The Evolution of Law and the State in Europe Spyridon Flogaitis, 2014-11-06 Most books about public power and the state deal with their subject from the point of view of legal theory sociology or political science This book without claiming to deliver a comprehensive theory of law and state aims to inform by offering a fresh reading of history and institutions particularly as they have developed in continental Europe and European political and legal science Drawing on a remarkably wide range of sources from both Western and Eastern Europe the author suggests that only by knowing the history of the state and state administration since the twelfth century can we begin to comprehend the continuing importance of the state and public powers in modern Europe In an era of globalization when the importance of international law and institutions frequently lead to the claim that the state either no longer exists or no longer matters the truth is in fact more complex We now live in an era where the balance is shifting away from the struggle to build states based on democratic values towards fundamental values existing above and beyond the borders of nations and states under the watchful gaze of judges bound by the rule of law

The Importance of Neglect in Policy-Making Michiel S. de Vries, 2010-01-13 De Vries argues that it is possible to explain when and in what direction policy change is likely to occur He argues that what is neglected at present is likely to become dominant in policies of the near future With the birth of a new policy generation a convergence towards meeting the dominant value of that generation will become evident

State and Administration in Japan and Germany Michio Muramatsu, Frieder Naschold, 2013-02-06

No detailed description available for State and Administration in Japan and Germany      Proceedings of the International Conference on Sustainable Collaboration in Business, Technology, Information, and Innovation (SCBTII 2024) Suhal Kusairi, Forget Mingiri Kapingura, Putri Fariska Sugestie, Nizam Ahmat, 2024-11-16 This is an open access book Global growth has lost momentum On average GDP growth has declined from more than 2% in advanced economies and nearly 6% in emerging and developing economies in the early 2000s to less than 1.5% and less than 2% post COVID period A succession of crises has compounded this sustained slowdown in growth It has been more than a decade since the beginning of the global financial crisis yet it continues to cast a shadow not least in the policy choices of many advanced economies The COVID 19 pandemic and the shock of lockdowns left behind an aftermath of a surge in public debt levels and a reversal of global development progress Geopolitical tensions and conflicts have further reshaped an increasingly multipolar international order with far reaching implications for technology growth and development Overshadowing these developments is the growing awareness that the world's rising temperature poses grave dangers to the long term prospects for humanity with the world currently on track for a temperature rise significantly above the targets set out in the Paris Agreement in 2015 The critical question for this pivotal moment is not whether the world still needs economic growth but how that growth is achieved and whether it is aligned with other important national and global priorities Against this backdrop universities are essential in educating and providing professional human resources and conducting high quality research that benefits humanity However universities must play a significant role and be innovative and creative in engaging and supporting the development opportunities and consolidation of the global community To embark on this role effectively universities must always foster communication and discussion among stakeholders under the Sustainability Development Goals SDGs Academia Government Business and Communities must increasingly cooperate to achieve academic and research excellence and constructive solutions to current business and economic issues Sustainable Collaboration in Business Information and Innovation SCBTII 2024 is an international conference that brings together academics professionals entrepreneurs researchers learners and other associated groups from all over the world that are interested in theories as well as practices in the field of the digital economy for global competitiveness This conference provides opportunities for presenters and participants to exchange new ideas and experiences create research relationships and find international partners for future collaboration to respond to economic business social and technological development challenges successfully and effectively for better life and well being      Sustainable Urban Development Volume 3 Ron Vreeker, Mark Deakin, Stephen Curwell, 2009-01-21 The third volume of the Sustainable Urban Development Series outlines the BEQUEST toolkit that helps link protocol with the assessment methods currently available for evaluating the sustainability of urban development It details the decision support mechanisms developed for users of the system to guide them in selecting the appropriate assessment methods for a variety of evaluations This book provides case studies drawn from locations across Europe and also provides best practice examples demonstrating those protocols that planners property developers and design and construction professionals have followed and how they have selected the assessment methods they need to best evaluate the sustainability of cities districts neighbourhoods and buildings      Reinventing Government in the Information Age Richard Heeks,2001 Featuring practical guidance and analytical analysis this work reviews the role of information systems in public sector reform and includes case studies from USA UK Europe and developing countries      GOVERNANCE FOR DEVELOPMENT PARDEEP SAHNI,UMA MEDURY,2002-01-01 This well presented collection with contributions from academics and administrators reflects the growing concern towards the present day practice of governance It focuses on the need for Governance for Sustainable Human Development to manage the country s social as well as economic resources leading to better development founded on four pillars of Accountability Transparency Predictability and Participation It thus calls for unfolding various issues and devising suitable strategies towards humane governance through appropriate political bureaucratic economic and legal reforms Highlighting its theme in the initial chapters in the New Public Management perspective the book goes on to unravel the major administrative loopholes in Indian administration such as lack of transparency and accountability and the stranglehold of corruption all of which lead to human deprivation Later chapters give a synoptic overview of administrative reforms so far undertaken in India and emphasize the effectiveness of governance in establishing appropriate balance in relative roles of public private and civil society organizations rights and responsibilities of politicians bureaucrats and community and economic and social justice The book closes on a positive note strongly reiterating administrative re engineering to meet the challenges of the twenty first century for ensuring a holistic development of the country Recent and real life happenings infused in the text to substantiate arguments make it an interesting reading The book will be of immense use to the students and teachers of public administration social science political science and those who practise public administration It will also be useful to a large number of government departments both at the union and the state levels      Public Management Reform in Turkey Fatih Demir,2020-02-24 This book discusses the Europeanization of Turkish public administration since the early 2000s offering an analysis of the transformation and basic features and problems of Turkish public administration in relation to the EU accession process The book consists of six chapters and a conclusion The first chapter sets the stage by evaluating the public administration reforms in Turkey from the perspective of Europeanization and the European Administrative Space EAS The second chapter discusses the administrative procedures based on the European Union s Charter of Fundamental Rights and explains the EU s relationship with accountable government and democracy The third and fourth chapters examine the steps taken to improve civic participation in decision making processes and assess local governance reforms in Turkey with reference to Europeanization processes and the policy windows approach developed by Kingdon The next chapter addresses regionalization in Europe and its parallels in Turkey especially in the context of the foundation of regional development agencies Lastly the book presents the reactions to the fragmentation of government envisaged by New Public Management NPM reforms and describes practices beyond fashioning an integrated administration It also explores the transformation of the executive organ in terms of its change in status in relation to other centers of political power The conclusion provides an overview of the apparent oscillation of Turkish public administration in the 21st century in terms of Europeanization processes This book is useful for academics studying public administration public management reforms Turkish politics and the European Union as well as government and diplomatic professionals in Turkey and the EU especially those dealing with enlargement issues
