

International Decade for Natural Disaster Reduction

The United Nations General Assembly designated the 1990s as the International Decade for Natural Disaster Reduction (IDNDR). Its basic objective was to decrease the loss of life, property destruction and social and economic disruption caused by natural disasters, such as earthquakes, tsunamis, floods, landslides, volcanic eruptions, droughts, locust infestations, and other disasters of natural origin.

A Malaysian Study of Mixed Methods Ruhizal Roosli, 2017-05-11 This book consists of ten chapters focusing on how to combine quantitative with qualitative methods in a research project The approach of combining both methods is called Triangulation In the social sciences triangulation is often used in combining several research methods to study one subject However it is not in itself a method in the same way as a quantitative or qualitative approach with a specific paradigm Triangulation is a plan structure and investigation strategy deployed to obtain answers to problems identified at an earlier stage and is widely used by researchers due to its capability in cross checking the validity of findings and its minimal risk of bias This book details the triangulation approach through its use in a real research project Although there are a number of books which discuss general research guidelines and methods there is a notable lack of such books in social sciences which provide an example of integrating quantitative and qualitative methods in one research project As such the contents of this book will be useful to students academicians and practitioners conducting research work
