Native Americans History In Art:

No Reservations Fergus M. Bordewich, 2006 This collection of work by both Native and non Native artists speaks of the complexity of Native American historical and cultural influences in contemporary culture Rather than focusing on artists who attempt to maintain strict cultural practices it brings together a group of artists who engage the larger contemporary art world and are not afraid to step beyond the bounds of tradition Focusing on a group of 10 artists who came of age since the initial Native Rights movement of the 1960s and 70s the book emphasizes art that does not so much look Indian but incorporates Native content in surprising and innovative ways that defy easy categorization The Native artists featured here focus on the evolution of cultural traditions The non Native artists focus primarily on the history of European colonization in America Artists include Matthew Buckingham Lewis deSoto Peter Edlund Nicholas Galanin Jeffrey Gibson Rigo 23 Duane Slick Marie Watt Edie Winograde and Yoram Wolberger Native American Art in the Twentieth Century W. Jackson Rushing III, 2013-09-27 This illuminating and provocative book is the first anthology devoted to Twentieth Century Native American and First Nation art Native American Art brings together anthropologists art historians curators critics and distinguished Native artists to discuss pottery painting sculpture printmaking photography and performance art by some of the most celebrated Native American and Canadian First Nation artists of our time The contributors use new theoretical and critical approaches to address key issues for Native American art including symbolism and spirituality the role of patronage and museum practices the politics of art criticism and the aesthetic power of indigenous knowledge The artist contributors who represent several Native nations including Cherokee Lakota Plains Cree and those of the Plateau country emphasise the importance of traditional stories mythologies and ceremonies in the production of contemporary art Within great poignancy they write about recent art in terms of home homeland and aboriginal sovereignty Tracing the continued resistance of Native artists to dominant orthodoxies of the art market and art history Native American Art in the Twentieth Century argues forcefully for Native art's place in modern art history Native America Collected Margaret Denise Dubin, 2001 I argue for a history of Native American art that is politically informed Margaret Dubin writes and for a criticism of contemporary Native American fine arts that is historically founded Integrating ethnography discourse analysis and social theory in a careful mapping of the Native American art world this insightful new study explores the landscape of intercultural spaces the physical and philosophical arenas in which art collectors anthropologists artists historians curators and critics struggle to control the movement and meaning of art objects created by Native Americans Dubin examines the ideas and interactions involved in contemporary collecting in particular to understand how marketplace demands have homogenised Western perceptions of authentic Native American art In doing so she reveals the power relations of an art world in which Native American artists work within and against a larger system that seeks to control people by manipulating objects The Early Years of Native American Art History Janet Catherine Berlo, 1992 This collection of essays deals with the development of

Native American art history as a discipline rather than with particular art works or artists It focuses on the early anthropologists museum curators dealers and collectors and on the multiple levels of understanding and misunderstanding a
