Exclusion and Poverty in India and Central Asia Chittaranjan Senapati, 2016-09-09 The early years of 1990s economic reform and change has neglected social sectors both in India and Central Asia As a result poverty has also increased in India and Central Asian countries The economic political and social situation has worsened in all Central Asian states due to transition from command economy to market economy The early 1990s political decision has been dominated by a narrowly conceived version of economic policy for both India and Central Asia As a result the quality and the structure of social protection changed in a negative way Indeed in some cases the pursuit of a strict economic orthodoxy has left various sections of the community marginalized and alienated Both the societies confront a number of challenges that is as profound as the economic changes of the past The process of globalization and technical change has influenced economy and society in complex ways including raising expectations of consumption and remuneration for skilled knowledge workers creating greater demand for some information skills and services causing unemployment amongst those with few qualifications and destabilizing some traditional ways of life and increasing social exclusion It detaches groups and individuals from social relations and institutions and prevents them from full participation in the normal activities of the society In India and Central Asia communities face social exclusion on the basis of their identity as ethnic groups socio economic groups religious community and gender Inclusive development therefore is essential and it should be the top priority in development programs of India and Central Asia Research in this area has not been touched upon so far Since Central Asian countries are relatively new and trying to establish their democratic institutions this piece of work will be helpful for their nation building processes So far as the mutual benefit for both the regions is concerned India is an old democracy and its inclusive policy can be lessons for Central Asian countries On the other hand the experience of Central Asias policy implementation can be a lesson for India This piece of work has potential impulses to policy makers academicians and researchers of these five Central Asian countries and India This work can make a distinction than the conventional researcher in India by focusing on development studies social exclusion inclusive policies and comparative studies in international developments Key words social exclusion poverty deprivation development diversity India Central Asia Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan

Religious Activism in the Global Economy Sabine Dreher, Peter J. Smith, 2016-06-01 Protests of neoliberal globalization have proliferated in recent years not least in response to the financial crisis austerity and increasing inequality But how do religious groups organize themselves in response to these issues This book systematically studies the relationship of religious activism towards neoliberal globalization It considers how religious organizations often play a central role in the resistance against global capitalism endeavouring to offer alternatives and developments for reform But it also examines the other side of the coin showing how many religious groups help to diffuse neoliberal values promote and reinforce practices of capitalism Drawing on a unique set of case studies from around the world the chapters examine a range of groups and their practices in order to provide a thorough examination of the relationship between religion and the global political economy

Iron Will Markus Kroger, 2020-11-23 Iron Will lays bare the role of extractivist policies and efforts to resist these policies through a deep ethnographic exploration of globally important iron ore mining in Brazil and India Markus Kroger addresses resistance strategies to extractivism and tracks their success or lack thereof through a comparison of peaceful and armed resource conflicts explaining how different means of resistance arise Using the distinctly different contexts and political systems of Brazil and India highlights the importance of local context for resistance For example if there is an armed conflict at a planned mining site how does this influence the possibility to use peaceful resistance strategies To answer such questions Kroger assesses the inter relations of contentious electoral institutional judicial and private politics that surround conflicts and interactions offering a new theoretical framework of investment politics that can be applied generally by scholars and students of social movements environmental studies and political economy and even more broadly in Social Scientific and

Environmental Policy research By drawing on a detailed field research and other sources this book explains precisely which resistance strategies are able to influence both political and economic outcomes Kr ger expands the focus of traditionally Latin American extractivism research to other contexts such as India and the growing extractivist movement in the Global North In addition as the book is a multi sided political ethnography it will appeal to sociologists political scientists anthropologists geographers and others using field research among other methods to understand globalization and global political interactions It is the most comprehensive book on the political economy and ecology of iron ore and steel This is astonishing given the fact that iron ore is the second most important commodity in the world after oil KRIDHA ARUNIM KATHURIA,2020-02-05 If we break down KRIDHA KRI means Krishna and DHA means Radha I am not the real creator of KRIDHA but I will not disclose their names Rather I will humbly pray that Shree Radha Krishna always shower their blessings on them along with the rest of us Northeast India and Japan Mayumi Murayama, Sanjoy Hazarika, Preeti Gill, 2021-09-30 This book examines the complex and connected past present and future of Northeast India and Japan It looks at the intricate political geography and ethnolinguistic diversity of India s Northeast and its historical and strategic relationship with Japan From the theatre of the Second World War to a potential economic corridor to the Indo Pacific the Northeast which shares a border with China Nepal Bangladesh Bhutan and Myanmar has emerged as an area of central importance in India Japan relations The book highlights the importance of connectivity and cooperation in the North Eastern Region for sustainable growth better accessibility and quality of life The chapters in the volume look at shared economic socio political and environmental concerns of the two countries as well as the shared legacies between Japan and the Northeast through stories collective memories and memorials about World War II and research They also explore the strategic implications of China s One Belt One Road initiative in the region and for India Japan relations India s Act East policy provincial politics and ethnic conflicts and the challenges for sustainable development and greater cooperation for the two countries With contributions from both Indian and Japanese academics this book will be a key resource on understanding Asian politics It will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of politics and international relations strategic studies development studies and Asian studies Stories That Bind Madhavi Murty, 2022-05-13 Introduction Spectacular realism and political economic change The development story caste religion and poverty in new India Iconicity moving between the real and the spectacular The entrepreneur new identities for new times Love in new times Screen World ,2006 AKASHVANI All India Radio (AIR), New Delhi ,1976-05-30 Akashvani English is a programme journal of ALL INDIA RADIO it was formerly known as The Indian Listener It used to serve the listener as a bradshaw of broadcasting and give listener the useful information in an interesting manner about programmes who writes them take part in them and produce them along with photographs of performing artists It also contains the information of major changes in the policy and service of the organisation The Indian Listener fortnightly programme journal of AIR in English published by The Indian State Broadcasting Service Bombay started
