The Jazz of Preaching Kirk Byron Jones, 2010-09-01 What if preachers were as contagiously joyful in their preaching as Louis Armstrong was in his playing and singing As rich in their sermon renderings as Sarah Vaughan was in her musical vocals As honest about heartache as Billie Holiday was every time she sang about the blues of life As alluringly clear as the angelic voice of Ella Fitzgerald As tenaciously uninhibited in the action of creating as Duke Ellington Of course this is too much to ask of people even those called by God However it is not too much to ask this question Can preaching be enhanced through the metaphor of jazz Can an understanding of the inner dynamics of jazz its particular forms rules and styles inform one's practice of preaching as well Can jazz's simultaneous structure and spontaneity help preachers better understand their own art The answer to these questions says Jones is an unqualified yes He explains how one can dramatically improve one's preaching through understanding and applying key elements of the musical art form known as jazz No musical background is necessary all

Corporate Creativity Sam Stern, 1997 A company's creativity is the source of new ideas that lead to everything from the tiniest improvements to dramatic innovations Most companies are only too aware that their creative performance falls far short of potential The problem is that they don't know what to do about it Evidence shows that most creative acts are not planned for and come from where they are least expected It is impossible to predict what they will be who will be involved and when and how they will happen This is the true nature of corporate creativity and it is where a company's creative potential really The New Interpreter's® Handbook of Preaching, 2010-11-01 The New Interpreter's Handbook of Preaching is a major reference tool for preaching with articles on every facet of Christian sermon preparation and delivery This resource is both scholarly and practical It focuses on the most distinctive feature and greatest strength of homiletics as a discipline It is rooted in interdisciplinary scholarship and it develops theory geared to practice Its theory arises out of the study of both excellent preaching past and present and actual sermon preparation and composition When theory and practice critique each other it is possible to produce guidelines that assist greater excellence and economy in preaching the gospel Excellence in standards is an area in which homiletics needs to grow and this project will be both a means to encourage and develop it A guiding question throughout will be Will it preach The answers will be offered in the sense that here is something that works well rather than here is something to try Preachers will turn to this resource with the expectation that
