Empire and Neoliberalism in Asia Vedi R. Hadiz, 2006-09-27 This book analyzes the overall effect of American primacy on social and political conflicts in Asia discussing how the post Cold War American agenda does not promote democratization in the region in contradiction to one of the major proclaimed aims of the proponents of the Pax Americana This team of renowned scholars argue that the US agenda can strengthen anti democratic impulses in Asian societies exacerbating and complicating existing domestic conflicts and struggles Empire and Neoliberalism in Asia also examines how the requirements of the War on Terror intersect with and reinforce those of transnationalized sections of American capital Drawing on country case studies this multidisciplinary book looks at the ramifications of the American Empire for the Asian region and will appeal to anyone interested in Asian politics international relations political economy development studies and sociology

The Transforming Spatial Organization in the Information Age Dadao Lu, 2024-11-04 This book provides a critical account a state of the art review as well as novel research methods of information technology development and the corresponding changes of socio economic spatial organization in China With the rapid development of the Internet over the past three decades the development of information technology and its impact on social economy have become an important frontier issue of human and economic geography Actually the influence of information technology is complex and dynamic involving almost all aspects of socio economic activities and our daily life It is also influencing the methods and disciplines that we use to understand it In general industrial development and regional management and innovation are the core contents of socio economic spatial organization Therefore changes in industrial clusters transportation logistics regional development and innovation urban planning and management and rural development under the background of the information age were analysed to understand the relationship among information revolution socio economic spatial organization and human and economic geography Primarily intended for scholars and graduate students across a range of disciplines such as geography urban rural planning information science urban science economics and sociology and people engaged in regional planning urban management and information management this book proves to be an innovative and up to date resource

In the Images of Development Tridib Banerjee, 2021-06-08 The urban legacy of the Global South since the colonial era and how sustainable development and environmental and social justice can be achieved Remarkably little of the expansive literature on development and globalization considers actual urban form and the physical design of cities as outcomes of these phenomena The development that has shaped historic transformations in urban form and urbanism and the consequent human experiences remains largely unexplored In this book Tridib Banerjee fills this void by linking the idea of development with those of urbanism urban form and urban design focusing primarily on the contemporary cities in the developing world the Global South and their intrinsic prospects in city design Further he examines the endogenous possibilities for the future design of these cities that may address growing inequality and the environmental crisis Banerjee deftly traces the urban legacy of the Global South from the beginning of the colonial era closely examining the economic political and ideological forces that influenced colonial and postcolonial development drawing from relevant experiences of different cities in the developing world and discussing the arguments for the historic parity of these cities with their Western counterparts Finally Banerjee considers essential notions of future city design that are grounded in the critical challenges of sustainable development equity environmental and social justice and diversity and how such outcomes can be achieved This book serves as the opening of a long overdue conversation among design development and planning scholars and practitioners and those interested in the urban development of the Global South

Differential Heterogenesis Alessandro Sarti, Giovanna Citti, David Piotrowski, 2022-07-15 This book describes about unlike usual differential dynamics common in mathematical physics heterogenesis is based on the assemblage of differential constraints that are different from point to point The construction of differential assemblages will be introduced in the present study from the mathematical point of view outlining the heterogeneity of the differential constraints and of the associated phase spaces that are continuously changing in space and time If homogeneous constraints well describe a form of swarm intelligence or crowd behaviour it reduces dynamics to automatisms by excluding any form of imaginative and creative aspect With this study we aim to problematize the procedure of homogeneization that is dominant in life and social science and to outline the dynamical heterogeneity of life and its affective semiotic social historical aspects Particularly the use of sub Riemannian geometry instead of Riemannian one allows to introduce disjointed and autonomous areas in the virtual plane Our purpose is to free up the dynamic becoming from any form of unitary and totalizing symmetry and to develop forms action thought by means of proliferation juxtaposition and disjunction devices After stating the concept of differential heterogenesis with the language of contemporary mathematics we will face the problem of the emergence of the semiotic function recalling the limitation of classical approaches Hjelmslev Saussure Husserl and proposing a possible genesis of it from the heterogenetic flow previously defined We consider the conditions under which this process can be polarized to constitute different planes of Content C and Expression E each one equipped with its own formed substances A possible but not unique process of polarization is constructed by means of spectral analysis that is introduced to individuate E C planes and their evolution The heterogenetic flow solution of differential assemblages gives rise to forms that are projected onto the planes offering a first referring system for the flow that constitutes a first degree of semiosis Mobility and Modernity in Women's Novels, 1850s-1930s W.

Parkins,2008-11-27 Analyzing novels by women writers from the 1850s to the 1930s this book argues that representations of mobility offer a fruitful way to explore the location of women within modernity and specifically the opportunities for or limitations on women s agency in this period considering the mobility of the female subject in the city and beyond

Technoscience and Citizenship: Ethics and Governance in the Digital Society Ana Delgado,2017-01-05 This book provides insights on how emerging technosciences come together with new forms of governance and ethical questioning Combining science and technologies and ethics approaches it looks at the emergence of three key technoscientific domains body enhancement technologies biometrics and technologies for the production of space exploring how human bodies and minds the movement of citizens and space become matters of technoscientific governance The emergence of new and digital technologies pose new challenges for representative democracy and existing forms of citizenship As citizens encounter and have to adapt to technological change in their everyday life new forms of conviviality and contestation emerge This book is a key reference for scholars interested in the governance of emerging technosciences in the fields of science and technology studies and ethics Routledge Handbook of Civil and Uncivil Society in Southeast Asia Eva Hansson,Meredith L.

Weiss,2023-02-28 The Routledge Handbook of Civil and Uncivil Society in Southeast Asia explores the nature and implications of civil society across the region engaging systematically with both theoretical approaches and empirical nuance for a systematic comparative and informative approach The handbook actively analyses the varying definitions of civil society critiquing the inconsistent scrutiny of this sphere over time It brings forth the need to reconsider civil society development in today s Southeast Asia including activist organisations and platforms composition claims resources and potential to effect sociopolitical change Structured in five parts the volume includes chapters written by an international set of experts analysing topics relating to civil society Spaces and platforms Place within politics Resources and tactics Identity formation and claims Advocacy The handbook highlights the importance of civil society as a domain for political engagement outside the state and parties across Southeast Asia as well as the prevalence and weight of uncivil dimensions It offers a well informed and comprehensive analysis of the topic and is an indispensable reference work for students and researchers in the fields of Asian Studies Asian Politics Southeast Asian Politics and Comparative Politics The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Funded by The Research Foundation for State University of New York USA and The Stockholm Center for Global Asia Sweden

Technology, Urban Space and the Networked Community Saswat Samay Das, Ananya Roy Pratihari, 2022-01-08 This collection stages a dynamic scholarly debate about the ambivalent workings of technocapitalism and humanism in urban spaces Such workings are intended to provide multiple forms of autonomy and empowerment but instead create intolerable contradictions that are experienced in the form of a slavish adherence to machines Representing the novelty of a post anthropocentric grammar this book points towards a new ethical and political praxis It challenges the anthropocentrism of bio politics and neoliberalism in order to express the constitutive potential of an eco sensible new earth

Citizenship in Contemporary Europe Michael Lister, 2008-05-12 This book seeks to analyse the impact of globalisation European integration mass migration changing patterns of political participation and welfare state provision upon citizenship in Europe Uniting theory with empirical examples the central theme of the book is that how we view such changes is dependent upon how we view citizenship theoretically The authors analyse the three main theoretical approaches to citizenship 1 classical positions liberal communitarian and republican primarily concerned with questions of rights and responsibilities 2 multiculturalist and feminist theories concerned with the question of difference and 3 postnational or cosmopolitan theories which emphasise how citizen rights and behaviours are increasingly located beyond the nation state Using these theoretical perspectives the second section of the book assesses four key social economic and political developments which pose challenges for citizenship in Europe migration political participation the w
