Predator Group:

Group Selection in Predator-Prey Communities Michael E. Gilpin, 2020-03-31 Many animals regulate their population density by patterns of behavior that would be easy to explain if the forces of natural selection acted to optimize group properties But Darwinian selection acts on individuals not groups and most simple theories have shown group selection to be too slow ever to oppose individual selection successfully In this book Michael Gilpin presents a model based on predator prey dynamics wherein nonlinear effects are important so that small advantages to the selfish individual are nonlinearly amplified into disaster for his group The result is that group selection can be rapid and powerful Of course many instances of apparent group selection can be explained by kin selection in other cases close examination reveals that seemingly altruistic behavior directly benefits the individual genotype as well as the group The value of the monograph is that it provides a robust model in which group selection pure and unadulterated can be seen to work Cattle, Their Predators and Geomatics Research

Michael O'Neal Campbell, 2025-08-06 Cattle are currently the most important domesticated mammals with populations numbering in the hundreds of millions and occupying large tracts of land while the conservation of large mammalian carnivores is becoming a dominant discourse in modern geopolitics also claiming large portions of the Earth's land surface Computer based surveying and communication systems including geomatics Big Data and Big Tech are becoming an essential part of human communication and environmental assessments and are critical to large scale assessments of land conflicts A current critical potent but neglected issue concerns the measurement of the interfaces of large carnivore and cattle ecologies in a cross continental format This book offers a novel approach to the interfaces of the sciences of conservation biology animal ecology agricultural development and geomatics which are increasingly interconnected in modern global development scenarios For animal ecology and conservation biology it is about the management systems that have developed from ecological and human parameters For agricultural development topics concern ancestral development physiological characteristics ecological requirements and predation opportunities and conflicts of cattle breeds For geomatics the topics concern the image based and survey based technologies that enable more critical environmental assessments The book takes a novel approach by examining the ancestry of cattle including the aurochs and current wild buffalos gaur banteng yaks bison the process of domestication into taurine and indicine cattle the semi domestication of yaks and water buffalo the ecologies of ancestral and modern large carnivores including bears big cats and canids and how the requirements of these large charismatic mammals conflict with the requirements of cattle and agricultural development in Asia Europe Africa North America and South America This integrative approach contributes to the interests of academic researchers students practitioners and policy makers and general readers Analysis of vertebrate predator-prey community Vadim Sidorovich, 2011-09-01 This monograph is about predation in vertebrate animal community The studies were done in the seminatural terrains with transitional mixed forest within the European forest zone in Belarus The result part was organised as a top down flow First the community characteristics related to predators were estimated I presented data on predator species richness population density and biomass with special attention paid to the changes in predator species diversity occurred during the last two centuries and particularly in connection with the American mink and raccoon dog naturalization Then the main features of predator food niches were given and the structure of various predator guilds and size structure in predators were analysed The next part of the monograph was devoted to examining of community important factors acting in semi natural terrains Such factors affected either the whole community or its marked fragment The last quite a large part of the monograph consisted of many chapters which present more or less essential results on different predator species and stresses hot questions of their population ecology Animal Behavior Ken

Video Surveillance of Nesting Birds Christine Ann Ribic, 2012-05-13 Until recently inferring identities of predators and monitoring cryptic behaviors at the nest was time consuming often with anecdotal results No more Video nest surveillance so aptly revealed in this volume has ushered in a new era of data collection that allows field workers to link environmental factors with such aspects as the temporal dynamics of predator communities in relation to what the birds are doing at their nests thus removing much of the guesswork of earlier studies Spencer G Sealy University of Manitoba Video

Surveillance of Nesting Birds shatters earlier beliefs about how birds interact with nest predators Much of what we thought we knew about nesting and its hazards was flat out wrong as authors in this book discovered by using modern technology in the field As simple as we would like our models of animal behavior to be this book shows that reality is far more complex and nuanced Douglas H Johnson University of Minnesota Assessment of the Fate and Effects of Toxic Agents on Water Resources I. Ethem Gonenc,Vladimir G. Koutitonsky,Brenda Rashleigh,Robert B. Jr Ambrose,John P. Wolflin,2007-02-20 Water has become one of the potential targets of terrorists This volume addresses the basic scientific concepts that must be integrated by decision makers to minimize damages and optimize recovery operations in the aftermath of such an attack It addresses the multidisciplinary approaches for rapid diagnoses and assessments and offers a step by step treatment of all aspects of ecosystem processes modelling and monitoring Wild Turkey James G. Dickson,1992-09 A National Wild Turkey Federation and U S Forest Service book Standard reference for all subspecies Extensive new information on all aspects of wild turkey ecology and management The standard reference for all subspecies Eastern Gould s Merriam s Florida and Rio Grande The Wild Turkey summarizes the new technologies and studies leading to better understanding and management Synthesizing the work of all current experts The Wild Turkey presents extensive new data on restoration techniques population influences and management physical characteristics and behavior habitat use by season sex and age historic and seasonal ranges and habitat types and nesting ecology The book is designed to further the already incredible comeback of America s wild turkey Animal Life in Groups Toney Allman,2009 Living in groups has been an animal survival strategy for millions of years Animal Life in Groups explores the social lives of bees meerkats monkeys and other animals and insects with a special emphasis on how different groups compare to one another and how living with others benefits individuals From hives to more complex cultures the intricacies of community living are both fascinating and instructive about the evolution of behavior cooperation intelligence and emotions Critique of the Theory of Evolution Walter Friedman,2007-08-15 In this book Walter Friedman exposes internal contradictions that nullify the theory of evolution He also reveals the ways Charles Darwin falsified observation data to promote his pseudoscientific discovery In a variety of ways Friedman aims to undercut the logical assumptions of evolutionary theory First he applies elementary probability theory to show that a random mutation cannot spread to an entire population which means that the evolution of species is a myth Friedman further contends that the centerpiece of Darwin s theory the hypothesis of natural selection is also a statistical impossibility as simple arithmetic reveals Third he turns to genetics data to demonstrate that the idea of the evolution of species leads to ridiculous conclusions Next Friedman employs anthropological findings of so called human ancestors to argue the reverse of what anthropologists believe to be true that evolution never took place Fifth Friedman appeals to the laws of physics to explain why it is impossible in principle for inorganic matter to transform into organic matter with a DNA like structure Darwin s racist view of people of African descent and its legal implications for the teaching of the evolutionary theory in public schools are also investigated The last section of the book provides extensive criticism of the books written by prominent evolutionists including Darwin Friedman points out that a vast majority of false scientific theories stumbled and fell not because they were replaced by new more sophisticated theories but simply because of an abundance of conflicting statements and disagreement with the experimental data For the same reasons he finally asserts the theory of evolution is destined for oblivion
