives in what the author calls the world system of anthropology This book shows how anthropological knowledge is produced disseminated and consumed on a global scale Anthropologists, Indigenous Scholars and the Research Endeavour Joy Hendry, Laara Fitznor, 2012-11-27 This collection offers the fruits of a stimulating workshop that sought to bridge the fraught relationship which sometimes continues between anthropologists and indigenous native aboriginal scholars despite areas of overlapping interest Participants from around the world share their views and opinions on subjects ranging from ideas for reconciliation the question of what might constitute a universal science indigenous heritage postcolonial museology the boundaries of the term indigeneity different senses as ways of knowing and the very issue of writing as a method of dissemination that divides and excludes readers from different backgrounds This book represents a landmark step in the process of replacing bridges with more equal patterns of intercultural cooperation and communication Aging and Loss Jason Danely, 2015-01-02 By 2030 over 30% of the Japanese population will be 65 or older foreshadowing the demographic changes occurring elsewhere in Asia and around the world What can we learn from a study of the aging population of Japan and how can these findings inform a path forward for the elderly their families and for policy makers Based on nearly a decade of research Aging and Loss examines how the landscape of aging is felt understood and embodied by older adults themselves In detailed portraits anthropologist Jason Danely delves into the everyday lives of older Japanese adults as they construct narratives through acts of reminiscence social engagement and ritual practice and reveals the pervasive cultural aesthetic of loss and of being a burden Through first hand accounts of rituals in homes cemeteries and religious centers Danely argues that what he calls the self in suspense can lead to the emergence of creative participation in an economy of care In everyday rituals for the spirits older adults exercise agency and reinterpret concerns of social abandonment within a meaningful cultural narrative and by reimagining themselves and their place in the family through these rituals older adults in Japan challenge popular attitudes about eldercare Danely's discussion of health and long term care policy and community welfare organizations reveal a complex picture of Japan's aging society Methods, Moments, and Ethnographic Spaces in Asia Nayantara Sheoran Appleton, Caroline Bennett, 2021-04-15 Asia is changing Socio political shifts in the world economy technological advances of monumental scales movements of people and ideas alongside ongoing post colonization projects across the region have created an emerging Asia one confident and assertive of its place in the contemporary geopolitical sphere As political and economic powers reassert Asian sovereignty in opposition to perceived Northern dominance and dramatic and rapid development in the region shift the relationship between the centre and the periphery new renderings and imaginations of hierarchies of identity and power come to the fore This changing environment leads to emerging challenges for anthropologists working in the region both those who have been working there for years and new scholars entering the field

This volume considers these changes and the implications of this on our practice By focusing on Asia as a site of enquiry the contributors to this book discuss tensions and opportunities arising in their ethnographic fieldwork in light of a changing Asia Drawing on personal reflections on Asia's global positioning in this contemporary moment the contributors consider how fieldwork is being negotiated within the changing dynamics of anthropology in the region This book then is a discussion on the shifting landscape of field sites and the resultant emerging research methodologies and is aimed at those who are already deeply immersed in fieldwork as well as those who are seeking ways to undertake it Arctic Pastoralist Sakha Hiroki Takakura,2015 Presents a fascinating analysis of the horse and cattle breeding culture of the Sakha Back cover Politics and Practices of the Ethnographies of Biomedicine and STEM Cinzia Greco,2024-11-19 Politics and Practices of the Ethnographies of Biomedicine and STEM Among White Coats collects critical examinations of the politics positionality and epistemological and methodological issues of doing ethnography in a number of locales across the globe and in fields including computer science astronomy mining biology and medicine The book captures a wide breadth of ethnographic case studies conducted by scholars at different stages of their careers with various geographical backgrounds and working across different settings and regions of the world demonstrating the unfolding of overlapping concerns in unique ways Among White Coats is the first systematic and critical examination of the politics and epistemology of doing ethnography in biomedicine and STEM adding to the extensive production of studies based on the ethnography of medicine and ethnography of science as well as the ongoing debate on the foundation of ethnography The book is geared toward academics and research students from different disciplinary backgrounds It is a resource useful not only for students and Ph D candidates but also for expert ethnographers presenting the most recent debates on ethnography and knowledge production in the STEM and biomedical fields The book is partly a response to the growing awareness of the increasingly pertinent objective for ethnographers to reflect on their positionalities in their writing Thus this book offers a reflexive guide to thinking through the political and practical aspects of ethnographic practice Asian Anthropology Jan Van Bremen,Eyal Ben-Ari,Syed Farid Alatas,2004-08-02 Asian Anthropology raises important questions regarding the nature of anthropology and particularly the production and consumption of anthropological knowledge in Asia Instead of assuming a universal standard or trajectory for the development of anthropology in Asia the contributors to this volume begin with the appropriate premise that anthropologies in different Asian countries have developed and continue to develop according to their own internal dynamics With chapters written by an international group of experts in the field Asian Anthropology will be a useful teaching tool and a valuable resource for scholars working in Asian anthropology The Cambridge Companion to Modern Japanese Culture Yoshio Sugimoto,2009-06-30 This Companion provides a comprehensive overview of the influences that have shaped modern day Japan Spanning one and a half centuries from the Meiji Restoration in 1868 to the beginning of the twenty first century this volume covers topics such as technology food nationalism and rise of anime and manga in the visual arts The

how black authors and folklorists were active participants rather than passive observers in conversations about the politics of representing black folklore Examining literary texts folklore documents cultural performances legal discourse and political rhetoric Black Folklore and the Politics of Racial Representation demonstrates how folklore studies became a battleground across which issues of racial identity and difference were asserted and debated at the turn of the twentieth century The study is framed by two questions of historical and continuing import What role have representations of black folklore played in constructing racial identity And how have those ideas impacted the way African Americans think about and creatively engage black traditions Moody Turner renders established historical facts in a new light and context taking figures we thought we knew such as Charles Chesnutt Anna Julia Cooper and Paul Laurence Dunbar and recasting their place in African American intellectual and cultural history
