Pre Invasion Bombing Strategy General Eisenhowers Decision Of March 25 1944:

Pre-Invasion Bombing Strategy W. W. Rostow,1997-07-01 On March 25 1944 General Eisenhower met in London with all the major military figures in Britain concerned with the application of air power against Germany How should the massive British and American bombing forces be deployed in the two months preceding D Day and in the period immediately thereafter The choice before Eisenhower was simple a systematic assault on the railroad marshaling yards and repair facilities of northwestern Europe or a systematic attack on German oil production This lively account of a still debated pivotal decision contains a good deal of previously unpublished material Pre-invasion Bombing Strategy Walt Whitman Rostow,1981

Nuclear Illusion, Nuclear Reality R. Moore,2010-05-19 A study of the political military and technical aspects of Britain s nuclear weapons programme under the Macmillan government contrasting Britain s perceived political decline with its growth in technological mastery and military nuclear capability Important reading for anyone interested in the history and military technology of the cold war Military Planning in the Twentieth Century Mary Ann Robinson,1984

The essays commentaries and speeches which form this volume were presented at the Eleventh Military History Symposium held at the United States Air Force Academy on 10 12 October 1984 This conference is a biennial event sponsored jointly by the Department of History and the Association of Graduates of the United States Air Force Academy Begun in 1967 the series seeks to address problems in military history which have received limited attention and to provide a forum in which scholars may present the results of their research In this manner we hope to stimulate and encourage interest in military history among civilian and military scholars members of the armed forces and the cadets of the United States Air Force Academy Special Bibliography Series United States Air Force Academy. Library,1957 Special Bibliography Series ,1957 Military planning in the twentieth century , Supreme Command Eliot A. Cohen,2012-10-01

SUPREME COMMAND is about leadership in wartime or more precisely about the tension between two kinds of leadership civil and military Eliot Cohen uncovers the nature of strategy making by looking at four great democratic war statesmen and seeing how they dealt with the military leaders who served them In doing so he reveals fundamental aspects of leadership and provides not merely an historical analysis but a study of issues that remain crucial today By examining the cases of four of the greatest war statesmen of the twentieth century he explores the problem of how people confront the greatest challenges that can befall them in this case national leaders Beginning with a discussion of civil military relations from a theoretical point of view Cohen lays out the conventional beliefs about how politicians should deal with generals and the extent to which either can influence the outcome of war From these he draws broader lessons for students of leadership generally In the Wake of War Jeffry M. Diefendorf,1993-06-24 In 1945 Germany s cities lay in ruins destroyed by Allied bombers hat left major architectural monuments badly damaged and much of the housing stock reduced to rubble At the war s end observers thought that it would take forty years to rebuild but by the late 1950s West Germany s cities had risen anew The housing crisis had been overcome and virtually all important monuments reconstructed and the cities had reclaimed their characteristic identities Everywhere there was a mixture of old and new historic churches and town halls stood alongside new housing and department stores ancient street layouts were crossed or encircled by wide arteries old city centers were balanced by garden suburbs laid out according to modern planning principles In this book Diefendorf examines the questions raised by this remarkable feat of urban reconstruction He explains who was primarily responsible what accounted for the speed of rebuilding and how priorities were set and decisions acted upon He argues that in such crucial areas as architectural style urban planning historic preservation and housing policy the Germans drew upon personnel ideas institutions and practical experiences from the Nazi and pre Nazi periods Diefendorf shows how the rebuilding of West Germany's cities after 1945 can only be understood in terms of long term continuities in urban development

Big Week Bill Yenne, 2014-02-04 In just six days the United States Strategic Air Forces changed the course of military offense in World War II During those six days they launched the largest bombing campaign of the war dropping roughly ten thousand tons of bombs in a rain of destruction that would take the skies back from the Nazis The Allies knew that if they were to invade Hitler's Fortress Europe they would have to wrest air superiority from the mighty Luftwaffe The plan of the United States Strategic Air Forces was extremely risky During the week of February 20 1944 and joined by the RAF Bomber Command the USAAF Eighth and Fifteenth Air Force bombers took on this vital mission They ran the gauntlet of the most heavily defended air space in the world to deal a death blow to Germany's aircraft industry and made them pay with the planes already in the air In the coming months this Big Week would prove a deciding factor in the war Both sides were dealt losses but whereas the Allies could recover damage to the Luftwaffe was irreparable Thus Big Week became one of the most important episodes of World War II and coincidentally one of the most overlooked until now

A Companion to World War II Thomas W. Zeiler, Daniel M. DuBois, 2012-12-21 A Companion to World War II brings together a series of fresh academic perspectives on World War II exploring the many cultural social and political contexts of the war Essay topics range from American anti-Semitism to the experiences of French African soldiers providing nearly 60 new contributions to the genre arranged across two comprehensive volumes A collection of original historiographic essays that include cutting edge research Analyzes the roles of neutral nations during the war Examines the war from the bottom up through the experiences of different social classes Covers the causes key battles and consequences of the war

Special Operations and Strategy James D. Kiras, 2006-07-29 James D Kiras shows how a number of different special operations in conjunction with more conventional military actions achieve and sustain strategic effects over time In particular he argues that the root of effective special operations lies in understanding the relationship existing between moral and material attrition at the strategic level He also presents a theoretical framework for understanding how special operations achieve strategic effects using a unique synthesis of strategic theory and case studies This study shows how the key to understanding how special operations reside in the concept of strategic attrition and in the moral and material nature of strategy It also highlights major figures such as Carl von Clausewitz Hans Delbrück and Mao Zedong who understood these complexities and were experts in eroding an enemy's will to fight These and other examples provide a superb explanation of the complexities of modern strategy and the place of special operations in a war of attrition This book will be of great interest to all students and scholars with an interest in special forces and of strategic and military studies in general

A Bibliography of Military Geography Eugene J. Palka, 1988 This four volume document is designed to enhance scholarly research in the area of military geography and to serve as a reference tool It is anticipated that this will meet the research needs of professors and students of military science geography and history along with members of the Armed Forces government officials and planners This bibliography is organized following the accepted scheme for military geography utilizing three main categories systematic topical and regional Volume I is a complete alphabetized list Volume II is organized systematically Volume III is organized topically and Volume IV collects regional sources

Air Battles Before D-Day Colonel Joseph T. Molyson Jr. (Ret), 2025-06-03 From the skies above Europe to the beaches of Normandy the Allied air campaign of 1943-44 orchestrated one of history's most decisive military victories In this groundbreaking analysis retired Air Force Colonel Joseph T Molyson reveals how a year of strategic bombing and aerial warfare created the conditions necessary for D Day's success Drawing on his thirty years of military intelligence experience Molyson pieces together the complex puzzle of amphibious planning airborne operations and inter Allied coordination that culminated in Operation Overlord Key revelations include How the Allied victory in the Battle of the Atlantic enabled the crucial flow of American resources The strategic bombing campaign's dual role in weakening both German industry and Luftwaffe capabilities The intricate coordination between British night raids and American daylight bombing missions Previously overlooked connections between air superiority and the success of the D Day landings Perfect for military history enthusiasts and World War II scholars alike this meticulously researched account offers fresh insights into the aerial strategy that changed the course of history

Tedder Vincent Orange, 2012-10-12 Arthur Tedder became one of the most eminent figures of the Second World War first as head of Anglo American air forces in the Middle East the Mediterranean and North Africa then as Deputy Supreme Commander to General Eisenhower for the Allied campaign that began in Normandy and ended in Berlin During those anxious exhilarating years he was as The Times of London wrote the most unstuffy of great commanders who could be found sitting cross legged jacketless pipe smoldering answering questions on a desert airstrip After the war promoted to five star rank and elevated to the peerage as Lord Tedder he was made Chief of the Air Staff holding this appointment for longer than anyone since his time four critical years from 1946 to 1949 that saw the tragic start of the Cold War and the inspiring achievement of the Berlin Airlift In 1950 he became Britain's NATO representative in Washington a year that saw the start of a hot war in Korea that threatened to spread around the globe This book provides the first comprehensive account of a great commander's public career and uses hundreds of family letters to portray a private life both joyful and tragic The Shock of the Old David Edgerton, 2011-08-29 In this new history David Edgerton invites us to rethink how technology is used For instance horses contributed more to Nazi conquests than the V2 In influence IKEA founder Ingvar Kamprad matches Bill Gates And corrugated iron is not dead yet Beyond the Beach Stephen Bourque, 2018-04-15 An important rethinking of the Normandy war narrative Beyond the Beach examines the Allied air war against France in 1944 During this period General Dwight David Eisenhower as Supreme Allied Commander took control of all American British and Canadian air units and employed them for tactical and operational purposes over France rather than as a strategic force to attack targets deep in Germany Using bombers as his long range artillery he directed the destruction of bridges rail centers ports military installations and even French towns with the intent of preventing German reinforcements from interfering with Operation Neptune the Allied landings on the Normandy beaches Ultimately this air offensive resulted in the death of over 60 000 French civilians and an immense amount of damage to towns churches buildings and works of art This intense bombing operation conducted against a friendly occupied state resulted in a swath of physical and human destruction across northwest France that is rarely discussed as part of the D Day landings This book explores the relationship between ground and air operations and its effects on the French population It examines the three broad groups that the air operations involved the doctrine and equipment used by Allied air force leaders to implement Eisenhower's plans and each of the eight major operations called lines of effort that coordinated the employment of the thousands of fighters medium bombers and heavy bombers that prowled the French skies that spring and summer of 1944 Each of these sections discusses the operation's purpose conduct and effects upon both the military and the civilian targets Finally the book explores the short and long term effects of these operations and argues that this ignored narrative should be part of any history of the D Day landings

Concept and Controversy Walt Whitman Rostow, 2003-07-01 Rostow can be placed in the category of Dean Rusk and others who pondered difficult issues made judgments and had to live with them He was part of the establishment a wise man one who was very successful His memoirs are bound to interest many people scholars and officials alike They offer a fascinating look at several decades of history and scholarship Thomas W Zeiler author of Dean Rusk Defending the American Mission Abroad A trusted advisor to Presidents Eisenhower Kennedy and Johnson and one of America's leading professors of economic history W W Rostow has helped shape the intellectual debate and governmental policies on major economic political and military issues since World War II In this thought provoking memoir he takes a retrospective look at eleven key policy problems with which he has been involved to show how ideas flow into concrete action and how actions taken or not taken in the short term actually determine the long run that we call the future The issues that Rostow discusses are these The use of air power in Europe in the 1940s Working toward a united Europe during the Cold War The death of Joseph Stalin and early attempts to end the Cold War Eisenhower's Open Skies policy The debate over foreign aid in the 1950s The economic revival of Korea Efforts to control inflation in the 1960s Waiting for democracy in China The Vietnam War and Southeast Asian policy U S urban problems in disadvantaged neighborhoods The challenges posed by declining population in the twenty first century In discussing how he and others have worked to meet these challenges Rostow builds a compelling case for including long term forces in the making of current policy He concludes his memoir with provocative reflections on the twentieth and twenty first centuries and on how individual actors shape history Studies in Intelligence ,1992

The Enemy Objectives Unit In World War II: Major Brian P. Ballew,2014-08-15 In June of 1942 Eighth Air Force deployed to the UK and began preparation for a bombing campaign However during the initial planning efforts it became apparent the staff lacked the expertise needed to analyze and recommend bombing targets Colonel Richard Hughes the Chief Planner for American Air Forces in Europe recognized this deficiency and requested a team to assist with target selection The Enemy Objectives Unit EOU a team of civilian economists began arriving in London in September 1942 to support the Eighth Air Force While formally assigned to the US Embassy in London for practical purposes the team worked for Colonel Hughes Using their economic expertise EOU members studied the German industrial complex to identify vulnerabilities and then recommend to planners and senior leaders those industries the US Strategic Air Forces in Europe should target Taking an effects based approach the team sought to maximize the efficiency and effectiveness of US airpower to produce the greatest effects on Germany s war economy The EOU s target selection methodology required intelligence data on enemy targets an awareness of United States Army Air Forces bombing capabilities and most importantly an understanding of military and political aims To ensure selected targets aligned with military and political aims the EOU regularly collaborated with air planning staffs and senior leaders Three case studies highlight the interaction and collaboration that occurred between the EOU and Army Air Forces planners and leaders prioritizing targets for Operation POINTBLANK development of an Oil Plan following Big Week in Feb 1944 and the recommendation to strike bridges versus marshaling yards prior to Operation OVERLORD Each of these case studies demonstrates that the integration and cooperation between the EOU and air force leaders and planning staffs ensured that targets selected for aerial bombardment supported political and military objectives
