The Politics and Economics of the Transition Period Nikolai Bukharin, Nikolai Ivanovich Bukharin, 1979 The Politics and Economics of the Transition Period Nikolai Bukharin, 2013-11-05 For many years a neglected figure Nikolai Bukharin has recently been the subject of renewed interest in the West Now regarded as a leading Marxist theorist Bukharin's work has wide appeal to those interested in Soviet history and Marxist economics as well as to those concerned with theories of development and socialist economies

The Politics and Economics of the Transition Period Nikolai Ivanovich Bukharin, 1979 The Politics and Economics of the Transition Period Nikolai Bukharin, 2013-11-05 For many years a neglected figure Nikolai Bukharin has recently been the subject of renewed interest in the West Now regarded as a leading Marxist theorist Bukharin's work has wide appeal to those interested in Soviet history and Marxist economics as well as to those concerned with theories of development and socialist economies

The Politics and Economics of the Transition Period Nikolai Ivanovich Bukharin, 1979 The Tragedy of Bukharin Donny Gluckstein, 1994 An important contribution This book helps fill what has been a major gap in historical and political writing The Tragedy of Bukharin restores Bukharin to his rightful place as an often brilliant if flawed revolutionary theorist whose achievements and failures are so instructive to those who aspire to fight for the cause to which he dedicated his life International Socialism

The Political Economy of Transition in Central and Eastern Europe Jens Bastian, 2019-06-04 First published in 1998 this volume contributes to the debate after the fall of the Soviet Union on the transition of Eastern European former Soviet countries to a market economy The transition was an enterprise as daring in practice and historically unprecedented as it is an analytical laboratory subject to constant reflection The first two chapters address foreign direct investment in Central and Eastern European countries The rebuilding of social insurance systems is then addressed with a focus on state pension schemes The subsequent two chapters examine the political and demographic features of transition countries highlighting media reform as a key aspect for the consolidation of a democratic law based market economy and society Focus then turns to Poland the country which is considered to display the most progress in the political economy of transition Finally the controversial issue of the electoral successes of former Communist parties in Central and Eastern Europe is discussed

The Economics of Transition in Laos Yves Bourdet, 2000-01-01 This book provides the reader with an intelligent and clear overview of the Lao economy in the past 20 years and is the only book I know of dedicated to purely economic questions Grant Evans Journal of Agrarian Change

Bukharin and the Bolshevik Revolution Stephen F. Cohen, 1980 This classic biography carefully traces Bukharin's rise to and fall from power focusing particularly on the development of his theories and programmatic ideas during the critical period between Lenin's death in 1924 and the ascendancy of Stalin in 1929

The Handbook of Political, Social, and Economic Transformation Wolfgang Merkel, Raj Kollmorgen, Hans-Jürgen Wagener, 2019-01-25 Political social and economic transformation is a complex historical phenomenon It can adequately be analysed only by a multidisciplinary approach The Handbook brings together an international team of scholars who are specialists in their respective research fields It introduces the most important areas theories and methods in transformation research with particular attention placed on the historical and comparative dimension Although focussing on post communist and other democratic transformations in our epoch the Handbook therefore presents and discusses not only their problems paths and developments but also deals with the antecedent waves beginning with the Meiji Restoration in Japan in 1868 and its aftermath The book is structured into six parts Starting with basic concepts as systems actors and institutions Section I it gives an overview over major theoretical approaches and research methods Sections II and III The connection of theory and method with their application is essential allowing special insights into the past and opens analytical avenues for transformation research in the future Section IV provides a historically oriented description or interpretation of particular waves or types of societal transformation With a clear focus on present transformations the contributions to Section V provide a description and discussion of the problems structures actors and courses of the transformations within different spheres of civil society politics law and economics Finally brief lexicographic entries in Section VI delineate research perspectives and facts about relevant issues of societal transformation Each of the 79 contributions contains a concise list of the most important research literature

The politics and economics of the transition period [Teorija proletarskoj diktatury; Ėkonomika perechodnogo perioda, engl. - Von] Nikolai Bukharin Nikolaj Ivanovič Bucharin, Kenneth J. Tarbuck, 1979

The Political and Economic Transition in East Asia Xiaoming Huang, 2013-09-05 The book examines the political and economic developments in East Asia since the end of the Cold War in an attempt to identify a broad pattern of transition particularly in terms of the reshaping of the state s relations with forces and institutions in economy politics and domestic international interactions The chapters are organised into three parts I The state in the new economy II The state in the new politics III The state in the new global environment The contributors find a general pattern of the state s withdrawal from these three areas But it is not simply that the market takes over as some envisaged Instead the transition is moving towards a set of governance producing arrangements in which the role of both the market and the state are appreciated The book concludes that a more sophisticated approach is needed to the problems of development vs governance the state vs the market and global dynamics vs national interests for a better understanding of the dynamic transition and the consequent new political economy in East Asia

The Review of Radical Political Economics ,1985 Global Capitalism and the Future of Agrarian Society Arif Dirlik, Alexander Woodside, Roxann Prazniak, 2015-11-17 This book offers historical and comparative analyses of changes in agrarian society forced by the globalization of capitalism and the implications of these changes for human welfare globally

The book gives special attention to recent economic development and urbanization in the People's Republic of China which have had a major impact on contemporary transformations globally. Case studies from South and Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America in turn place these transformations in a comparative global perspective. The contributors include distinguished scholars from the UN, PRC, India, Zimbabwe and Latin America who are also active in policy issues.

Transnationalism in the Balkans Denisa Kostovicova, Vesna Bojicic-Dzelilovic, 2013-10-18 After a decade of exclusive nationalism, violence and isolation of the 1990s, the Balkans has seen the emergence of transnational links between the former ethnic foes. Do these new cross-border links herald the era of inter-ethnic reconciliation in place of the politics of ethnic exclusion? Are they a proof of a successful transition from authoritarianism and war to democracy and peace? Drawing on substantial empirical research by regional specialists, Transnationalism in the Balkans provides a sobering insight into the nature of cross-border links in the region and their implications. Several of the authors show how transnational connections in the context of weak states and new borders in the region have been used by transnational actors, be it in the politics, economics and culture, to undermine a democratic consolidation and keep the practice of exclusive ethnic politics and identities alive. These findings make a strong case to go beyond the region and put forth a critical argument for rethinking the theories of transition to democracy in the post-Communist and post-conflict setting to incorporate a dimension of globalisation. This book was previously published as a special issue of Ethnopolitics.

The Political Economy of Iran Under the Qajars Hooshang Amirahmadi, 2012-06-28 The political economy of Iran underwent the fundamental transition from feudalism to modernity from the early 19th to the 20th century, a period which was a vital watershed in Iran's historical development. This book provides a critical analysis of Iran's economic, social and political development and shows how the path to modernity, far from smooth, was hindered by both internal and international factors. These included a powerful monarchy with little interest in administrative and economic reform, a large aristocracy frequently holding vital provincial governorships and frustrating effective central government, and a failure to create a modern civil service, military, banking, finance or communications, the essential infrastructure for economic development. Reformers were marginalised and business suffered. And the all-powerful ulema were a further brake on modernisation. On the international front, the rivalry of Britain and Russia compounded the problems, both acting to control Iran and to further their own interests. Hooshang Amirahmadi explores the roots of present-day challenges to modernisation and progress and, using a wealth of primary sources and original research, has produced a work which is invaluable for students of modern Iranian history, politics and Iran's political economy.

Privatization and Transition in Russia in the Early 1990s Carol Scott Leonard, David Pitt-Watson, 2013-06-19 Few economic events have caused such controversy as the privatization process in Russia. Some see it as the foundation of political and economic freedom. For others, it was economics gone wrong and ended in Russians stealing money from their own country. As Russia reasserts itself and its new brand of capitalism, it is ever more important that policy makers and scholars understand the roots of the economic structure and governance of that country what was decided who made the decisions and why what actually transpired and what implications this has for the future of Russia This work written by two senior advisors to the Russian government has unique access to documentation tracking the decision making process in the Russian Mass Privatization process By close reference to events and supplemented by interviews with many of the key participants it shows that the policies adopted were often influenced and shaped by different forces than those cited by current popular accounts The book challenges the interpretation of Russian privatization by some of the West's most eminent economists It underlines that economists of all schools who bring assumptions from the West to the analysis of Russia may reach false or misleading conclusions It is an essential guide for anyone interested in Russian economic reform and anyone who seeks to understand this enigmatic country and its actions today

The Palgrave Handbook of Global Politics in the 22nd Century Laura Horn, Ayşem Mert, Franziska Müller, 2023-01-01 This handbook offers a unique approach to the question How do scholars write the future of global politics Written in futuristic style around the 200 year anniversary of the birth of International Relations IR as an academic discipline the contributions engage in world building and imagine different futures of IR Set in a multiverse 23 chapters draw on a range of possible themes and imaginaries for instance post pandemic conditions the Anthropocene and not least academic practices and the role of researchers A concluding chapter anchors these explorations in contemporary discussions The book mirrors the format and style of existing handbooks combining outlines and discussions of theories structures processes and core issues in IR with an academic science fiction account of how these might play out over the course of the next century In doing so the book challenges IR and provides alternative imaginaries rather than predicting future conditions for all humanity The book invites readers to reflect on how thinking about the future has become an increasingly radical but more than ever necessary act

Revolution and Change in Central and Eastern Europe Minton F. Goldman, 1997-01-15 A comprehensive analysis of the progress and problems of post communist development attending to aspects of transition in the region as a whole and to specific issues in Albania Bulgaria the Czech and Slovak Republics East Germany Hungary Poland Rumania and Yugoslavia Goldman political science Northeastern U diagrams the commonalities of development and the diversity of the various countries rejection of communism setting forth the difficulties in moving from communist monolithic authoritarianism to pluralistic democracy coping with threats to progress and stability and the international implications of these transitions Paper edition 758 5 32 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
