Politics And Policies Of Sub Saharan Africa:

The Politics and Policies of Sub-Saharan Africa Robert A. Dowie, 2001 This book attempts to correct the impression created by Western media that Sub Saharan Africa is in a state of anarchy The text analyzes and shows that while many Sub Saharan African nations are experiencing the worst time of their history others are enjoying their best times Thus the text argues that although some parts of Africa are experiencing crisis the continent is also a fine region of major new experiments in governance peace building and free market transformation programs Finally the text focuses some of its analyses on the colonial legacy economic and ethnic transformation indigenous institutions and other forces that seem to influence the governance of Sub Saharan African nations

The Politics of Trade and Industrial Policy in Africa Charles Chukwuma Soludo, Michael Osita Ogbu, Ha-Joon Chang, 2004 This book maps the process and political economy of policy making in Africa Its focus on trade and industrial policy makes it unique and it will appeal to students and academics in economics political economy political science and African studies Detailed case studies help the reader to understand how the process and motivation behind policy decisions can vary from country to country depending on the form of government ethnicity and nationality and other social factors

Governing Cities in Africa S. B. Bekker, Laurent Fourchard, 2013 Governing Cities in Africa Politics and Policies brings a unique set of comparative and collaboratively generated insights to bear on some key themes of urbanism in sub Saharan Africa The book brings to the fore themes that are often neglected in urban studies generally such as the role of political parties and interrogates and proposes alternatives to some terms such as informality which are perhaps overused in exploring cities in Africa It has a very dynamic approach to building genuinely new analyses working across a few to several cities at once exploring both astonishing similarities and surprising differences and bringing the clarity of thinking of some of the top scholars working on these issues in the region and beyond This is a rare kind of book based on deep empirical knowledge and complex theoretical reflection drawing insight from different language communities and from a very wide array of different cities it is genuinely comparative and a model for how to build conceptual insights about urban processes

Conflict Resolution and Peace Education in Africa Ernest E. Uwazie, 2003-01-01 Africa today suffers from too much political unrest and violent conflict The contributors to this edited collection recognize a missing link in efforts to foster democracy and with it political stability and peace in Africa's developing countries Democracy can be sustained only where effective means for resolving citizens disputes exist both within and outside the formal legal system The writers whose articles appear here scholars practitioners and peace advocates present their varied knowledge of conflict and war in Africa and strategies for introducing and implementing mediation from Sierra Leone to South Africa This volume is a model exchange of insights and ideas in the important field of conflict resolution as applied to Africa

Resource Politics in Sub-Saharan Africa Matthias Basedau, 2005 Violence, Politics and Conflict Management in Africa Mawere, Munyaradzi, Marongwe, Ngonidzashe, 2016-09-01 This volume critically interrogates from different angles and dimensions the resilience of conflict and violence into 21st century Africa The demise of European colonial administration in Africa in the 1960s wielded fervent hope for enduring peace for the people of Africa Regrettably conflict alongside violence in all its dimensions physical religious political psychological and structural remain unabated and occupy central stage in contemporary Africa The resilience of conflict and violence on the continental scene invokes unsettling memories of the past while negatively influencing the present and future of crafting inclusive citizenship and statehood he book provides fresh insightful ethnographic and intellectual material for rethinking violence and conflict and for fostering long lasting peace and political justice on the continent and beyond With its penetrating focus on conflict and associated trajectories of violence in Africa the book is an inestimable asset for conflict management practitioners political scientists historians civil society activists and leaders in economics and politics as well as all those interested in the affairs of Africa An Introduction to African Politics Alex Thomson,2010-06-10

industry the effects of technology environmental issues and global warming and geopolitics The book concludes by considering the future including the lessons learned from history where we are most likely to be heading and what steps we can take to mitigate potential energy risks This Handbook will be an invaluable resource for upper level graduates and postgraduate scholars

China Versus The Us, World Bank And Imf In Sub-saharan Africa Lynne Ciochetto,2022-12-07 This timely book provides a comprehensive overview of the activities of the major foreign forces active in contemporary Sub Saharan Africa Stimulated by the abundance of reports in the media criticizing China s presence in Sub Saharan Africa there is an analysis of China s involvement in the region compared to the largest Western players the United States the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund China has only been economically active in Sub Saharan Africa since the 1990s while the United States the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund have been active since the 1950s Indeed the World Bank has been the major lender for development during the whole period The book explores how these foreign interests have assisted with or hindered progress towards addressing the challenges facing the region These challenges include high rates of poverty and low levels of human development loss of political and economic sovereignty periodic sluggish economic development government indebtedness illegal financial flows and corruption the resource curse environmental destruction and climate change The approach is interdisciplinary and emphasises the key development issues social economic and environmental sustainability An audit approach is used to explore changes within China and the West since the 1950s and evaluate their impact on Sub Saharan Africa China versus the US World Bank and IMF in Sub Saharan Africa is an important reference for academics researchers and students It is also written in an accessible style that is suitable for the general reader

The Politics of Africa's Economic Recovery Richard Sandbrook,1993-04 The waning of the Cold War means that major political powers no longer feel compelled to support African authoritarianism Revised official consensus holds that in Africa as elsewhere political reform must accompany economic adjustment According to this view African recovery requires a reduction in the size and economic role of monopolistic and inefficient states and their transformation into accountable liberal democracies Is this a desirable and practicable political programme Certainly all over Africa the number of liberal democracies is growing But can they survive and are they compatible with renewed economic growth Richard Sandbrook answers these questions and assesses the feasibility of the new political programme in reinforcing Africa s economic recovery He argues that the programme has merit in the short term but in the longer term a more self reliant state directed approach should be adopted to ensure prosperity and durable democracy in the region

Agenda Setting and Public Policy in Africa Kelechi A. Kalu,2017-03-02 Agenda Setting and Public Policy in Africa examines how decision makers have managed and mismanaged public policy issues in sub Saharan Africa It analyses the neglected issue of how ideas about public policy are generated by whom and for what purpose Persistent problems such as political instability environmental pollution famine hunger desertification rent seeking and incessant intra conflicts across the continent are explored in a systematic and structured manner Each contributor proffers convincing solutions to clearly identified problems Well researched and solution orientated this book will engage scholars and policy makers who are interested in public policy and development issues in Africa The Politics of African Industrial Policy Lindsay Whitfield,Ole Therkildsen,Lars Buur,Anne Mette

Kjær,2015-07-02 This book engages in the debate on growth versus economic transformation and the importance of industrial policy presenting a comprehensive framework for explaining the politics of industrial policy Using comparative research to theorize about the politics of industrial policy in countries in the early stages of capitalist transformation that also experience the pressures of elections due to democratization this book provides four in depth African country studies that illustrate the challenges to economic transformation and the politics of implementing industrial policies Patenting of

Pharmaceuticals and Development in Sub-Saharan Africa POKU ADUSEI,2012-10-24 This book critically investigates the patent protection of medication in light of the threats posed by HIV AIDS malaria and tuberculosis epidemics to the citizens of countries in Sub Saharan Africa hereinafter SSA or Africa The book outlines the systemic problems associated with the prevailing globalized patent regime and the regime s inability to promote access to life saving medication at affordable prices in SSA It argues that for pharmaceutical patents to retain their relevance in SSA countries human development concepts must be integrated into global patent law and policy making An integrative approach implies developing additional public health and human development exceptions limitations to the exercise of patent rights with the goal of scaling up access to medication that can treat epidemics in SSA By drawing on multiple perspectives of laws institutions practices and politics the book suggests that SSA countries adopt an evidence based approach to implementing global patent standards in domestic jurisdictions This evidence based approach would include mechanisms like local need assessments and the use of empirical data to shape domestic patent law making endeavors The approach also implies revising patent rules and policies with a pro poor and pro health emphasis so that medication will be more affordable and accessible to the citizens of SSA countries It also suggests considering the opinions of individuals and pro access institutions in enacting crucial pieces of health related statutes in SSA countries The approach in this book is sensitive to the public health needs of the citizens affected by epidemics and to the imperative of building local manufacturing facilities for pharmaceutical research and development in SSA Politics and Economics of Africa Frank H. Columbus,Olufemi

Wusu,2001 A continent of vast diversity stretching from the deserts of the north through the equatorial tropics into the more temperate south Africa brims with challenges and issues This book collects a series of papers examining a number of these topics and how they impact African nations the United States and the global community The analyses also present possible solutions to some of the continent s most vexing problems as many of its nations chart a course of political and economic development Handbook of Defence Politics Isaiah "Ike" Wilson III,James J.F. Forrest,2011-03-28 Issues of defence politics and policy have long been at the forefront of political agendas and defining of international affairs However the dramatic changes to the global system that have taken place since the end of the Cold War and particularly since the terror attacks on the USA on 11 September 2001 have amplified the world's attention toward political and policy issues of national regional and global security. The focus of this volume is on examining the fundamental causes of and defence policy responses to this new post 9/11 security environment. Edited by Isaiah Ike Wilson III and James J F Forest of the US Military Academy West Point USA, this volume is international in scope with pieces written by experts in the field offering a collection of up to date and balanced insights on key contemporary issues of concern to defence policymakers. The book will be an invaluable reference tool for academics and students, researchers in international relations, policymakers, media professionals and government officials. African Politics and Ethics Munyaradzi Felix Murove, 2020-10-06. In this book Munyaradzi Felix Murove explores African traditional ethical resources for African politics. Arguing that African ethics is integral to African post colonial political contentious discourse, Murove invites the reader to reflect on various problematic political issues in post colonial Africa and how African ethics has been applied in these situations. Starting with a succinct discussion of the scope of African ethics, he discusses how African ethical values have been applied by post colonial politicians in the reconstruction of their societies. Further, Murove looks critically at the issue of African poverty and how the ethic of regional integration and economic cooperation among post colonial African nation states has been instrumental to efforts aimed at overcoming the scourge of poverty. The main question this book seeks to answer is: Are African traditional ethical values a panacea to modern African political problems? The Oxford Handbook of the Politics of Development Carol Lancaster, Nicolas van de Walle, 2018-05-01. In many discussions of nations' development we often focus on their economic and social development. Is it becoming wealthier? Is its society modernizing? Is it becoming more technologically sophisticated? Are social outcomes improving for the broad mass of the public? The process of development policy implementation, however, is always and inevitably political. Put simply, regime type matters when it comes to deciding on a course of development to follow. Further, political institutions matter. When a government's institutional capacity is low, the chances of success severely decline regardless of the merits of the development plan. In The Oxford Handbook of the Politics of Development, two of America's leading political scientists on the issue, Carol Lancaster and Nicolas van de Walle, have assembled an international cast of leading scholars to craft a broad state of the art work on this vitally important topic. This volume is divided into five sections: major theories of the politics of development organized historically (e.g. modernization theory, dependency theory, the Washington consensus, policies without politics, etc.); key domestic factors and variables; key international factors and variables; political systems and structures; and geographical perspectives inclusive of regional dynamics. A comprehensive and cross regional examination on key issues of political development, this Handbook not only provides an authoritative synthesis of past scholarship but also sets the agenda for future research in this discipline. Development Finance and Policy Reform

Paul Mosley, 1992-08-18 Conditionality has long been used by the IMF and more recently by World Bank and bilateral donors as an instrument for improving the effectiveness of international finance. This collection of essays by representatives of donors and recipients as well as independent observers suggests that because of recipients' increased bargaining power, such an improvement has seldom resulted.
