Politics Of Archaeology And Identity In A Global Context:

The Politics of Archaeology and Identity in a Global Context Susan Kane, 2003 One of the most controversial topics in archaeology is the relationship between archaeology and nationalism how issues of ethnicity cultural identity nationalism and politics affect the study of the past This volume demonstrates that if the discipline of archaeology may be defined as the interaction of present and past in the study of material evidence the interpretation of such evidence is greatly dependent on who is doing the analysis and for what reasons be they political personal academic or economic The eight papers in this collection with their variety of approaches and diverse geographical scope including Albania Central and North America Egypt Greece Israel Italy Japan and Turkey are a contribution to the ongoing discussion of archaeology and the construction of identity and how modern archaeology can aid humanity in the search for its past and present identities The Archaeology of Identity Margarita Díaz-Andreu García, 2005 Bringing together a wealth of scholarship which provides a unique integrated approach to identity this is an excellent overview of the five recently emerged key areas in archaeological social theory gender age ethnicity religion and status Archaeology and Capitalism Yannis Hamilakis, Philip Duke, 2016-06-03 The contributors to this volume focus on the inherent political nature of archaeology and its relationship to power and explore how archaeologists can become more overtly agents of social change for individuals and communities

Sharing Archaeology Peter Stone, Zhao Hui, 2014-08-13 As a discipline Archaeology has developed rapidly over the last half century The increase in so called public archaeology with its wide range of television programming community projects newspaper articles and enhanced site based interpretation has taken archaeology from a closed academic discipline of interest to a tiny minority to a topic of increasing interest to the general public This book explores how archaeologists share information with specialists from other disciplines working within archaeology other archaeologists and a range of non specialist groups It emphasises that to adequately address contemporary levels of interest in their subject archaeologists must work alongside and trust experts with an array of different skills and specializations Drawing on case studies from eleven countries Sharing Archaeology explores a wide range of issues raised as the result of archaeologists communication both within and outside the discipline Examining best practice with wider implications and uses beyond the specified case studies the chapters in this book raise questions as well as answers provoking a critical evaluation of how best to interact with varied audiences and enhance sharing of archaeology Encounters | Materialities | Confrontations Per Cornell, Fredrik Fahlander, 2009-01-14 This collection of texts is a first step towards providing a theoretical and methodological platform for the study of social encounters The social encounter is a particular sort of concept focusing on confusion tension trauma and possibly social change that may emerge in situations of contact when people and things interact A social encounter is however not only about negotiation or contemplating existence but is rather about what happens when people interact actively when they involve themselves with people and materialities when they move around fetch things use things leave things etc The repeated social encounter is often a confrontation with something such as an opinion a performance or with materialities and the effects are often unpredictable Encounters may reproduce a social pattern but also contain potential for transformation and change Such varied responses to encounters will certainly have effects on the archaeological record The primary focus of the volume is the effects and processes involved in intra and inter societal encounters The collection hence fills a theoretical and methodological gap in the study of the encounter in archaeology There is a need for elaborating aspects of postcolonial theory in order to develop new ways of approaching the archaeological record The articles of this volume include examples from various regions and time periods They range from Scandinavian Stone Age through Buddhist social practices of the first millennium AD Maya warfare and ideology to Aboriginal European encounters in 20th century Australia

Per Cornell PhD Ass Prof is currently lecturer at the Department of archaeology University of Gothenburg Cornell has been involved in extensive field work in Latin America and current research topics include settlement archaeology formation processes and social theory Among his recent books are Local Regional Global co edited with Per Stenborg Gotarc 2004

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Death and Burial Sarah Tarlow,Liv Nilsson Stutz,2013-06-06 The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Death and Burial reviews the current state of mortuary archaeology and its practice highlighting its often contentious place in the modern socio politics of archaeology It contains forty four chapters which focus on the history of the discipline and its current scientific techniques and methods Written by leading international scholars in the field it derives its examples and case studies from a wide range of time periods such as the middle palaeolithic to the twentieth century and geographical areas which include Europe North and South America Africa and Asia Combining up to date knowledge of relevant archaeological research with critical assessments of the theme and an evaluation of future research trajectories it draws attention to the social symbolic and theoretical aspects of interpreting mortuary archaeology The volume is well illustrated with maps plans photographs and illustrations and is ideally suited for students and researchers

Archaeology and History in Roman, Medieval and Post-medieval Greece William Caraher, Linda Jones Hall, R. Scott Moore, 2008 Bringing together studies of archaeological method and analysis with detailed work of historical interpretation the papers here demonstrate how analysis informed by multiple disciplines sheds new light on such important topics as the end of Antiquity the so called Byzantine Dark Ages the contours of the emerging Byzantine civilization and the complex character of identity in post medieval Greece More broadly this volume shows how the study of the material culture of post classical Greece has made significant contributions to both the larger archaeological and historical discourse     A Companion to Ethnicity in the Ancient Mediterranean Jeremy McInerney, 2014-06-13 A Companion to Ethnicity in the Ancient Mediterranean presents a comprehensive collection of essays contributed by Classical Studies scholars that explore questions relating to ethnicity in the ancient Mediterranean world Covers topics of ethnicity in civilizations ranging from ancient Egypt and Israel to Greece and Rome and into Late Antiquity Features cutting edge research on ethnicity relating to Philistine Etruscan and Phoenician identities Reveals the explicit relationships between ancient and modern ethnicities Introduces an interpretation of ethnicity as an active component of social identity Represents a fundamental questioning of formally accepted and fixed categories in the field     Political Culture, Soft Interventions and Nation Building Tiffany Jenkins, 2016-01-13 This book raises questions about cultural interventions an area of investigation somewhat overlooked in place of developing a critique of political interventions Whilst political interventions are more explicit coercive and have a wide reaching impact it is important also to examine the way culture is used in attempts to reconstruct society and peoples the soft side of statebuilding where heritage is utilised to play a role in the construction of the nation and the people in memory and identity For it can play a role in legitimizing myths and identifying symbolic historic events and implicitly informs the construction of infrastructure institutions and other aspects of civic life Contributors from the fields of politics anthropology archaeology and sociology examine interventions in state and nation building through cultural methods the soft side of statebuilding including the preservation and promotion of certain heritage the politics of remembrance and monument building and the repatriation of human remains and artefacts to communities in the name of making reparations for past atrocities These are timely contributions Heritage and cultural is too often considered in terms of how tourism might contribute to the economy post conflict neglecting the construction of meaning and memory through decisions about what is preserved or not It will be of special interest to those in the field of cultural studies archaeology and politics as well as international relations This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Intervention and Statebuilding     The Impacts of Dictatorship on Heritage Management Minjae Zoh, 2020-10-06 The relationship between heritage and dictatorship has arguably been relatively understudied compared to research on the nation state In recognising the importance of understanding how different political systems can have various and particular outcomes on heritage The Impacts of Dictatorship on Heritage Management has developed the concept of Authorised Dictatorial Discourse ADD to the ever growing and evolving field of Heritage Studies Through the exploration of the various impacts a dictatorship can have on the management and uses of heritage sites this book sets out to examine how a dictator's interests in certain heritage sites and particularly territories can affect how heritage becomes preserved and promoted in both the mid and long terms Building on Laurajane Smith's seminal works on Authorised Heritage Discourse AHD in her book Uses of Heritage Routledge 2006 this book also seeks to gain a more precise and in depth understanding of the relationship between heritage and dictatorship how authorised discourses on heritage has been exercised and how territory policies that influenced the preservation and promotion of heritage sites have been executed In doing so The Impacts of Dictatorship on Heritage Management aims to provide a better insight into demonstrate how and the extent to which the politics of heritage and territory can be interlinked with this type of political system This book will appeal to those with a keen interest in heritage management dictatorship and heritage South Korean heritage and theoretical heritage management It will be of particular interest to research students and scholars who are part of this interdisciplinary field Archaeologies of Placemaking Patricia E Rubertone, 2016-07 The contributors ask critical questions about historic preservation and commemoration methods used by modern societies and their impact on the perception and identity of Native American peoples who are generally not consulted in the commemoration process Enclosing Space, Opening New Ground Tanja Romankiewicz, Manuel Fernández-Götz, Gary Lock, Olivier Büchsenschütz, 2019-03-31 Enclosures are among the most widely distributed features of the European Iron Age From fortifications to field systems they demarcate territories and settlements sanctuaries and central places burials and ancestral grounds This dividing of the physical and the mental landscape between an inside and an outside is investigated anew in a series of essays by some of the leading scholars on the topic The contributions cover new ground from Scotland to Spain between France and the Eurasian steppe on how concepts and communities were created as well as exploring specific aspects and broader notions of how humans marked bounded and guarded landscapes in order to connect across space and time A recurring theme considers how Iron Age enclosures created curated formed or deconstructed memory and identity and how by enclosing space these communities opened links to an earlier past in order to understand or express their Iron Age presence In this way the contributions examine perspectives that are of wider relevance for related themes in different periods
