Peenemunde Raid The Night Of 17 18 August 1943:

The Peenemünde Raid, the Night of 17-18 August 1943 Martin Middlebrook, 1983 Describes a precision bombing raid by the RAF against the Nazi rocket research center in Peenemunde The Peenemünde Raid Martin Middlebrook, 2006-02-16 The author of The First Day on the Somme recounts Operation Hydra the British bombing on a Nazi army research center during World War II On the night of August 17 18 1943 RAF Bomber Command attacked a remote research establishment on the German Baltic coast The site was Peenemunde where Hitler's scientists were developing both the V 1 flying bomb and the V 2 rocket whose destructive powers could have swung the course of the war The raid was meticulously planned and hopes were high But the night sky was so cloudless that the British bombers presented an easy target for German night fighters and over 40 were lost Martin Middlebrook draws on the memories of over 400 people involved in the dramatic events on that night RAF and Luftwaffe aircrew German personnel at the research site and foreign laborers who had been forced to work there The result is a truly compelling account of this hazardous attempt to disrupt Hitler's V weapons program The Crucible of War, 1939-1945 Brereton Greenhous, Sydney F. Wise, Canada. Department of National Defence, Canada. Royal Canadian Air Force, Stephen J. Harris, William C. Johnston, William C. Rawling, 1994-01-01 The RCAF with a total strength of 4061 officers and men on 1 September 1939 grew by the end of the war to a strength of more than 263 000 men and women This important and well illustrated new history shows how they contributed to the resolution of the most significant conflict of our time The RAF's Youngest Bomber Pilot of WW2 Graham Waterton, 2024-08-30 Having left his grammar school just before his 16th birthday Brian Slade falsified his age to pursue his dream of becoming a pilot Within a few days of his 17th birthday he was awarded his wings It was the start of this teenager's remarkable wartime career Soon after being awarded his pilot's brevet Brian was posted to his first squadron Flying the venerable Vickers Wellington he found himself experimenting with early target marking techniques It was also there that Brian gained the nickname The Boy Slade Though Brian's journey through the wartime RAF mirrored the experiences of tens of thousands of young men what was different if not unique was the fact before he had turned 18 which was the minimum age to begin aircrew training Brian had already completed thirty four operations more than was needed for a tour This tally included the three 1 000 bomber raids against Cologne Essen and Bremen He was awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross for nursing his badly damaged Wellington which sustained flak and night fighter damage home after a raid on Bremen Undaunted Brian soon after volunteered for his second tour of operations It was at this stage that he joined the Lancaster equipped 83 Squadron in the newly formed 8 Group becoming an experienced Pathfinder skipper It was a role in which he marked targets in the Battle of the Ruhr the bombing of Hamburg Operation Gomorrah and the Peenemunde raid The RAF's Youngest Bomber Pilot of WW2 told by his nephew a former officer in the British Army details all of Brian's fifty nine missions and captures his compelling progress with Bomber Command alongside the technological advances in aircraft pathfinder strategy and tactics Sadly Brian s Lancaster was shot down over Berlin in August 1943 The details of its loss remained shrouded in mystery until the puzzle of his aircraft s demise was eventually solved by tracing the family of the only survivor The relentless dangers not just in operations but also in training and the continuous loss of life are drawn into sharp focus But on account of his age Brian s story is unique There may have never been nor will ever be an RAF pilot of 19 years old with his flying and operational experience Complemented with a collection of previously unpublished photographs The RAF s Youngest Bomber Pilot of WW2 is one of the Second World War s most amazing tales World War II Spencer C. Tucker,2016-09-06 With more than 1 700 cross referenced entries covering every aspect of World War II the events and developments of the era and myriad related subjects as well as a documents volume this is the most comprehensive reference work available on the war This encyclopedia represents a single source of authoritative information on World War II that provides accessible coverage of the causes course and consequences of the war Its introductory overview essays and cross referenced A Z entries explain how various sources of friction culminated in a second worldwide conflict document the events of the war and why individual battles were won and lost and identify numerous ways the war has permanently changed the world The coverage addresses the individuals campaigns battles key weapons systems strategic decisions and technological developments of the conflict as well as the diplomatic economic and cultural aspects of World War II The five volume set provides comprehensive information that gives readers insight into the reasons for the war s direction and outcome Readers will understand the motivations behind Japan s decision to attack the United States appreciate how the concentration of German military resources on the Eastern Front affected the war s outcome understand the major strategic decisions of the war and the factors behind them grasp how the Second Sino Japanese War contributed to the start of World War II and see the direct impact of new military technology on the outcomes of the battles during the conflict The lengthy documents volume represents a valuable repository of additional information for student research The Origins of Surface-to-Air Guided Missile Technology James Mills,2024-01-05 Author James Mills presents an amazing detailed history review of the German surface to air guided missile technology development Military Review World War II saw the appearance of numerous revolutionary armaments on both sides of the conflict that would radically change the nature of warfare from jet aircraft to the ballistic missile and the atomic bomb The greatest conflagration in history also saw the conception of the first surface to air guided missile systems technology pioneered by German scientists and engineers through an extensive development program which ran from 1942 to 1945 Although the program did not achieve its main objective to introduce a functional weapon system into the Luftwaffe air defense network German research and development in most aspects of the technology was ahead of comparable research in the United Kingdom and the United States The history of the transfer of German SAM technology to the Allies after 1945 has previously been overshadowed by the well published transfers of the V 1 and V 2 guided missiles This book presents the first complete history of Germany s wartime development of surface to air missile

SAM technology how the Allies acquired this secret research towards the end of World War II in Europe and in the early postwar period and how they then exploited this knowledge The Bomber Command War Diaries Martin

Middlebrook, Chris Everitt, 2014-04-02 The essential WWII historical reference detailing RAF Bomber Command's extensive campaign of strategic bombings across occupied Europe The Royal Air Force Bomber Command's strategic bombing campaign started on the first day of the Second World War and ended five and a half years later with the final victory in Europe It was a campaign of such enormous scale that historians have only recently begun to piece together the finer details of the individual raids Aviation historian Martin Middlebrook and his research colleague Chris Everitt were the first to compile a complete review of all the raids and their background stories The Bomber Command War Diaries not only documents every Bomber Command operation but also details their effects on the ground drawing on local archives from Germany Italy and the occupied countries It is a groundbreaking work on historical research bringing together the two sides of Bomber Command's war This edition includes retrospective observations and a new appendix Bomber Command Airfields of Yorkshire Peter Jacobs, 2017-05-30 As part of the Aviation Heritage Trail series the accomplished military author and former RAF Officer Peter Jacobs takes us to the county of Yorkshire and to its many bomber airfields of the Second World War From the opening day of hostilities RAF Bomber Command took the offensive to Nazi Germany and played a leading role in the liberation of Europe Yorkshires airfields played a key part throughout initially as home to the Whitley squadrons of No 4 Group and then to the four engine Halifax heavy bombers indeed Bomber Command's first night operation of the war was flown from one of the county's many bomber airfields Then as the bombing offensive gathered pace Yorkshire welcomed the new all Canadian No 6 RCAF Group after which all of Bomber Command's major efforts during the hardest years of 1943-44 against the Ruhr Hamburg and Berlin involved the Yorkshire based squadrons Most of Yorkshires wartime bomber airfields have long gone but many have managed to retain the flying link with their wartime past For example the former RAF airfields of Finningley and Middleton St George and the factory airfield of Yeadon are now the sites of international airports while Brighton Burn Full Sutton Pocklington and Rufforth are still used for light aircraft flying or gliding and Elvington is home to the magnificent Yorkshire Air Museum From airfields such as these came countless acts of personal courage and self sacrifice with two men being awarded the Victoria Cross Britains highest award for gallantry Stories of both men are included as are tales of other personalities who brought these airfields to life The stories of thirty three airfields are told in total with a brief history of each accompanied by details of how to find them and what remains of them today Whatever your interest be it aviation history or more local the county of Yorkshire has rightly taken its place in the history of Bomber Command The Peenemünde Wind Tunnels Peter P. Wegener, 1996-01-01 In 1943 on orders from the German Air Ministry young physicist Peter P Wegener left the Russian front and reported to the Baltic village of Peenemünde His assignment was to work at the supersonic wind tunnels of the rocket laboratories of the German Army Here Wernher

von Braun led a team that developed the V 2 the world's first large rocket powered guided missile and laid much of the groundwork for postwar rocket development In this fascinating book Wegener recounts his experiences during Hitler's time World War II and his years at Peenemünde He tells how he was working one night in August 1943 when the Allies bombed the laboratories but left the wind tunnels undamaged The tunnels were moved to Bavaria and Wegener was ordered to follow in 1944 After the war the tunnels were moved again this time to the United States accompanied by the author and other German scientists Shortly before the end of the war Wegener visited Germany's underground V 2 production plant to retrieve archival material on aerodynamics that had been stored in caves for safekeeping He describes the appalling history of the concentration camps where SS guards watched over inmates who toiled underground in inhuman conditions and often did not survive A photoessay enhances this remarkable memoir

Flyers Far Away Michael Enright, 2025-06-06 First one volume history covering Australian airmen in World War II No Prouder Place David L. Bashow, 2005 No Prouder Place provides a fresh and objective look at the bombing campaign by emphasizing the highly significant role it played in defeating the Axis powers It is a story of sustained courage in the face of daunting odds as well as a celebration of the Canadian aircrew experience and its place in wartime Bomber Command The text contains scores of original recollections from the veterans themselves interwoven with material from primary archival and secondary sources It is illustrated with original art work by Ron Lowry including colour side profiles of selected Bomber Command from RCAF units and Luftwaffe aircraft

RAF Handbook 1939-1945 David Wragg, 2007-01-18 It opens with a brief history of the service followed by a chapter that reviews its situation on the outbreak of war The chapters that follow look at the structure of the RAF from the Air Ministry and Chief of the Air Staff down to squadron level to include each of the Commands including Transport Command a creation of the war years The main aircraft types used are listed as well as a full listing of squadrons and airfields in the British Isles The training of personnel and such matters as uniforms rank insignia medals and life on a typical airfield are also covered

The main battles or campaigns in which the service was involved are also described Germany at War David T. Zabecki, 2014-10-28 Written by experts for use by nonexperts this monumental work probes Germany's Genius for War and the unmistakable pattern of tactical and operational innovation and excellence evident throughout the nation's military history Despite having the best military forces in the world some of the most advanced weapons available and unparalleled tactical proficiency Germany still lost both World Wars This landmark four volume encyclopedia explores how and why that happened at the same time examining Germany as a military power from the start of the Thirty Years War in 1618 to the present day Coverage includes the Federal Republic of Germany its predecessor states and the kingdoms and principalities that combined to form Imperial Germany in 1871 The Seven Years War is discussed as are the Napoleonic Wars the Wars of German Unification including the Franco Prussian War World War I World War II and the Cold War In all more than 1 000 entries illuminate battles organizations leaders armies weapons and other aspects of war and military life The most comprehensive overview of German military history ever to appear in English this work will enable students and others interested in military history to better understand the sociopolitical history of Germany the complex role conflict has played in the nation throughout its history and why Germany continues to be an important player on the European continent

Operation Crossbow 1944 Steven J. Zaloga, 2018-07-26 In mid 1943 Allied intelligence began to pick up the signs of unusual German construction in remote locations near the Channel Coast Several massive fortifications were beginning to take shape and they appeared to be oriented towards London Allied intelligence codenamed these sites as Crossbow and began plans to attack them before they could bombard Britain's capital city These Heavy Crossbow sites for the V 1 and V 2 missiles were supposed to be bomb proof but they soon attracted the attention of RAF heavy bombers with the new Tallboy concrete penetrating bombs Fully illustrated with commissioned artwork and contemporary photographs Operation Crossbow 1944 examines the dynamics of the world's first missile war It also describes the parallel American efforts to develop missiles and assault drones to attack the Heavy Crossbow sites including the Air Force's Aphrodite and Navy Anvil projects

Madame Fourcade's Secret War Lynne Olson, 2020-03-03 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER The little known true story of Marie Madeleine Fourcade the woman who headed the largest spy network in occupied France during World War II from the bestselling author of Citizens of London and Last Hope Island Brava to Lynne Olson for a biography that should challenge any outdated assumptions about who deserves to be called a hero The Washington Post NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY NPR AND THE WASHINGTON POST In 1941 a thirty one year old Frenchwoman a young mother born to privilege and known for her beauty and glamour became the leader of a vast intelligence organization the only woman to serve as a chef de resistance during the war Strong willed independent and a lifelong rebel against her country's conservative patriarchal society Marie Madeleine Fourcade was temperamentally made for the job Her group's name was Alliance but the Gestapo dubbed it Noah's Ark because its agents used the names of animals as their aliases The name Marie Madeleine chose for herself was Hedgehog a tough little animal unthreatening in appearance that as a colleague of hers put it even a lion would hesitate to bite No other French spy network lasted as long or supplied as much crucial intelligence including providing American and British military commanders with a 55 foot long map of the beaches and roads on which the Allies would land on D Day as Alliance The Gestapo pursued them relentlessly capturing torturing and executing hundreds of its three thousand agents including Fourcade's own lover and many of her key spies Although Fourcade the mother of two young children moved her headquarters every few weeks constantly changing her hair color clothing and identity she was captured twice by the Nazis Both times she managed to escape once by slipping naked through the bars of her jail cell and continued to hold her network together even as it repeatedly threatened to crumble around her Now in this dramatic account of the war that split France in two and forced its people to live side by side with their hated German occupiers Lynne Olson tells the fascinating story of a woman who stood up for her nation her fellow citizens and herself Fast paced and impressively researched Olson writes with verve and a historian's authority With this gripping tale Lynne Olson pays Marie Madeleine Fourcade what history has so far denied her France slow to confront the stain of Vichy would do well to finally honor a fighter most of us would want in our foxhole The New York Times Book Review

Operation Crossbow Allan Williams, 2013-05-30 The story of the photographic intelligence work undertaken from a country house at Medmenham Buckinghamshire is one of the great lost stories of the Second World War At its peak in 1944 almost 2 000 British and American men and women worked at the top secret Danesfield House interpreting photographs the majority stereoscopic so they could be viewed in 3D to unlock secrets of German military activity and weapons development Millions of aerial photographs were taken by Allied pilots flying unarmed modified Spitfires and Mosquitos on missions over Nazi Europe it was said that an aircraft could land the photographs be developed and initial interpretation completed within two hours marking the culmination of years of experiments in aerial intelligence techniques Their finest hour began in 1943 during the planning stages of the Allied invasion of Europe when Douglas Kendall who masterminded the interpretation work at Medmenham led the hunt for Hitler's secret weapons Operation Crossbow would grow from a handful of photographic interpreters to the creation of a hand picked team and came to involve interpreters from across the Medmenham spectrum including the team of aircraft specialists led by the redoubtable Constance Babington Smith In November that year whilst analysing photographs of Peenemunde in northern Germany they spotted a small stunted aircraft on a ramp This intelligence breakthrough linked the Nazi research station with a growing network of sites in northern France where ramps were being constructed aligned not only with London but targets throughout southern Britain Through the combined skill and dedication of the Crossbow team and the heroism of the Allied pilots throughout late 1943 and 1944 V weapon launch sites were located and through countermeasures destroyed saving hundreds of thousands of lives and changing the course of the war Operation Crossbow is a wonderful story of human endeavour and derring do told for the first time Normandy Olivier

Wieviorka, 2008 The Allied landings on the coast of Normandy have assumed legendary status But overly romanticizing D day Wieviorka argues loses sight of the full picture Normandy offers a balanced complete account that reveals the successes and weaknesses of the titanic enterprise The Official History of the Joint Intelligence Committee Michael S.

Goodman, 2014-06-20 Volume One of the Official History of the Joint Intelligence Committee draws upon a range of released and classified papers to produce the first authoritative account of the way in which intelligence was used to inform policy For almost 80 years the Joint Intelligence Committee JIC has been a central player in the secret machinery of the British Government providing a co ordinated intelligence service to policy makers drawing upon the work of the intelligence agencies and Whitehall departments Since its creation reports from the JIC have contributed to almost every key foreign policy decision taken by the British Government This volume covers the evolution of the JIC since 1936 and culminates with its role in the events of Suez in 1956 This book will be of much interest to students of intelligence studies British politics
