Politics Of Presence Contacts Between Mibionaries And Waluguru In Late Colonial Tanganyika:

A Politics of Presence Peter Pels, 2013-12-16 Christian missions in Africa are commonly viewed as a blatant example of ethnocentrism. This stereotype partly exists because the day to day interaction between missionaries and Africans has so rarely been studied. This book shows how Africans and missionaries co-produced a Catholic Church in the Uluguru mountains of Eastern Tanzania in the late colonial period, thereby adapting each others routines in the fields of initiation, education, magic and religion. It explores how the presence of the mission resulted in a rift between spiritual and worldly magic and in the underdevelopment of the capacity of Waluguru to manage their own practices of revelation. Protestant Missions and Local Encounters in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Hilde Nielssen, Inger Marie Okkenhaug, Karina Hestad-Skeie, 2011-07-27 This book makes visible an important but neglected aspect of Christian missions: its transnational character. Missionaries considered themselves global actors yet they operated within a variety of nation states. The volume demonstrates how processes on a national level are closely linked to larger transnational processes. Christianity and

Public Culture in Africa Harri Englund, 2011-04-26 Christianity and Public Culture in Africa takes the reader beyond Africa's apparent exceptionalism. African Christians have created new publics often in ways that offer fresh insights into the symbolic and practical boundaries separating the secular and the sacred, the private and the public, and the liberal and the illiberal. Critical reason and Christian convictions have combined in surprising ways when African Christians have engaged with vital public issues such as national constitutions and gender relations, and with literary imaginings and controversies over tradition and HIV/AIDS. The contributors demonstrate how the public significance of Christianity varies across time and place. They explore rural Africa and the continent's major cities and colonial and missionary situations as well as mass-mediated ideas and images in the twenty-first century. They also reveal the plurality of Pentecostalism in Africa and keep in view the continent's continuing denominational diversity. Students and scholars will find these topical studies to be impressive in scope. Contributors: Barbara M. Cooper, Harri Englund, Marja Hinfelaar, Nicholas Kamau Goro, Birgit Meyer, Michael Perry, Kweku Okyerefo, Damaris Parsitau, Ruth Prince, James A. Pritchett, Ilana van Wyk. The Ethnography of

Vietnam's Central Highlanders Oscar Salemink, 2019-10-18 This book looks at ethnographic discourses concerning the indigenous population of Vietnam's Central Highlands during periods of Christianization, colonization, war, and socialist transformation, and analyses these in their relation to tribal, ethnic, territorial, governmental, and gendered discourses. Salemink's book is a timely contribution to anthropological knowledge as the ethnic minorities in Vietnam have again been the object of fierce academic debate. This is a historically grounded post-colonial critique relevant to theories of ethnicity and the history of anthropology, and will be of interest to graduate students of anthropology and cultural studies as well as Vietnam studies. Magic and Modernity Birgit Meyer, Peter Pels, 2003 This is the first book to explore comparatively how magic usually portrayed as the antithesis of the modern is also at home in modernity. Religious Entanglements David

Maxwell,2022-08-16 The Congo Evangelistic Mission CEM was one of the most successful classical Pentecostal missions in Africa Maxwell examines the roles of CEM missionaries and their African collaborators the Luba speaking peoples of southeast Katanga in producing knowledge about Africa illustrating the mutually constitutive nature of discourses of identity in colonial Africa and how the Luba shaped missionary research Faith in Schools Amy Stambach,2009-12-07 American Evangelicals have long considered Africa a welcoming place for joining faith with social action but their work overseas is often ambivalently received Even among East African Christians who share missionaries religious beliefs understandings vary over the promises and pitfalls of American Evangelical involvement in public life and schools In this first hand account Amy Stambach examines missionary involvement in East Africa from the perspectives of both Americans and East Africans While Evangelicals frame their work in terms of spreading Christianity critics see it as destroying traditional culture Challenging assumptions on both sides this work reveals a complex and ever evolving exchange between Christian college campuses in the U S where missionaries train and schools in Kenya Uganda and Tanzania Providing real insight into the lives of school children in East Africa this book charts a new course for understanding the goals on both sides and the global connections forged in the name of faith Ordering Africa Helen Tilley,Robert Gordon,2017-03-01 African research played a major role in transforming the discipline of anthropology in the twentieth century Ethnographic studies in turn had significant effects on the way imperial powers in Africa approached subject peoples Ordering Africa provides the first comparative history of these processes With essays exploring metropolitan research institutes Africans as ethnographers the transnational features of knowledge production and the relationship between anthropology and colonial administration this volume both consolidates and extends a range of new research questions focusing on the politics of imperial knowledge Specific chapters examine French West Africa the Belgian and French Congo the Anglo Egyptian Sudan Italian Northeast Africa Kenya and Equatorial Africa Gabon as well as developments in Britain France Germany Italy and Switzerland A major collection of essays that will be welcomed by scholars interested in imperial history and the history of Africa Handbook of Material Culture Christopher Y. Nongovernmental Organizations in International Society V. Heins, 2008-04-14 Based on a wealth of original information and research this book offers both a critical introduction to NGOs and a discussion of recent theoretical approaches which have either dismissed or wildly exaggerated their political significance

Fipa Families Kathleen R. Smythe, 2006-05-30 Ufipa a labor reserve for Tanganyika witnessed minimal colonial development Instead evangelization by White Fathers Catholic missionaries began in the 1870s By the 1950s the missionaries had secured varying degrees of political economic and social authority in the region witnessed by the fact that the vast majority of Fipa had converted to Catholicism Fipa Families examines how this happened from the Fipa perspective Written primarily for scholars and students of African colonial history mission history and family and childhood history this study is based on a rich collection of oral and documentary sources Working with this wealth of information Smythe breaks new ground in placing African social and moral concerns parallel to those of missionaries resurrecting the study of the family rather than kinship lineage or clan within African history and demonstrating at the level of the family and village the ways in which ideas of socialization reproduction and education were challenged and re created in the colonial context in Ufipa Initially employees of the mission sought to oversee the education and moral upbringing of at least one child from each family substituting boarding school for the care relatives would otherwise have provided A few mission parents even opted to forego the multiple benefits of grandchildren so a child could pursue the celibate path of a religious vocation The opportunities of the Catholic Church complemented and competed with Fipa processes of social and biological reproduction and Catholicism became part of the fabric of Fipa society because of and despite its resonance with Fipa culture At the heart of both Fipa and missionary concerns were the processes of socialization social reproduction and biological reproduction processes carried out within the context of the family

For the City Yet to Come Abdou Maliqalim Simone, 2004-10-07 A study of how colonial and postcolonial legacies manifest in African cities and African urban planning

Ethnic Patriotism and the East African Revival Derek R. Peterson, 2012-09-24 This book shows how cosmopolitan Christian converts and east African patriots struggled to define political community in the mid twentieth century Derek Peterson traces the history of the East African Revival an evangelical movement that challenged patriots effort to root people in place as inheritors of a cultural heritage

Religion in the Making Arie L. Molendijk, Peter Pels, 2018-11-13 This volume explores the ways in which religion became the object of scientific research in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Most obvious is the development of an increasingly autonomous science of religion with founding fathers like Max Müller and C P Tiele However within anthropology Tylor Frazer sociology Durkheim Max Weber and psychology William James religion also came to be seen as a separate entity to be studied comparatively To capture this wide field this book focuses on the emergence of the discourse on religion in a broad academic context among different disciplines The emphasis is on general socio historical developments rather than on individual biographies Part I deals with the institutionalization of science of religion in France Britain and the Netherlands Part II focuses on boundary disputes between the emerging sciences of religion Part III examines new conceptualizations of religion underlying the new endeavour ritual magic survival

Als Sachse zu den Chagga Christel Kiel,Arnold Kiel,Ravinder Salooja,2024-06-29 Of the German Protestant missionaries in Tanzania Lutheran or Moravian none was as famous as Bruno Gutmann who worked among the Chagga from 1902 1938 and only World War prevented him and his wife to live there for the rest of their lives they had already prepared their burial place among the Chagga When I did my research there in the early 1970s I was told that he spoke the Chagga language better than any Chagga and when reading the three big volumes about the boys initiation teaching parallel in Chagga and German I believed it The Chagga honoured him as their Father Wasahuye O Wachagga in 1963 and 50 years later the memory is still strong In Germany his missiological ideas with the value attached to the primal ties of family neighbourhood and age group were controversial In 2016 the Lutheran Leipzig Mission honoured the 50 th anniversary of his death with an academic colloquium the texts generated by it make up this volume

Hybridity on the Ground in Peacebuilding and Development Joanne Wallis,Lia Kent,Miranda Forsyth,Sinclair Dinnen,Srinjoy Bose,2018-03-01 Hybridity on the Ground in Peacebuilding and Development engages with the possibilities and pitfalls of the increasingly popular notion of hybridity The hybridity concept has been embraced by scholars and practitioners in response to the social and institutional complexities of peacebuilding and development practice In particular the concept appears well suited to making sense of the mutually constitutive outcomes of processes of interaction between diverse norms institutions actors and discourses in the context of contemporary peacebuilding and development engagements At the same time it has been criticised from a variety of perspectives for overlooking critical questions of history power and scale The authors in this interdisciplinary collection draw on their in depth knowledge of peacebuilding and development contexts in different parts of Asia the Pacific and Africa to examine the messy and dynamic realities of hybridity on the ground By critically exploring the power dynamics and the diverse actors ideas practices and sites that shape hybrid peacebuilding and development across time and space this book offers fresh insights to hybridity debates that will be of interest to both scholars and practitioners Hybridity has become an influential idea in peacebuilding and this volume will undoubtedly become the most influential collection on the idea Nuance and sophistication characterises this engagement with hybridity Professor John Braithwaite

The Lowland South American World Casey High,Luiz Costa,2024-12-12 The Lowland South American World showcases cutting edge research on the anthropology of Lowland South America providing both an in depth knowledge of Lowland South American life ways and engaging readers in urgent social environmental and political issues in the contemporary world Covering the vast expanse of a region that includes all of

South America except for the Andes its 40 chapters engage with questions of what Lowland South America means as a geographical designation both in studies of Indigenous Amazonian peoples and other lowland areas of the continent They emphasize the multiple ways that local practices and cosmologies challenge conventional Western ideas about nature culture personhood sociality community and Indigenous people Some of the region s well known contributions to anthropology such as animism perspectivism and novel approaches to the body are updated here with new ethnography and in light of the varying political situations in which the region s peoples find themselves With contributions by authors from 15 different countries including a number of Indigenous anthropologists and activists this book will set the agenda for future research in the continent The Lowland South American World is a valuable resource for scholars and students of anthropology Latin American studies and Indigenous studies as well as history geography and other social sciences
