Politics In Land And Water Management Study In Kilimanjaro Tanzania:

Political Thought and the Public Sphere in Tanzania Emma Hunter, 2015-04-27 Political Thought and the Public Sphere in Tanzania is a study of the interplay of vernacular and global languages of politics in the era of decolonization in Africa. Decolonization is often understood as a moment when Western forms of political order were imposed on non-Western societies, but this book draws attention instead to debates over universal questions about the nature of politics, concept of freedom, and the meaning of citizenship. These debates generated political narratives that were formed in dialogue with both global discourses and local political arguments. The United Nations Trust Territory of Tanganyika, now mainland Tanzania, serves as a compelling example of these processes. Starting in 1945 and culminating with the Arusha Declaration of 1967, Emma Hunter explores political argument in Tanzania's public sphere to show how political narratives succeeded when they managed to combine promises of freedom with new forms of belonging at local and national level.

Water Brings No Harm Matthew V. Bender, 2019-04-09 In Water Brings No Harm, Matthew V. Bender explores the history of community water management on Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania. Kilimanjaro's Chagga-speaking peoples have long managed water by employing diverse knowledge, hydrological, technological, social, cultural, and political. Since the 1850s, they have encountered groups from beyond the mountain: colonial officials, missionaries, settlers, the independent Tanzanian state, development agencies, and climate scientists who have understood water differently. Drawing on the concept of waterscapes—a term that describes how people see water and how physical water resources intersect with their own beliefs, needs, and expectations—Bender argues that water conflicts should be understood as struggles between competing forms of knowledge. Water Brings No Harm encourages readers to think about the origins and interpretation of knowledge and development in Africa and the global south. It also speaks to the current global water crisis, proposing a new model for approaching sustainable water development worldwide.

Planning and the Case Study Method in Africa James Duminy, Jørgen Andreasen, Fred Lerise, 2014-10-02 This book addresses the relevance of the case study research methodology for enhancing urban planning research and education in Africa and the global South. It provides an introduction to the case study methodology and features examples of its application to planning research and education on the continent.

Handbook of Research Methods and Applications in Urban Economies Peter Karl Kresl, Jaime Sobrino, 2013-01-01 I highly recommend students, teachers, and researchers to enjoy reading this set of excellent papers. Boris Graizbord, El Colegio de México, Mexico. It is obvious that cities have long been the focus of analysis by the scholars and practitioners whose writings are published in the Kresl Sobrino Handbook of Research Methods and Applications in Urban Economies. The depth and excellence of the numerous topics examined reflects effective networking between the scholars involved, their analyses of approaches, problems, and potentials of cities on the numerous continents, and the continuing role of the Global Urban Competitiveness Project in encouraging the development of methodologies and data helpful in understanding the hard and soft determinants of the growth and decline of cities Pierre Paul Proulx Universit de Montr al Canada This collection of essays provides a rich assortment of methods used to investigate the complex economic social environmental demographic and political systems in cities throughout the world It gives researchers lecturers and students a useful taste of the different ways of studying these phenomena in diverse urban settings Ivan Turok University of Glasgow UK In this timely Handbook seventeen renowned contributors from Asia the Americas and Europe provide chapters that deal with some of the most intriguing and important aspects of research methodologies on cities and urban economies The Handbook comprises five parts methodology continental distinctions positioning cities planning for the future and urban structures The methodologies section includes interviews empirical and theoretical approaches whilst continental distinctions offers contributions on China North America Europe Latin America and South Africa Positioning treats cities in the international context and relates them to economic and administrative spaces whilst planning includes general strategic economic planning as well as the experience of individual cities Finally the structures section refers to contextual and situational aspects of urban development Providing a comprehensive study of urban development and competitiveness this Handbook will strongly appeal to students wishing to gain a deeper understanding of research methods in urban economics urban studies and planning Africa's Urban Revolution Doctor Edgar Pieterse, Susan Parnell, 2014-01-09 The facts of Africa s rapid urbanisation are startling By 2030 African cities will have grown by more than 350 million people and over half the continent s population will be urban Yet in the minds of policy makers scholars and much of the general public Africa remains a quintessentially rural place This lack of awareness and robust analysis means it is difficult to make a policy case for a more overtly urban agenda As a result there is across the continent insufficient urgency directed to responding to the challenges and opportunities associated with the world s last major wave of urbanisation Drawing on the expertise of scholars and practitioners associated with the African Centre for Cities and utilising a diverse array of case studies Africa s Urban Revolution provides a comprehensive insight into the key issues demographic cultural political technical environmental and economic surrounding African urbanisation The Routledge Handbook of Planning Research Methods Elisabete A. Silva, Patsy Healey, Neil Harris, Pieter Van den Broeck, 2014-08-21 The Routledge Handbook of Planning Research Methods is an expansive look at the traditions methods and challenges of research design and research projects in contemporary urban planning Through case studies an international group of researchers planning practitioners and planning academics and educators all recognized authorities in the field provide accounts of designing and implementing research projects from different approaches and venues This book shows how to apply quantitative and qualitative methods to projects and how to take your research from the classroom to the real world The book is structured into sections focusing on Beginning planning research Research design and development Rediscovering qualitative methods New advances in quantitative methods Turning research into action With chapters written by leading scholars in spatial planning The Routledge Handbook of Planning Research Methods is the most authoritative and comprehensive handbook on the topic providing both established and ground breaking coverage of spatial planning research methods The book is an invaluable resource for undergraduate and graduate level students young professionals and practitioners in urban regional and spatial planning Tanzanian Affairs ,2005 The International Journal of African Historical Studies ,2008 Investing in Agricultural Water Management to Benefit Smallholder Farmers in Tanzania Meredith Giordano,Terry Clayton,2012-10-09 The AgWater Solutions Project carried out between 2009 and 2012 focused on resolving water issues faced by smallholder farmers The project examined existing Agricultural Water Management AWM solutions together with factors that influence their adoption and scaling up The project aimed to identify investment opportunities in AWM that have high potential to improve the incomes and food security of poor farmers The work was undertaken in the African countries of Burkina Faso Ethiopia Ghana Tanzania and Zambia and in the Indian States of Madhya Pradesh and West Bengal This Working Paper series summarizes results and recommendations from the research carried out in each of these countries and states African Business ,2006 A Current Bibliography on African Affairs ,2006 The African Book Publishing Record ,2006 Africa Today ,2006 Water tenure perspectives Hodgson, S. paper while the relationship between the requirements of formal law and customary law around water tenure in five African countries is analysed by Barbara Schreiner and Barbara van Koppen Stephen Hodgson examines the relationship between water tenure and international water law Finally Sofia Espinosa Flor and Benjamin Kiersch present the benefits of a water tenure perspective for assessing water resources governance based on the pilot water tenure assessments undertaken in Rwanda Senegal and Sri Lanka under the Knowat Project

Conserving Land, Protecting Water Deborah Bossio, Kim Geheb, 2008 The degradation of land and water resources resulting primarily from agricultural activities has had enormous impact on human society In order to alleviate this problem an advanced understanding of the state of our resources and the process of degradation is needed Conserving Land Protecting Water includes an overview of existing literature focusing on global patterns of land and water degradation and discussions of new insights drawn from successful case studies on reversing soil and water degradation and their impact on food and environmental security

Water-smart agriculture in East Africa Nicol, A., Langan, S., Victor, M., Gonsalves, J., 2015-03-01 Application of Geographic Information Systems in Hydrology and Water Resources Management Karel Kovar, H. P. Nachtnebel, 1996 Water: Economics, Management and Demand T. Franks, M. Kay, L.E.D. Smith, 2002-11-01 This book forms the proceedings of the 18th European conference on irrigation and drainage Water is not a free commodity and demand is becoming more and more intense for its allocation This book focuses on the role of irrigation and drainage in the debate on water and will be used by planners designers and policy makers internationally

Shared Waters, Shared Opportunities Bernard Calas, Mumma Martinon, 2010-10-25 The importance of watercourses to human life and development cannot be overemphasised From communication trade agriculture and the location of human settlements they have played an immeasurable role Almost 60% of Africa lies within shared rivers and lake basins The Nile is shared by more than seven nations the Zambezi by six and the Congo by nine With populations on the rise many countries have been labeled water scarce nations and in fifteen years it is predicted that many people on earth will be exposed to water shortage consequences such as famine and disease Thirteen African nations already suffer water stress and soon another twelve will join the list unless something is done to thwart the problem On March 20 2009 in Nairobi Hekima College collaborated with Jesuit Hakimani Centre and the French Institute for Research in Africa IFRA to host the Hekima College Water Day Academic Seminar with the theme Shared Waters Shared Opportunities This book is the result of critical research and presentations by internationally renowned scholars researchers and experts and students of the Institute of Peace Studies and International Relations Hekima College For most of 2009 Kenya suffered severe problems caused by flooding which took many lives and destroyed homes and important infrastructures It highlighted the issues of water management and water conflicts not only in Kenya but in other parts of East Africa as it was made abundantly clear that not only scarcity of water but excess water incorrectly managed can be disastrous This timely scholarly book presents discussions of the issues which underlie the major water crises in the region They open the debate into the water problems of Kenya and East Africa in an effort to join the global campaign to find solutions to these difficulties Aid as Handmaiden for the Development of Institutions M. Nissanke, Y.
