Politics Of Chinese Education In Malaya 1945-1961:

The Politics of Chinese Education in Malaya, 1945-1961 Liok Ee Tan, 1997 In the 1950s the future of Chinese education was the subject of intense debate in Malaya The Politics of Chinese Education in Malaysia is a detailed history of the issues personalities and conflicts behind the crucial negotiations just before and just after Malaya's independence in 1957 It is essential reading for anyone who wants to understand why the Chinese schools in Malaysia have been a source of political controversy ever since The Development of Chinese Education in Malaysia Tan Yao Sua, 2022-12-06 Chinese education in Malaysia has come a long way since the nineteenth century The Chinese had brought their traditional mode of education to Malaya which was modernised following new political developments in China The postcolonial period saw the restructuring of education which resulted in the acceptance of Chinese primary schools into the national educational system and the conversion of Chinese secondary schools to national medium schools Despite this the development of these schools especially the Chinese primary schools has not been fully supported by the government and there are also measures that could lead to a change in their character Meanwhile the development of Independent Chinese Secondary Schools has been lacklustre and it was only in the early 2000s that they began to show impressive growth But the strong emergence of international schools beginning in the mid 1990s might pose a threat to this impressive growth As for the aspirations of the Chinese educationists to establish a Chinese institution of higher learning since the second half of the 1960s their efforts were blocked by the government until the 1990s when they managed to establish a private college to create a complete system of Chinese education in Malaysia This book is essential reading for anyone hoping to study the development of the Malaysian Chinese education system in greater detail Ethnicities, Personalities And Politics In The Ethnic Chinese Worlds Ching-hwang Yen, 2016-08-18 The rise of the economic power of the ethnic Chinese known also as overseas Chinese Chinese overseas or Chinese diaspora was a late 20th century phenomenon It was partly the result of the rise of the Four Little Asian Dragons in the 1970s and was speeded up by the tempo of globalization towards the end of that century This book explores the ethnic identity and boundary of the Chinese as minority groups in foreign lands and as sub groups among the Chinese themselves It examines prominent personalities that had wielded considerable influence in the ethnic Chinese communities in the economic social and educational arenas It also discusses the type of politics that had impacted their relationship with their mother country China Containing 16 papers presented at various international conferences in Singapore Malaysia Hong Kong China and Taiwan as keynote speeches and research findings which are predominantly unpublished in English this book provides fresh perspectives and re interpretations on the issues of ethnicity leadership and politics in the ethnic Chinese worlds Hegemonies Compared Ting-Hong Wong, 2002 First Published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Chinese in Southeast Asia and Beyond Ching-Hwang Yen, 2008 The Chinese in Southeast Asia with their growing economic clout have been attracting attention from politicians scholars and observers in recent decades The rise of China as a global economic power and its profound influence over Southeast Asia has cast a spotlight on the role of Southeast Asian Chinese in the region s economic relations with China The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are to a certain extent determined by the nature and development of their communities This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years from 2000 to 2006 the book focuses on the social economic and political aspects of these communities with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore

Educational Issues in Multiethnic Malaysia Tan Yao Sua,R. Santhiram, Education in multiethnic societies is a subject of considerable debates in almost all parts of the world These debates have invoked strongly felt positions between competing ethnic groups over a host of issues that have a profound impact on the nation building process Apart from deep seated issues arising from contrasting internal demands over educational rights and equality emerging issues arising from external influences such as the global spread of English as a result of globalisation have also impacted the nation building process of multiethnic societies It is against this context that educational issues in multiethnic societies merit our attention In the case of Malaysia discourses over these issues are particularly intense and hotly contested by the different ethnic groups This is primarily because of the extreme difficulties in mediating these complicated issues which are impinged by competing socio cultural economic and political interests This book explores the contested terrains of education in multiethnic Malaysia It comprises seven chapters that cover three crucial areas of educational provisions and delivery namely education of ethnic minorities education and national integration and educational language policy These three crucial areas are often the prime concerns of policy makers in multiethnic societies who have to tread a thin line in resolving these issues which are underpinned by intense coterminous interests and inter ethnic competition and having the potential to generate conflicts contestation and power struggle As far as the Malaysian policy makers are concerned their efforts in resolving these issues have not been overly successful It is most unfortunate that their policy decisions are at times influenced by competing political and ethnic interests rather than guided by sound theoretical underpinnings that could put the educational development of the country on a stronger platform and a clearer trajectory

Chinese In Southeast Asia And Beyond, The: Socioeconomic And Political Dimensions Ching-hwang Yen,2008-07-21 The Chinese in Southeast Asia with their growing economic clout have been attracting attention from politicians scholars and observers in recent decades The rise of China as a global economic power and its profound influence over Southeast Asia has cast a spotlight on the role of Southeast Asian Chinese in the region s economic relations with China The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are to a certain extent determined by the nature and development of their communities This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years from 2000 to 2006 the book focuses on the social economic and political aspects of these communities with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore

Globalization and Its Counter-forces in Southeast Asia Terence Chong, 2008 Presents a multidimensional perspective of globalisation in Southeast Asia Looks at political economic security social and cultural dimensions of globalisation and local responses showing evidence of complex interfacing between the global and the local championing the need for a multidisciplinary approach to globalisation studies

Malaysia Saw Swee-Hock, K. Southeast Asian Personalities of Chinese Descent Leo Suryadinata, 2012 This is a bold project recording the lives of a particular group of Southeast Asians Most of the people whose biographies are included here have settled down in the ten countries that constitute the region Each of them has either self identified as Chinese or is comfortable to be known as someone of Chinese ancestry There are also those who were born in China or elsewhere who came here to work and do business including seeking help from others who have ethnic Chinese connections With the political and economic conditions of the region in a great state of flux for the past two centuries it is impossible to find consistency in the naming process Confucius had stressed that correct names make for the best relationships In this case Professor Leo Suryadinata has been pursuing for decades the elusive goal of finding the right name to give to the large numbers of people who have in one way or another made their homes in or made some difference to Southeast Asia I believe that when he and his colleagues selected the biographies to be included here they have taken a big step towards the rectification of identities for many leading personalities In so doing he has done us all a great service Professor Wang Gungwu National University of Singapore

E.E.C. Thuraisingham: a Malaysian patriot (UM Press) Zulkarnain Abdul Rahman, Abdullah Zakaria Ghazali, This book describes the role and influence of Dato Sir Ernest Emmanuel Clough Thuraisingham in Malaysian politics and society during a formative period Thuraisingham was a member of the Federal Legislative Council from 1948 and served as the chairman of the influential Communities Liaison Committee and as Member for Education A close confidante of Dato Onn Jaafar Thuraisingham played a leading role with Onn in the formation of the Independence of Malaya Party in 1951 and sought to instill a non communal approach to Malayan politics In the post independence period he served as a Senator A horse racing enthusiast Thuraisingham served as chairman of the Selangor Turf Club for 25 years and was active in social welfare activities His life has received scant attention and this book is intended to document his contributions political thoughts and ideas

Imagining Malaya Bernard Z. Keo, 2025-01-02 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations The end of Britain's empire in Southeast Asia in the wake of World War II generated new opportunities for colonial subjects across the region to reimagine themselves as citizens of a dizzying array of potential new nations While post war optimism and a global push for decolonisation created an environment where myriad communities felt a palpable sense of possibility for bringing their aspirations of nationhood to life many of these desires were unfulfilled Imagining Malaya is an exploration of one of those many imagined nations that never came to be It narrates a series of seemingly disparate and contradictory political acts by the Peranakan Chinese a creolised community borne of intermarriage between the earliest Chinese migrants to the region and indigenous Malays in the post World War II period to demonstrate that the community were in fact seeking to bring to life a cosmopolitan inclusive and multi ethnic imagination of the Malay si an nation Engaging in a critical re examination of the intertwined processes of decolonization and nation making Imagining Malaya provides an alternative reading of Malay si a s path to merdeka independence from the perspective of the Peranakan It narrates how a once powerful community at the centre of Malay si an politics and society came undone by their attempts to present an alternative imagination of the nation which challenged the ethnocentrism that came to dominate the country's political life Rewriting the Peranakan into the centre of Malaysia's national story rather than its periphery is a parable on the complexities and pitfalls of attempting to forge a representative nation state from a multi ethnic society during the transition between colony and nation By bringing the Peranakan imaginary of the nation to life Bernard Z Keo makes a case for how studying nations that were unrealized can reveal just as much as investigating those that were Chinese Schools in

Peninsular Malaysia Ting Hui Lee, 2011 The history of modern Chinese schools in Peninsular Malaysia is a story of conflicts between Chinese domiciled there and different governments that happened or happen to rule the land Before the days of the Pacific War the British found the Chinese schools troublesome because of their pro China political activities They established measures to control them When the Japanese ruled the Malay Peninsula they closed down all the Chinese schools After the Pacific War for a decade the British sought to convert the Chinese schools into English schools The Chinese schools decoupled themselves from China and survived A Malay dominated government of independent Peninsular Malaysia allowed Chinese primary schools to continue but finally changed many Chinese secondary schools into National Type Secondary Schools using Malay as the main medium of instruction Those that remained independent along with Chinese colleges continued without government assistance The Chinese community today continues to safeguard its educational institutions to ensure they survive

Peranakan Chinese Identities in the Globalizing Malay Archipelago Leo Suryadinata, 2022-02-21 Peranakan

Chinese communities and their hybrid culture have fascinated many observers. This book comprising fourteen chapters was mainly based on papers written by the author in the last two decades. The chapters address Peranakan Chinese cultural, national and political identities in the Malay Archipelago, i.e. Indonesia, Malaysia and Singapore. This book is divided into two parts: Part I, which is on the regional dimension, contains nine chapters that discuss the three countries and beyond; Part II consists of five chapters which focus on one country, i.e. Indonesia. This book not only discusses the past and the present but also the future of the Peranakan Chinese.

Chinese Migrants Abroad: Cultural, Educational, And Social Dimensions Of The Chinese Diaspora

Michael W Charney, Tong Chee Kiong, Brenda S A Yeoh, 2003-04-03

Fast paced economic growth in Southeast Asia from the late 1960s until the mid 1990s brought increased attention to the overseas Chinese as an economically successful diaspora and their role in this economic growth. Events that followed such as the transfer of Hong Kong and Macau to the People's Republic of China, the election of a non KMT government in Taiwan, the Asian economic crisis and the plight of overseas Chinese in Indonesia as a result, and the durability of the Singapore economy during this same crisis have helped to sustain this attention. The study of the overseas Chinese has by now become a global enterprise raising new theoretical problems and empirical challenges. New case studies of overseas Chinese such as those on communities in North America, Cuba, India and South Africa continually unveil different perspectives. New kinds of transnational connectivities linking Chinese communities are also being identified. It is now possible to make broader generalizations of a Chinese diaspora on a global basis. Further, the intensifying study of the overseas Chinese has stimulated renewed intellectual vigor in other areas of research. The transnational and transregional activities of overseas Chinese, for example, pose serious challenges to analytical concepts of regional divides such as that between East and Southeast Asia. Despite the increased attention, new data and the changing theoretical paradigms, basic questions concerning the overseas Chinese remain. The papers in this volume seek to understand the overseas Chinese migrants not just in terms of the overall Chinese diaspora per se but also local Chinese migrants adapting to local societies in different national contexts.
