New Frontiers In Second Language Learning:

New Frontiers in Second Language Learning John H. Schumann, Nancy Stenson, 1974 New Frontiers in Foreign Language Education Central States Conference, 1980 Selected Papers Robert J. Di Pietro, William Frawley, Alfred Wedel, 1983 This volume represents the wide range of interests that comprise applied linguistics today Contains new approaches to such current topics as discourse analysis code switching second language acquisition and functional notational syllabi for language teaching Fluency in Native and Nonnative English Speech Sandra Götz, 2013-03-20 This book takes a new and holistic approach to fluency in English speech and differentiates between productive perceptive and nonverbal fluency The in depth corpus based description of productive fluency points out major differences of how fluency is established in native and nonnative speech It also reveals areas in which even highly advanced learners of English still deviate strongly from the native target norm and in which they have already approximated to it Based on these findings selected learners are subjected to native speakers ratings of seven perceptive fluency variables in order to test which variables are most responsible for a perception of oral proficiency on the sides of the listeners Finally language pedagogical implications derived from these findings for the improvement of fluency in learner language are presented This book is conceptually and methodologically relevant for corpus linguistics learner corpus research and foreign language teaching and learning A New Frontier in Korean as a Foreign Language Ho-min Sohn, 1995 Foreign and Second Language Learning William Littlewood, 1984-04-26 The relevance of language acquisition to the day to day concerns of teaching and learning languages Correction of Errors In English A Training Course Krushna Chandra Mishra, 2005 Resources in Education , 1991 Focus on the USA Edgar W. Schneider, 1996-02-29 This volume presents fifteen original research papers by renowned specialists in their respective fields A variety of research traditions are included such as dialect geography and sociolinguistics but also smaller sub fields such as the study of slang and perceptual dialectology Varieties studied include the South the Eastern Seaboard the Middle West African American English Cuban English and others A growing sense of unity in the discipline is reflected by recurring topics and methods across earlier boundaries between sub disciplines For instance computerized data and statistical analyses are standard tools nowadays and a few papers explicitly address the possibilities and limitations of these methods The study of variation and change of linguistic varieties has largely replaced earlier monolithic notions of dialect and the question of change in dialects the erosion of traditional speech forms under the impact of modern communication patterns and socio economic developments is investigated in several contributions In general a recent orientation towards the history and development of nonstandard varieties is reflected in the book several papers study diffusion patterns of linguistic forms or discuss the emergence of individual dialects or dialectal forms in a language contact framework Altogether the papers provide a lively illustration of and a fairly representative selection from ongoing high quality linguistic research into American English Impending Inquisitions in Humanities and Sciences Mohan Varkolu,MP Mallesh,Kranthi Priya Oruganti,2024-07-22 In an era of increasing specialization the need for cross disciplinary dialogue demands an integrated approach that transcends the artificial boundaries between disciplines Impending Inquisitions in Humanities and Sciences presents a groundbreaking tapestry of cutting edge research across the spectrum of humanities and sciences This volume presents a meticulously curated selection of research papers presented at the conference a forum where scholars from diverse fields English Mathematics Physics and Chemistry converged to engage in rigorous dialogue and push the boundaries of knowledge From the nuanced interpretations of literary texts to the elegant formulations of mathematical models from the awe inspiring revelations of physics to the meticulous experiments of chemistry each contribution challenges assumptions and provokes fresh perspectives This collection serves as a valuable resource for scholars students and academic fraternity with an insatiable curiosity about the world around us Teaching Pronunciation Marianne Celce-Murcia,Donna Brinton,Janet M. Goodwin,1996-10-13 This course includes an overview of current theory and practice The paperback edition offers current and prospective teachers of English a comprehensive treatment of pronunciation pedagogy drawing on current theory and practice The text provides an overview of teaching issues from the perspective of different methodologies and second language acquisition research It has a thorough grounding in the sound system of North American English and contains insights into how this sound system intersects with listening morphology and spelling It also contains diagnostic tools assessment measures and suggestions for syllabus design Discussion questions encourage readers to draw on their personal language learning teaching experiences as they assimilate the contents of each chapter Follow up exercises guide teachers in developing a range of classroom activities within a communicative framework New frontiers in second language learning John H. Schumann,1978 Georgetown University Round Table on Languages and Linguistics (GURT) 1994: Educational Linguistics, Cross-Cultural Communication, and Global Interdependence James E. Alatis,1995-03-03 The essays in this volume explore communication across cultures using an interdisciplinary approach to language teaching and learning mediated by the growing field of educational linguistics Topics include the use of English as a medium of wider communication and the growth of national varieties of English throughout the world An international array of distinguished contributors includes scholars from China Great Britain Hong Kong India Israel Nigeria Singapore Taiwan Ukraine and the United States This collection suggests that language diversity is a unifying force in a globally interdependent world Bridging the Gap between L2 Acquisition and Processing Filiz Cele,Sanaz Alizadeh Tabrizi,2024-10-04 This edited volume offers a critical review of recent research in both second language L2 acquisition and processing with a focus on understanding potential differences between L1 and L2 processing Examining the use of syntactic information functional morphology and semantic discourse cues during online sentence processing the book comprises six insightful chapters The first two chapters provide current findings on L2 processing of syntactic and discourse information particularly in resolving relative clause attachment ambiguity The subsequent two chapters shed light on L2 processing and acquisition of functional morphology while the final two chapters enrich our understanding of L2 speaking skills by integrating cognitive psychological and socio economic analyses with insights from speech act and politeness theories This collection not only provides valuable perspectives for researchers exploring the similarities and differences between L1 and L2 processing but also offers new perspectives for educators and students grappling with the complexities of L2 acquisition and instruction

Language: Social Psychological Perspectives H. Giles, W. P. Robinson, P. Smith, 2014-06-28 Provides a comprehensive review of the relationships between language and social behaviour The papers will be of interest not only to psychologists concerned with language and social behaviour but also to linguists sociologists and social workers anthropologists and psychiatrists

The languages of Malta Albert Gatt, 2018 The purpose of this volume is to present a snapshot of the state of the art of research on the languages of the Maltese islands which include spoken Maltese Maltese English and Maltese Sign Language Malta is a tiny but densely populated country with over 422 000 inhabitants spread over only 316 square kilometers It is a bilingual country with Maltese and English enjoying the status of official languages Maltese is a descendant of Arabic but due to the history of the island it has borrowed extensively from Sicilian Italian and English Furthermore local dialects still coexist alongside the official standard language The status of English as a second language dates back to British colonial rule and just as in other former British colonies a characteristic Maltese variety of English has developed To these languages must be added Maltese Sign Language which is the language of the Maltese Deaf community This was recently recognised as Malta's third official language by an act of Parliament in 2016 While a volume such as the present one can hardly do justice to all aspects of a diverse and complex linguistic situation even in a small community like that of Malta our aim in editing this book was to shed light on the main strands of research being undertaken in the Maltese linguistic context Six of the contributions in this book focus on Maltese and explore a broad range of topics including historical changes in the Maltese sound system syllabification strategies the interaction of prosody and gesture the constraints regulating t insertion the productivity of derivational suffixes and raising phenomena The study of Maltese English especially with the purpose of establishing the defining characteristics of this variety of English is a relatively new area of research Three of the papers in this volume deal with Maltese English which is explored from the different perspectives of rhythm the syntax of nominal phrases and lexical choice The last contribution discusses the way in which Maltese Sign Language LSM has evolved alongside developments in LSM research In summary we believe the present volume has the potential to present a unique snapshot of a complex linguistic situation in a geographically restricted area Given the nature and range of topics proposed the volume will likely be of interest to researchers in both theoretical and comparative linguistics as well as those working with experimental and corpus based methodologies Our hope is that the studies presented here will also serve to pave the way for further research on the languages of Malta encouraging researchers to also take new directions including the exploration of variation and sociolinguistic factors which while often raised as explanatory constructs in the papers presented here remain under researched

Linguistics Across Historical and Geographical Boundaries Dieter Kastovsky, A. J. Szwedek, Barbara Płoczińska, 1986

Evaluation in Foreign Language Education in the Middle East and North Africa Sahbi Hidri, Christine Coombe, 2016-09-27 This book presents evaluation cases from the Middle East and North Africa MENA context investigating the various facets of evaluation in different parts of the MENA region and beyond In 19 chapters it explores cases from Tunisia Saudi Arabia Egypt Sudan Syria the UAE Turkey Iran and Morocco The book highlights the impact of evaluation on a range of stakeholders arguing that it has repercussions at the individual societal economic cultural and political levels that it also has an ethical dimension and that it is tailored to people's needs helping them to remain abreast of the effectiveness and efficiency of programs Further the book explores controversial issues concerning different evaluation themes such as teacher and staff evaluation assessment practices text genre analysis evaluation assessment of productive skills textbook and ICT evaluation evaluation of ELT certificates and programs quality assurance ESP needs analysis assessment literacy and dynamic assessment It addresses key challenges such as who the right people to implement evaluation are and the appropriate use of evaluation results to avoid any misuse or harm to any stakeholder In closing the book calls for further research venues on the relevance of evaluation testing and assessment in the MENA context and beyond

Current Studies in Spanish Linguistics Héctor Campos, Fernando Martínez-Gil, 1992-03-01 In this invited volume experts in Spanish linguistics who subscribe to the Chomskyian theory of Universal Grammar along with the editors approach the general applicability of this model from the perspectives of their subdisciplines language acquisition syntax semantics phonology and morphology Their research points to the verification of the Chomskyian linguistic theory as a general framework for explaining phenomena in language acquisition and use and more generally to the possible development of a model of mind based on linguistic theory Current Studies in Spanish Linguistics will interest all specialists in Spanish and theoretical linguistics as well as those interested in cognitive science psychology philosophy of mind and artificial intelligence

Contexts of Accommodation Howard Giles, Justine Coupland, Nikolas Coupland, 1991-09-27 In Contexts of Accommodation accommodation theory is presented as a basis for sociolinguistic explanation and it is the applied perspective that predominates this edited collection The book seeks to demonstrate how the core concepts and relationships invoked by accommodation theory are available for addressing altogether pragmatic concerns
