Natural Environment and Early Cultures, 1964

The Cambridge History of the Native Peoples of the Americas

Bruce G. Trigger, Wilcomb E. Washburn, Richard E. W. Adams, Murdo J. MacLeod, Frank Salomon, Stuart B. Schwartz, 1996

Library holds volume 2 part 2 only The Mesoamerican World System, 200-1200 CE Peter Jiménez, 2020-08-27 This is the first application of the comparative approach of world systems analysis in Mesoamerican archaeology The Frontier

Mission and Social Transformation in Western Honduras Nancy Johnson Black, 2016-05-18 The Frontier Mission and Social Transformation in Western Honduras deals with the interaction between Mercedarian missionaries and the indigenous Lenca Indian population of western Honduras during the early sixteenth to mid eighteenth centuries Using an anthropological perspective it relies heavily on previously neglected ecclesiastical archival material in conjunction with preliminary archaeological evidence as an integral source of data A fine grained description of the local processes of missionization in a frontier region examines the organization operation and goals of the Mercedarian mission province located in the colonial Audiencia of Guatemala Summary data concerning aspects of Lenca society and physical environment relevant to investigation of mission activities are provided The importance of this study lies in its ability to explain mission development in frontier settings as well as to trace transformations within a mission order over almost a 250 year period

Cultural Evolution Gary M. Feinman, Linda Manzanilla, 2012-12-06 Drawing on Kent Flannery's forty years of cross cultural research in the area the contributors to this collection reflect the current diversity of contemporary approaches to the study of cultural evolutionary processes Collectively the volume expresses the richness of the issues being investigated by comparative theorists interested in long term change as well as the wide variety of data approaches and ideas that researchers are employing to examine these questions Rediscovery of Cultural Landscapes in Southern China

Wallace P.H. Chang, 2023-04-28 This book investigates the concept of human landscape in rural settlements in Southern China where communities and their cultural landscapes are facing contemporary challenges following a period of rapid urbanization in the last 50 years While metropolitan cities such as Hong Kong are experiencing accelerated urban development underpopulated rural villages are struggling to maintain the cultural heritage of their regions Rediscovery of Cultural Landscapes in Southern China provides a detailed account into indigenous living cultures in traditional rural settlements upon natural landscapes Beginning with an overview of the theoretical framework the book presents six unique cases including Tai O Yim Tin Tsai Lai Chi Wo Nga Tsin Wai Cangdong and Meinong while illustrating a relevant comparison between Hakka and Satoyama landscape systems The spectrum of theoretical and case analyses allows for a rethinking of the evolving cultural landscape's positioning with valuable heritages in the context of a post industrial society The book is written towards reinterpreting the cultural landscape by conceptualizing the human landscape for scholars practitioners and students interested in rural cultural conservation and revitalization heritage management traditional architecture and landscape planning and urban rural development Yaxcabá and the Caste War of Yucatán Rani T. Alexander, 2004 Rani Alexander's study of the Caste War of Yucatan 1847-1901 uses archaeological evidence, ethnography, and history to explore the region's processes of resistance Carl Sauer on Culture and Landscape William M. Denevan, Kent Mathewson, 2009-05 Perhaps one of the most distinctive and studied geographers of the twentieth century Carl O Sauer 1889-1975 had influence that extends well beyond the confines of any one discipline With a focus on historical and cultural geography Sauer's essays have garnered praise from poets, natural historians, and social scientists alike who continue to explore Sauer's work In Carl Sauer on Culture and Landscape editors William M Denevan and Kent Mathewson have compiled thirty-seven of Sauer's original works including rare early writings, articles in now largely inaccessible publications, and transcriptions of key oral presentations that remain little known A student of the relationships between land and life, people and places, Sauer helped establish landscape studies in cultural geography and paved the way for paradigmatic shifts in the scholarly assessment of Native American history By strongly advocating a land ethic, a responsible stewardship of the sustaining earth for his own and for future generations, Carl Sauer supplied an esthetic rationale and a historical perspective to the environmental movement The volume opens with two extended essays on Sauer's critics and his works Essays by prominent geographers and other authorities on Sauer introduce each section of the book, adding a contemporary element to the presentation and interpretation of Sauer's life and scholarship in areas such as soil conservation, man in nature, and cultivated plants A complete bibliography of his publications and an extensive compilation of commentaries on his life and work make this an indispensable reference Carl Sauer on Culture and Landscape sheds new light on Sauer's contributions to the history of geographic thought, sustainable land use, and the importance of biological and cultural diversity, all of which remain key issues today Ecocriticism, Ecology, and the Cultures of Antiquity Christopher Schliephake, 2016-12-07 Although current environmental debates lay the focus on the Industrial Revolution as a sociopolitical development that has led to the current environmental crisis, many ecocritical projects have avoided historicizing their concepts or have been characterized by approaches that were either pre-historic or post-historic while the environmental movement has harbored the dream of restoring nature to a state untouched by human hands, there is also the pessimistic vision of a post-apocalyptic world exhausted by humanity's consumption of natural resources Against this background, the decline of nature has become a narrative template quite common among the public environmental discourse and environmental scientists alike The volume revisits Antiquity as an epoch which witnessed similar environmental problems and came up with its own interpretations and solutions in dealing with them This decidedly historical perspective is not only supposed to fill in a blank in ecocritical discourse but also to question, problematize, and inform our contemporary debates with a completely different take on nature and humanity's place in the world Thereby, a productive dialogue between contemporary ecocritical theories and the classical tradition is established that highlights similarities as well as differences This volume is the first book to bring ecocriticism and the classical tradition into a comprehensive dialogue It assembles recognized experts in the field and advanced scholars as well as young and aspiring ecocritics In order to ensure a dialogic exchange between the contributions the volume includes four response essays by established ecocritics which embed the sections within a larger theoretical and practical ecocritical framework and discuss the potential of including the pre modern world into our environmental debates
