Prehistory of Arid North Africa Angela E. Close,1987      The Agricultural Revolution in Prehistory Graeme Barker,2009
Addressing one of the most debated revolutions in the history of our species the change from hunting and gathering to farming this title takes a global view and integrates an array of information from archaeology and many other disciplines including anthropology botany climatology genetics linguistics and zoology      Analytical Bibliography of the Prehistory and the Early Dynastic Period of Egypt and Northern Sudan Stan Hendrickx,1995 An analytical bibliography that contains 7407 references covering the Egyptian prehistory palaeolithic neolithic and predynastic as well as the period of the first two dynasties      New light on the Northeast African past : current prehistoric research Frank Klees,Rudolph Kuper,1992-01-01      Proceedings of the Third International Conference on the Archaeology of the Fourth Nile Cataract Hans-Peter Wotzka,2012-01-01      The Prehistory of Food Chris Gosden,Jon G. Hather,2004-01-14 The Prehistory of Food sets subsistence in its social context by focusing on food as a cultural artefact It brings together contributors with a scientific and biological expertise as well as those interested in the patterns of consumption and social change and includes a wide range of case studies      The Cambridge World Prehistory Colin Renfrew,Paul Bahn,2014-06-09 The Cambridge World Prehistory provides a systematic and authoritative examination of the prehistory of every region around the world from the early days of human origins in Africa two million years ago to the beginnings of written history which in some areas started only two centuries ago Written by a team of leading international scholars the volumes include both traditional topics and cutting edge approaches such as archaeolinguistics and molecular genetics and examine the essential questions of human development around the world The volumes are organised geographically exploring the evolution of hominins and their expansion from Africa as well as the formation of states and development in each region of different technologies such as seafaring metallurgy and food production The Cambridge World Prehistory reveals a rich and complex history of the world It will be an invaluable resource for any student or scholar of archaeology and related disciplines looking to research a particular topic tradition region or period within prehistory      The Oxford Handbook of Nigerian History Toyin Falola,Matthew M. Heaton,2022 Thirty six chapters covering the history of Nigeria from prehistoric times to the twenty first century Accessible overviews of both the political narrative as well as the deeper histories of social organization identity formation and inter group relationships cutting edge analysis of key themes from highly respected scholars in a single forward facing volume Book jacket      The Emergence of Modern Humans Paul Mellars,1990      Archaeology and Language: Correlating archaeological and linguistic hypotheses Roger Blench,Matthew Spriggs,1998 Using language to date the origin and spread of food production Archaeology and Language II represents groundbreaking work in synthesizing two disciplines that are now seen as interlinked linguistics and archaeology This volume is the second part of a three part survey of innovative results emerging from their combination Archaeology and historical linguistics have largely pursued separate tracks until recently although their goals can be very similar While there is a new awareness that these disciplines can be used to complement one another both rigorous methodological awareness and detailed case studies are still lacking in the literature This three part survey is the first study to address this Archaeology and Language II examines in some detail how archaeological data can be interpreted through linguistic hypotheses This collection demonstrates the possibility that where archaeological sequences are reasonably well known they might be tied into evidence of language diversification and thus produce absolute chronologies Where there is evidence for migrations and expansions these can be explored through both disciplines to produce a richer interpretation of prehistory An important part of this is the origin and spread of food production which can be modelled through the spread of both plants and words for them Archaeology and Language II will be of interest to researchers in linguistics archaeologists and anthropologists The Archaeology of

Mobility Hans Barnard,Willeke Wendrich,2008-12-31 There have been edited books on the archaeology of nomadism in various regions and there have been individual archaeological and anthropological monographs but nothing with the kind of coverage provided in this volume Its strength and importance lies in the fact that it brings together a worldwide collection of studies of the archaeology of mobility This book provides a ready made reference to this worldwide phenomenon and is unique in that it tries to redefine pastoralism within a larger context by the term mobility It presents many new ideas and thoughtful approaches especially in the Central Asian region From Lake to Sand. The Archaeology of Farafra Oasis

Western desert, Egypt Barbara E. Barich,Giulio Lucarini,Mohamed A. Hamdan,Fekri A. Hassan,2014-12-11 The volume presents all the data collected during the cycle of research conducted by the Italian Archaeological Mission in the Farafra Oasis between 1990 and 2005 The 29 multidisciplinary essays contained in this book provide a detailed picture of the population of the Farafra Oasis hitherto one of the least well known within the Western Desert Farafra became particularly important during the middle Holocene the period when climate conditions were most favourable with later brief humid episodes even in the historic periods The results of the long term research cycle presented here combined with data from the survey of the whole Wadi el Obeiyid still in progress allow the authors to identify changes in the peopling of the oasis and to define various occupation phases The new chronology for the Wadi el Obeiyid is one of the main achievements of the book and as demonstrated in the final chapter is in complete agreement with the main cultural units of other territories in the Western Desert On this chronological basis the contacts between the latter and the populations established on the Nile are brought into sharper focus The importance of the archaeological documents discovered at Farafra and at the same time their fragility due to the deterioration of the physical environment and the uncontrolled human activities make us fear for their conservation We hope that this book with its complete documentation of the precious nature of the Farafra Oasis landscape and its archaeological heritage may help to promote more effective policies for its safeguard Archaeology and

Language II Roger Blench,Matthew Spriggs,2003-09-02 Using language to date the origin and spread of food production

Archaeology and Language II represents groundbreaking work in synthesizing two disciplines that are now seen as interlinked linguistics and archaeology This volume is the second part of a three part survey of innovative results emerging from their combination Archaeology and historical linguistics have largely pursued separate tracks until recently although their goals can be very similar While there is a new awareness that these disciplines can be used to complement one another both rigorous methodological awareness and detailed case studies are still lacking in the literature This three part survey is the first study to address this Archaeology and Language II examines in some detail how archaeological data can be interpreted through linguistic hypotheses This collection demonstrates the possibility that where archaeological sequences are reasonably well known they might be tied into evidence of language diversification and thus produce absolute chronologies Where there is evidence for migrations and expansions these can be explored through both disciplines to produce a richer interpretation of prehistory An important part of this is the origin and spread of food production which can be modelled through the spread of both plants and words for them Archaeology and Language II will be of interest to researchers in linguistics archaeologists and anthropologists

Humans at the End of the Ice Age Lawrence Guy Straus,Berit Valentin Eriksen,Jon M. Erlandson,David R. Yesner,2012-12-06 Humans at the End of the Ice Age chronicles and explores the significance of the variety of cultural responses to the global environmental changes at the last glacial interglacial boundary Contributions address the nature and consequences of the global climate changes accompanying the end of the Pleistocene epoch detailing the nature speed and magnitude of the human adaptations that culminated in the development of food production in many parts of the world The text is aided by vital maps chronological tables and charts

The Nubian Past David N. Edwards,2004-07-29 Examining the area of Nubia and Sudan from the prehistoric to the nineteenth century AD this is an exceptional study of the area s archaeology and history The first major work in its field for over thirty years this is a must for course students

Encyclopedia of African History 3-Volume Set KEVIN SHILLINGTON.,2005 The Oxford Handbook of African Archaeology Peter Mitchell,Paul Lane,2013-07-04 Africa has the longest and arguably the most diverse archaeological record of any of the continents It is where the human lineage first evolved and from where Homo sapiens spread across the rest of the world Later it witnessed novel experiments in food production and unique trajectories to urbanism and the organisation of large communities that were not always structured along strictly hierarchical lines Millennia of engagement with societies in other parts of the world confirm Africa s active participation in the construction of the modern world while the richness of its history ethnography and linguistics provide unusually powerful opportunities for constructing interdisciplinary narratives of Africa s past This Handbook provides a comprehensive and up to date synthesis of African archaeology covering the entirety of the continent s past from the beginnings of human evolution to the archaeological legacy of European colonialism As well as covering almost all periods and regions of the continent it includes a mixture of key methodological and theoretical issues and debates and situates the subject's contemporary practice within the discipline's history and the infrastructural challenges now facing its practitioners. Bringing together essays on all these themes from over seventy contributors, many of them living and working in Africa, it offers a highly accessible contemporary account of the subject for use by scholars and students of not only archaeology but also history, anthropology and other disciplines.

Rock Art of the Qsur and 'Amour Mountains, Algeria Ahmed Achrati, 2023-01-06. It may be true as Paul Valéry said that the painter takes his body with him, but it is almost certain that artists leave some of their bodies in their art. This book studies the embodied intentionality inscribed in the works of the artists of the Qsur and Amour mountains in Algeria. It retraces the aesthetic gestures of these artists, revealing sounds they heard, tactile and kinesthetic interactions they experienced, and emotions they felt as they recorded the distress and pain of some animals. Combining naturalist style, skilful composition, and spatial features, these artists often gave their art the form of installation, where induced motion and parallax flow create immersive experiences. Using continuous line technique, they created monumental objects and intricate labyrinthine forms.

Palaeolithic Living Sites in Upper and Middle Egypt P. M. Vermeersch, 2000. The field research and associated laboratory analyses reported in this volume represent more than 24 years of investigation in Upper and Middle Egypt by the Belgian Middle Egypt Prehistoric Project of Leuven University. During the course of these years, the project excavated 29 sites with clear evidence of living surfaces. Palaeolithic living sites in Upper and Middle Egypt serve to present the results of these investigations, which span in time from the oldest known human presence in the Egyptian Nile valley, estimated to be some 400,000 years ago, to the Epipalaeolithic era, approximately 6,000 years ago. The excavation data of the sites are illustrated by numerous plans, profiles, and artefact drawings. Thus, work reported herein spans the known Palaeolithic era of the Egyptian Nile valley.
