A Multidimensional and Cross-spherical Study of Cognitive Metaphorology Yi Sun, 2025-09-01 This book aims to illustrate and explain the Cognitive Metaphorology from experiential and cultural perspectives and highlights two prominent features of cognitive metaphor multidimensionality and cross sphere application This book demonstrates that embodied experience is the shared philosophical basis of commonalities underlying the similarities in these metaphors across Chinese and English national and cultural factors introduce variations in metaphors between the two languages The different cultural aspects revealed through metaphors related to human body parts emotions senses time colors and animals may appeal to academic readers interested in language studies or diverse cultures

Error Analysis in English Language Teaching Elvina Arapah, 2023-10-10 The use of language especially for second third languages or foreign languages is inseparable from errors in either oral or written use In analyzing these language errors the approach used is contrastively and non contrastively This book covers what is means by Error and Mistake types of language learning errors such as Global and Local Error In its taxonomies errors observed in the acquisition of English as a second language as 1 Overgeneralization 2 Ignorance of rule restriction 3 Incomplete application of rules and 4 False concepts hypothesized Sources of errors are divided into 1 Interference transfer 2 Intralingual transfer 3 Context of learning and 4 Communication strategies In conducting error analysis there are several procedures that can be used as a reference 1 Collecting a sample of learner language 2 identifying the errors 3 describing the errors and 4 explaining the errors Analysis of these language errors both oral and written is needed because the results of the analysis will indicate the treatment that can be done for language learning

Recent Perspectives on Task-Based Language Learning and Teaching Mohammad Ahmadian, María del Pilar García Mayo, 2017-12-04 The last three decades have witnessed a growth of interest in research on tasks from various perspectives and numerous books and collections of articles have been published focusing on the notion of task and its utility in different contexts Nevertheless what is lacking is a multi faceted examination of tasks from different important perspectives This edited volume with four sections of three chapters each views tasks and Task based Language Teaching TBLT from four distinct but complementary vantage points In the first section all chapters view tasks from a cognitive interactionist angle with each addressing one key facet of either cognition or interaction or both in different contexts CALL and EFL/ESL. Section two hinges on the idea that language teaching and learning is perhaps best conceptualized, understood and investigated within a complexity theory framework which accounts for the dynamicity and interrelatedness of the variables involved. Viewing TBLT from a sociocultural lens is what connects the chapters included in the third section. Finally, the fourth section views TBLT from pedagogical and curricular vantage points.

Anglophone Literature in Second-Language Teacher Education Justin Quinn, Gabriela Kleckova, 2021-03-15

Anglophone Literature in Second Language Teacher Education proposes new ways that literature and more generally culture can be used to educate future teachers of English as a second language. Arguing that the way literature is used in language teacher education can be transformed, the book foregrounds transnational approaches and shows how these can be applied in literature and cultural instruction to encourage intercultural awareness in future language educators. It draws on theoretical discussions from literary and cultural studies as well as applied linguistics and is an example of how these cross-discipline conversations can take place and thus help make second language teacher education (SLTE) programs more responsive to the challenges faced by future English language teachers. Written in the idiom of literary scholarship, the book uses ideas of intercultural studies that have gained widespread support at research level yet have not affected literature/cultural curricula in SLTE. As the first interdisciplinary study to suggest how SLTE programs can respond with curricula, this book will be of great interest for academics, scholars and postgraduate students in the fields of applied linguistics, L2 and foreign language education, teacher education and postgraduate TESOL. It has universal appeal, addressing teaching faculty in any third-level institution that prepares language teachers and includes literary studies in their curriculum as well as administrators in such organizations.

Insights into Senior Foreign Language Education Marek Derenowski, 2021-08-25

This book examines the unique characteristics of teaching foreign languages to senior learners. It discusses the potential age-related barriers and learning difficulties which may be encountered in senior foreign language education as well as solutions to overcome these challenges. The author describes the processes of human aging from different perspectives and introduces the concept of lifelong learning. The book proposes classroom practices, activities and materials that may be adopted when working with senior learners, which will prove useful to teachers and teacher trainers as well as to educational policymakers and planners. Furthermore, it describes potential modifications to educational programmes that may be introduced in order to eliminate affective barriers, making the learning material relevant and motivating and encouraging the use of adult learning strategies.

Teaching Grammar in Second Language Classrooms Hossein Nassaji, Sandra S. Fotos, 2011-03-17

Recent SLA research recognizes the necessity of attention to grammar and demonstrates that form-focused instruction is especially effective when it is incorporated into a meaningful communicative context. Designed specifically for second language teachers, this text identifies and explores the various options for integrating a focus on grammar and a focus on communication in classroom contexts and offers concrete examples of teaching activities for each option. Each chapter includes a description of the option, its theoretical and empirical background examples of activities illustrating in a non technical manner how it can be implemented in the classroom questions for reflection and a list of useful resources that teachers can consult for further information
