Politics Of Fear Beyond Left And Right:

Politics of Fear Frank Furedi, 2005-11-15 Furedi argues that the traditional terms left and right have been both distorted and proved inadequate by a number of developments notably the Cold War the Culture Wars and as he's shown in previous books the prevalence of risk adverse managerialism The result is a politics both big P and little p that fails to take humans seriously as humans and which necessarily evades discussion of right and wrong Furedi shows that the single most important political need is for an adequate conception of humanity and in the process the public and that it is this that will produce a new and more imaginative alignment in politics

Beyond Left & Right David A. Horowitz, 1997 Beyond Left and Right is a sweeping overview of political insurgency in the United States from the 1880s to the present It is at once a stunning synthesis drawing on a large number of scholarly works and an ambitious and original piece of research The book ranges over diverse individuals and groups that have attacked the established order from the left and the right from the Populists of the 1890s to Ross Perot and the religious right of our times dealing along the way with non interventionists Klans monetary radicals McCarthyites Birchers and Reaganites among many others

The Politics of Actually Existing Unsustainability John Barry, 2012-02-23 At the level of developing a progressive and critical theoretical understanding of unsustainability it argues for the importance of integrating vulnerability which has been largely neglected by both mainstream western political theory and analyses of the current global ecological crisis It suggests that valuable insights into the causes of and alternatives to unsustainability can be found in a critical embracing of human vulnerability and dependency as both constitutive and ineliminable aspects of what it means to be human Rather than seeing invulnerability as the appropriate response the book defends resilience and the ability to cope with rather than solve vulnerability as more productive

The Politics of Antisocial Behaviour Stuart Waiton, 2010-11-24 By providing a new criminological framework for understanding the fear of crime The Politics of Antisocial Behaviour re poses the increasingly important debate around antisocial behaviour and the internationally understood idea of moral panics

Capitalism's New Clothes Ciara Cremin, 2011-05-06 From broadsheet newspapers to television shows and Hollywood films capitalism is increasingly recognised as a system detrimental to human existence Colin Cremin investigates why despite this de robing capitalism remains a powerful and seductive force Using materialist psychoanalytic and linguistic approaches Cremin shows how capitalism anxiety and desire enter into a mutually supporting relationship He identifies three ways in which we are tied in to capitalism through a social imperative for enterprise and competition through enjoyment and consumption and through the depoliticisation of ethical debate by government and business Capitalism's New Clothes is ideal for students of sociology and for anyone worried about the ethics of capitalism or embarrassed by the enjoyments the system has afforded them

Parenting Culture Studies Ellie Lee, Jennie Bristow, Charlotte Faircloth, Jan Macvarish, 2023-12-26 Now in its second edition Parenting Culture Studies seeks to understand how parenting is taken as a particular mode of childrearing that reflects broader social trends Ten years after the initial volume's groundbreaking publication the authors once again closely examine how the main aspects of parenting have been established explored and critically evaluated Chapters revisit phenomena such as intensive parenting and politics around parenting as well as controversial issues including policing pregnant women's bodies and parental determinism In addition to updates throughout the volume including those addressing literature that has built from the book's original publication the book features a new third part discussing parents dealing with risk assessment school closures contradictory care arrangements and vaccine hesitancy during the COVID 19 pandemic

The Politics of Unsustainability Ingolfur Bluhdorn, Ian Welsh, 2013-10-18 Two decades after its launch by the UN Brundtland Commission the paradigm of sustainability seems to have reached its limits Whilst the concept figures more prominently in public debate and policy making than ever before the ecological footprint of advanced liberal consumer societies continues to grow and the forceful economic development of countries such as China and India reinforces concerns that the world is moving further away from rather than closer towards the ideal of sustainability Given the proven failure of ecological modernisation strategies to secure sustainability the traditional question How may our established lifestyles and socio economic practices be made more sustainable needs to be supplemented by a second equally important question How do advanced modern consumer democracies try and manage to sustain what is known to be unsustainable Put differently traditional research into the politics of sustainability needs to be supplemented by a new line of research into the politics of unsustainability Exploring the recent transformation of eco political discourses and a variety of ways in which the unfolding paradox of sustaining the unsustainable is being managed the present volume pioneers this new research agenda This book was previously published as a special issue of Environmental Politics

Childhood Sexuality and AIDS Education Deevia Bhana, 2015-08-27 Primary schoolchildren are frequently shielded from education on sexuality and sexually transmitted diseases in an effort to protect their innocence In countries like South Africa where AIDS is particularly widespread it is especially important to address prevention with younger boys and girls as active social agents with the capacity to engage with AIDS as gendered and sexual beings This volume addresses the question of children's understanding of AIDS not simply in terms of their dependence but as active participants in the interpretation of their social worlds The volume draws on an interview and ethnographic based study of young children in two socially diverse South African primary schools as well as interviews conducted with teachers and mothers of young children It shows how adults sustain the production of childhood sexual innocence and the importance of scaling up programs in AIDS intervention gender and sexuality It makes significant contributions to the global debate around childhood sexualities gender and AIDS education

Contestation in Civil Society Stefanie Pukallus, 2025-04-22 Contestation in Civil Society looks at the dynamic relationship between noise listening and civil action as the key to understanding how societies communicatively make decisions about their internal and external boundaries By focusing on the three components of noise listening and civil action the book moves attention away from an exclusive focus on what is being communicated the communicator the statement the speech and so on It argues that what is being communicated the noise does not lead in and of itself to civil action but rather that the audience the listeners plays a crucial role in determining what the noise means whether it is judged legitimate or not and whether any civil action should be taken Exploring how the relationship between noise listening and civil action plays out within the context of contestation will interest academics and scholars of political studies political philosophy communication sociology media and cultural studies

Emotions in Politics N. Demertzis, 2013-10-31 Prompted by the affective turn within the entire spectrum of the social sciences this book brings together the twin disciplines of political psychology and the political sociology of emotions to explore the complex relationship between politics and emotion at both the mass and individual level with special focus on cases of political tension

On Tolerance Frank Furedi, 2013-02-14 Outwardly we live in an era that appears more open minded non judgemental and tolerant than in any time in human history The very term intolerant invokes moral condemnation We are constantly reminded to understand the importance of respecting different cultures and diversities In this pugnacious new book Frank Furedi argues that despite the democratisation of public life and the expansion of freedom society is dominated by a culture that not only tolerates but often encourages intolerance Often the intolerance is directed at people who refuse to accept the conventional wisdom and who are stigmatised as deniers Frequently intolerance comes into its own in clashes over cultural values and lifestyles People are condemned for the food they eat how they parent and for wearing religious symbols in public This book challenges the quiet mood of tolerance towards morally stigmatised forms of behaviour The author examines recent forms of unacceptable behaviour It will tease out the real motives and drivers of intolerance

Post-Politics in Context Ali Riza Taskale, 2016-04-28 As disciplines Politics and International Relations remain dominated by ideas drawn from traditions of liberal internationalism and political realism in which political imagination is preoccupied with command and order rather than with disruption and emancipation Yet they have failed to offer adequate answers to why political action is foreclosed in contemporary times Proposed through a historically informed engagement with seminal thinkers including Walter Benjamin Friedrich Nietzsche Gilles Deleuze and Michel Foucault and examples from films and contemporary events Ali R za Ta kale presents an original and much needed new perspective to interpret politics in our contemporary societies He argues that post politics is a counterrevolutionary logic which aims to create a society without conflict struggle and radical systemic change Post Politics in Context serves as seminal intervention upon the debate over the depoliticised conditions of contemporary neoliberal society as well as functioning as an introduction to the core theoretical frameworks of alternative tradition of social and political thought in a manner that is lacking in current debates about Politics and International Relations

The Politics of Crisis Management Arjen Boin, Paul 't Hart, Eric Stern, Bengt Sundelius, 2016-11-21 Crisis management has become a defining feature of contemporary governance In times of crisis communities and members of organizations expect their leaders to minimize the impact while critics and bureaucratic competitors make use of social media to blame incumbent rulers and their policies In this extreme environment policymakers must somehow establish a sense of normality and foster collective learning from the crisis experience In the new edition of this uniquely comprehensive analysis the authors examine how strategic leaders deal with the challenges they face the political risks and opportunities they encounter the pitfalls they must avoid and the paths towards reform they may pursue The book is grounded in decades of collaborative cross national and multidisciplinary case study research and has been updated to include new insights and examples from the last decade This is an original and important contribution from experts in public policy and international security

Generations, Political Participation and Social Change in Western Europe Maria Grasso, 2016-03-31 This new comparative analysis shows that there are reasons to be concerned about the future of democratic politics Younger generations have become disengaged from the political process The evidence presented in this comprehensive study shows that they are not just less likely than older generations to engage in institutional political activism such as voting and party membership they are also less likely to engage in extra institutional protest activism Generations Political Participation and Social Change in Western Europe offers a rigorously researched empirical analysis of political participation trends across generations in Western Europe It examines the way in which the political behaviour of younger generations leads to social change Are younger generations completely disengaged from politics or do they simply choose to participate in a different way to previous generations The book is of key interest to scholars students and practitioners of political sociology political participation and behaviour European Politics Comparative Politics and Sociology

Politics and Performance in Post-dictatorship Argentine Film and Theatre Philippa J. Page, 2011 This comparative study examines the strategies of re politicization and socialization employed in contemporary Argentine film and theatre produced in the wake of the 1976-83 dictatorship It focuses on the socio political facets of performance across a range of films and dramatic compositions This comparative study examines the strategies of re politicization and socialization employed in contemporary Argentine film and theatre produced in the wake of the 1976-83 dictatorship It focuses on the socio political facets of performance across a range of films and dramatic compositions The book highlights the manner in which the trope of performance represents the place in which film and theatre experiment with generic and mediatic hybridization Each chapter takes as its point of departure a series of politically motivated appropriations made by cinema and theatre from neighboring genres media In each case genre is shown to take on the role of mediator between competing aesthetic forms between aesthetics and politics aesthetic performance and social performance reality and fiction postmodern heterogeneity and an increasingly present modern anxiety regarding the perceived need to preserve artistic purity autonomy thus restoring what is specific to theatre and cinema's type of communication Philippa Page has managed the cultural programme at the Maison de l'Argentine in the Cité Internationale Universitaire Paris and continues to research in the field of Argentine performance studies
