

The New School

The vacations had finally come to an end, and with the start of IGCSE, I was more nervous than ever. I remember having countless sleepless nights before the first day of school. My mind was poisoned with negative thoughts about my new school as I wanted to return to my old school at any cost. Leaving all your friendships behind that you worked so hard to maintain was no easy task, especially for an introvert like myself. The day was here. Waking up to what seemed to be doomsday, I put on my clothes as tears trickled down my eyes. I bid my old friends and memories farewell and set ahead to start a new chapter in my life... high school.

As I got out of the car, I was in awe at how the school looked. It was a mix of Arabian architecture like a medieval castle, with sandstone walls as high as the walls of Istanbul and a mosque-like minaret right in the middle. These details lightened up my sorrowful mood. Upon entering I saw students lined up in rows wearing neat uniforms, almost like chess pieces on a stationary board. The school had two Sections, the girl's section and the boy's section which were further divided up into Elementary, Middle, and High school. It is safe to say that I got lost in such a big school as I simply was not used to it, fortunately, I found my class with some assistance from a teacher.

The class was well facilitated with a Touch screen tv bigger than a football goal, central air conditioning systems and a softboard with educational information and class rules hanging there. As I was a new student, the homeroom teacher asked me to introduce myself. I said in a whimpering voice, "Hello everyone, my name is Haris Jamil. I am from Pakistan, and I am eager to have a wonderful, fun-filled year with you all." A few lessons went on until it was time for recess. Some students approached me and asked me if I would like to be shown around to which I instantly agreed.

They took me to many places in the school such as the gym, football stadium, basketball court and most surprisingly, a horse stable with a whole parkour course. Never in my fourteen years had I ever seen a horse-riding academy inside a school. It was magical seeing the students riding snow-white horses with their beautiful mains flowing in the wind.

I had an immense amount of fun playing football with my new friends and learning interesting concepts. I think it's fair to say that I came in, I wanted to leave but now once I am going home, I want to stay.
