The Politics of Cultural Practice Rustom Bharucha, 2000-10-27 Refuting the notion that the West is everywhere Rustom Bharucha draws on the emergent cultures of secular struggle in contemporary India to engage with the volatile global issues of intellectual property rights cultural tourism and the marking of minorities on the basis of religion caste language gender and sexuality Cultural Practices and Identity Politics in Manipur Lisham Henthoiba, Laishram Churchill, 2015-01-01 This compendium of ten essays earlier published in the quarterly journal Alternative Perspectives is an attempt to evaluate conventional understanding of identity culture and resistance and at the same time present some key underlying arguments in a comprehensive form This volume consists of three different themes which are closely interrelated The first theme on identity deals with the assertion of discomfort against the politics of homogenising articulation of identity and the oversimplification of gender issues on the pretext of women being a celebrated identity within our constructed sensibilities The chapters on economy as the second theme of this volume examine underdevelopment of Manipur's economy and its ramifications and correlation with the above mentioned issues The essays of the last theme on resistance underscore the forms of protest which are arguably belittled within the purview of the all pervasive armed conflict and its diverse narratives

A. W. Rhodes, 2010-04-08 The State as Cultural Practice offers an original theory of the state In place of the institutional state Bevir and Rhodes argue for the stateless state or for a focus on the contingent beliefs and practices of individuals In short they put the people back into the study of the state Cultural Practices, Political Possibilities Rohee Dasgupta, 2009-03-26 Culture has long been regarded as one of the most complicated concepts in the social sciences possibly over theorized Its ubiquity tangled senses of particularity and the almost universal recognition of that assumed particularity require an extended vocabulary for framing the politics embedded in it Cultural Practices Political Possibilities attempts to explain the political significance and overlaps of cultural constructions as witnessed in global local clashes convergences of texts and contexts within the state and community identity and the self Through various case studies concepts and interdisciplinary ideological landscape of the British public sphere in the early nineteenth century

Sandiford, 2000-07-10 With the expansion of trade and empire in the early modern period the status of sugar changed from expensive rarity to popular consumer commodity and its real and imagined properties functioned as central metaphors for the cultural desires of West Indian Creoles Sandiford's 2000 study examines how the writings of six colonial West Indian authors explore these properties to publicise the economic value of the consumer object and to invent a metaphor for West Indian cultural desires Sandiford defines this metaphorical turn as a trope of negotiation which organises the structure and content of the narratives his argument establishes the function of this trope as a source of knowledge about the creolised imagination and about its social and political idealism Based on extensive historical knowledge of the period as well as postcolonial theory this book suggests the possibilities negotiation offers in the process of recovery of West Indian intellectual history

The Cultural Politics of Markets Katharine Neilson Rankin, 2004-04-20 International markets have emerged as the favoured way of achieving not only economic growth and efficiency but also political freedom and social justice This book is a study of the social embeddedness of markets in an era when the ideology of the free market governs development as much as trade Using a wide theoretical framework that encompasses both anthropology and geography Katharine Rankin critiques neoliberal approaches to development showing that the capitalist market will always be linked to local social structures and cultures of value Market-led development therefore does not necessarily expand opportunity rather it can deepen existing unjust and inequality Using the example of a traditional Newar market town located in the Kathmandu Valley in Nepal Rankin explores how the value ascribed to social prestige relates to economic opportunity Showing how those in subordinate social locations are positioned to critique inequality Rankin argues that planners should pursue progressive notions of development that recognise the critical resources within culture      Environment and Belief Systems G. N. Devy, Geoffrey V. Davis, 2020-06-07 Part of the series Key Concepts in Indigenous Studies this book focuses on the concepts that recur in any discussion of nature culture and society among the indigenous The book the first in a five volume series deals with the two crucial concepts of environment and belief systems of indigenous peoples from all the continents of the world With contributions from renowned scholars activists and experts from around the globe it presents a salient picture of the environments of indigenous peoples and discusses the essential features of their belief systems It explores indigenous perspectives related to religion ritual and cultural practice art and design and natural resources as well as climate change impacts among such communities in Latin and North America Oceania Australia New Zealand and the South Pacific Islands India Brazil Southeast Asia and Africa Bringing together academic insights and experiences from the ground this unique book s wide coverage will serve as a comprehensive guide for students teachers and scholars of indigenous studies It will be essential reading for those in anthropology social anthropology sociology and social exclusion studies religion and theology and cultural studies as well as activists working with indigenous communities      The Cultural Politics of Markets Katharine N. Rankin, 2004-01-01 In a neoliberal era when the ideology of the free market governs community development as much as international trade a conflict between capital and tradition is inevitable Issues such as the value ascribed to honour and social prestige are difficult to negotiate with economic opportunity Using the example of a traditional Nepalese market town Katharine Neilson Rankin explores how economic liberalization has blended with local cultures of value Utilizing the ethnographic method of anthropology and the comparative and normative thrust of geography Rankin undertakes a critique of neoliberal approaches to development She demonstrates how market led development does not expand opportunity but rather deepens existing injustice and inequality which is further exacerbated by planners eager to implement market led approaches relying on naively idealistic notions of social capital to expand poor people s access to the market The Cultural Politics of Markets makes a clear case for a strategic merger between anthropological and planning perspectives in thinking about the issue of market transformation      The Cultural Politics of the Paralympic Movement P. David Howe, 2008-02-19 Do the Paralympic Games empower the disability sport community Like many other contemporary sporting institutions the Paralympic Games have made the transition from pastime to spectacle and the profile of athletes with disabilities has been increased as a result This book reviews the current status of the Paralympics and challenges the mainstream assumption that the Games are a vehicle for empowerment of the disabled community Using ethnographic methods unique in this area of study P David Howe has undertaken an innovative and critical examination of the social political and economic processes shaping the Paralympic Movement In The Cultural Politics of the Paralympic Movement he presents his findings and offers a new insight into the relationship between sport the body and the culture of disability In doing so he has produced the most comprehensive and radical text about high performance sport for the disabled yet published P David Howe is Lecturer in the Sociology of Sport at Loughborough University He is also a four time Paralympian and former Athlete s Representative to the International Paralympic Committee
