Mediapolitik Lee Edwards, 2001 Drawing upon his lifelong study of politics and journalism political historian Lee Edwards offers the first scholarly examination of a powerful new phenomenon in world politics the mass media Edwards argues in his far ranging and innovative work that the media have become as important a factor in determining the course of international affairs and the future of nations as economic prosperity military strength natural resources and national will The author calls this vital new component of world politics mediapolitik He uses case studies from around the world to show how the mass media have influenced and even determined the outcome of major political acts such as the collapse of communism in Eastern and Central Europe the Tiananmen Square massacre in China the ousting of Chilean dictator Augusto Pinochet and the political resurrection of South Africa s Nelson Mandela The author argues that these case studies show that the mass media can either enrich or enslave the human spirit depending upon their moral foundation If the media follow a liberal democratic model as in the United States and Western Europe they contribute to a free and just society If they follow an authoritarian model as in South Africa before Mandela or a totalitarian model as in Saddam Hussein s Iraq or Fidel Castro s Cuba they perpetuate the regime in power and deny the fruits of freedom and democracy to the people Edwards addresses the question of how responsibly the American media the most influential media in the world handle their enormous power Using the results obtained from his survey of 100 leading journalists as well as close analysis of major news stories of the last decade the author confirms the rampant cynicism of the American media and its deleterious effect on American politics and government The solution he suggests is that American journalists must practice moral responsibility and strengthen the liberal democratic model of mediapolitik around the world

abstract The relation between media and society is very interesting and complex in its nature As society is dynamic and heterogeneous and as well media technology is non sleeping and pluralistic it needs always research to understand the relationship between the two Thus no theory solely can describe the relation between media and society The available evidences shows the connection between media and society are contextual across time and place and heterogeneous across societies and media type The following six perspectives summarizes the nexus between media and society Firstly Media created the notion of mass society secondly as critical school thought based on Marxist view media are capitalist controlled for suppressing the poor Thirdly media are functioning or dysfunction institution of society Fourthly media is a social conscience which constructs reality Fifthly media technology effects change in society Lastly media transformed the human history to the new stage called Information society In a true pluralist environment media has power to serve as a public sphere to control powerful groups the problem is media could be dominated by other powerful groups and may serve as suppression tool Media fail to represent all cultures cultural groups and individuals from the processes and the contents of media production if it is dominated by the oppressors This marginalization is continuing in the new media virtual world too Thus the media and society relations always needs research and critical understanding as their power functions and dysfunctions societies across time and geography as a societal phenomenon are very dynamic      Media & Minorities

DiMaggio, 2017-02-21 Tracking the effects of media content on the public is a difficult endeavor and media effects vary on a subject to subject basis To address this challenge The Politics of Persuasion employs a multifaceted mixed method approach to studying mass media and public attitudes Anthony R DiMaggio analyzes more than a dozen case studies covering US domestic economic policy and examines a wide range of theories of how bias operates in mass media with regard to coverage of these issues While some research claims that journalists are overly negative and biased against government officials some reveals that journalists favor citizens groups Still other studies contend there is a liberal bias in the media a progovernment bias or a bias in favor of advertisers and business interests Through his analysis DiMaggio is the first to systematically examine all of these competing interpretations He concludes that reporters tailor stories to corporate and government interests but argues that the ability to manufacture consent from the public in favor of these elite views is far from guaranteed According to DiMaggio citizens often make use of their own personal experiences and prior attitudes to challenge official narratives      Mass Media James B.
