Rebel Daughters:

The Rebel's Daughter John Gabriel Woerner, 1899 Rebel Daughters Sara E. Melzer, Leslie W. Rabine, 1992 This study analyzes the ironic nature of the social treatment of women during the French Revolution While the allegorical figure of womanhood came to symbolize the virtues of the new French Republic the book describes how women in France were continually repressed and down trodden

Fathers, Daughters, and Slaves Doris Y. Kadish, 2012 This new study brings to life the unique contribution of French women during the early nineteenth century a key period in the history of colonialism and slavery It offers in depth readings of works by five antislavery writers Germaine de Sta l Claire Duras Marceline Desbordes Valmore Charlotte Dard and Sophie Doin

Ascendancy Women and Elementary Education in Ireland Eilís O'Sullivan, 2017-06-30 This book outlines the lives of six female members of the Irish Ascendancy and describes their involvement with educational provision for poor children in Ireland at the end of the long eighteenth century It argues that these women were moved by empathy and by a sense of duty and that they were motivated by political considerations pragmatism and especially religious belief The book highlights the women s agency and locates their contribution in international and literary contexts and by exploring sources and evidence not previously considered it generates an enhanced understanding of Ascendancy women s involvement with the provision of elementary education for poor Irish children This book will appeal to scholars and researchers in the fields of Education and History of Education It will also have broad appeal for those interested in Gender and Women s Studies in Georgian Ireland and in the history of Ascendancy families and estates

Citoyennes Annie Smart, 2011-12-23 In Citoyennes Annie Smart argues that many revolutionary and pre revolutionary works constructed a civic identity for women and portrayed the home as a site for both civic virtue and private subjectivity This interdisciplinary study offers a fresh interpretation of the role of women and the home in eighteenth century France and goes a long way to filling a gaping hole in the contemporary literature on the subject

The White Tribe of Africa David Harrison, 1983-10-01 Seeing and Consciousness Gen Doy, 2020-08-20 Through its provocative examination of feminist and Marxist approaches to women s art and female representations this book challenges the widespread belief that Marxism has nothing valuable to contribute to women s studies The author argues that from the French Revolution through to the present gender and class have shaped visual imagery She shows how Marxist theory can function to question some of the premises of feminist art histories and to provide a more accurate understanding of the meanings of visual imagery

Surmounting the Barricades Carolyn J. Eichner, 2004-11-12 This book vividly evokes radical women s integral roles within France s revolutionary civil war known as the Paris Commune It demonstrates the breadth depth and impact of communard feminist socialisms far beyond the 1871 insurrection Examining the period from the early 1860s through that century s end Carolyn J Eichner investigates how radical women developed critiques of gender class and religious hierarchies in the immediate pre Commune era how these ideologies emerged as a plurality of feminist socialisms within the revolution and how these varied politics subsequently affected fin de siècle gender and class relations She focuses on three distinctly dissimilar revolutionary women leaders who exemplify multiple competing and complementary feminist socialisms Andre Leo Elisabeth Dmitrieff and Paule Mink Leo theorized and educated through journalism and fiction Dmitrieff organized institutional power for working class women and Mink agitated crowds to create an egalitarian socialist world Each woman forged her own path to gender equality and social justice Ireland, Slavery and Anti-Slavery: 1612-1865 N.

Rodgers,2007-01-31 This book tackles a hitherto neglected topic by presenting Ireland as very much a part of the Black Atlantic world It shows how slaves and sugar produced economic and political change in Eighteenth century Ireland and discusses the role of Irish emigrants in slave societies in the Caribbean and North America The Works of Lady Caroline Lamb

Britton,2019-09-19 Adam Smith s Theory of Moral Sentiments 1759 defines sympathy as a series of shifts in perspective by which one sees from a different point of view British and French novels published over the following century redefine sympathy through narrative form shifting perspectives or stories within stories in which one character adopts the voice and perspective of another Fiction follows Smith's emphasis on sympathy's shifting perspectives but this formal echo coincides with a challenge For Smith and other Enlightenment philosophers the experience of sympathy relies on human resemblance In novels by contrast characters who are separated by nationality race or species experience a version of sympathy that struggles to accommodate such differences Encounters between these characters produce shifts in perspective or framed tales as one character sympathizes with another and begins to tell her story echoing Smith's definition of sympathy in their form while challenging Enlightenment philosophy's insistence on human resemblance Works of sentimental and gothic fiction published between 1750 and 1850 generate a novelistic version of sympathy by manipulating traditional narrative forms epistolary fiction embedded tales and new publication practices the anthology the novelistic extract Second hand stories transform the vocal mobility emotional immediacy and multiple perspectives associated with the declining genre of epistolary fiction into the narrative levels and shifting speakers of nineteenth century frame tales Vicarious Narratives argues that fiction redefines sympathy as the struggle to overcome difference through the active engagement with narrative by listening to re-telling and transcribing the stories of others A Certain Emancipation of Women Tracey Rizzo, 2004 Best selling court cases in eighteenth century France provide ample evidence of a certain emancipation of women Certain in the sense of tentative qualified women won their cases in surprising numbers yet were represented by their lawyers via limiting stereotypes Certain also in the sense of sure lawyers and editors contributed to a liberatory moment particularly in the two decades leading up to the radical phase of the French Revolution in which late eighteenth century constructions of female citizenship offered virtuous women regardless of rank or even race strategic possibilities for establishing modern identities defined as self-creating autonomous and capable of moral judgment and reason Few scholars have attempted to demonstrate the means by which representations both reflect and transform the lives of historical actors This study offers a rare opportunity to glimpse that intersection as the causes celebres contain representations and lived experience fact and fiction Lawyers and editors called for the liberation of women from tyrannical fathers abusive husbands public opinion and even oppressive laws like that maintaining the stigma of illegitimacy in the dozens of seductions separations rapes and infanticides on which this study is based Jacket Romanticism Diane Long Hoeveler, 2017-11-28 Exploring how discourse is figured in the texts of key European Romantic authors such as Wackenroder Coleridge Byron and Hugo this volume offers nuanced readings of the under-explored syntactic semantic and ideological structures of Romantic works Rather than proposing a new theoretical position on the issue of what constitutes Romantic discourse studies the editors have commissioned essays that seek to capture aspects of this discursive field building on previous scholarship to offer fresh ways of seeing how Romantic discourse matrices work The volume is organized into three sections Language and Romantic Discourse Systems Women Writers and Romantic Constructions of Power and Varieties of Revisionist Discourse in Romanticism Each section features individual essays providing critical re-readings of nine Romantic texts and four Romantic topoi Whether writing on Charlotte Smith's The Old Manor House or Anne Brontë's Agnes Grey on rescue operas or criminal drama the contributors who include Marjean Purinton Kari Lokke Rodney Farnsworth and Jeffrey Cass expand our understanding of Romantic modes of argumentation The Cambridge Companion to the French Novel Timothy Unwin, 1997-10-28 This volume offers a unique and valuable insight into the novel in French over the past two centuries In a series of essays acknowledged experts discuss a variety of topics including nineteenth century realism women and fiction popular fiction experiment and innovation war and the Holocaust the Francophone novel and postmodern fiction They offer a challenging reassessment of major figures while deliberately reading traditional views of literary history against the grain Theoretical discussion is combined with close reading of texts and exploration of context comparison with other genres and other literatures and reference to novels from earlier periods This companionable introduction includes a chronology and guide to further reading From it emerges a strong sense of the vitality and energy of the modern French novel and of the debates surrounding it French Opera 1730-1830: Meaning and Media David Charlton, 2024-10-28 The majority of these collected essays date from 1992 onwards three of them having been specially expanded for this volume Drawing on recent archival research and new musicological theory they investigate distinctive qualities in French opera from early opéra comique to early grand opera Media is interpreted in terms of both narrative systems and practical theatre resources One group of essays identifies narrative systems in minuet scenes in the diegetic romance and in special uses of musical motives Another group concerns the theory and poetics of opera in which uses of metaphor help us interpret audience reception A third group focuses on orchestral and staging practices brought together in a new theory of the melodrama model linking various genres from the 1780s with the world of the 1820s French opera's relation with literature and politics is a continuing theme explored in writings on prison scenes Ossian and public private dramaturgy in grand opera David Charlton has written widely on French music and opera topics for over 25 years The selection of his articles presented here focuses on the period 1730-1830 when Paris was a hotbed of influential ideas in music and music theatre with many of these ideas taken up by foreign composers This volume assesses the French contribution to the development of Classical and Romantic styles and genres which has hitherto not received the attention it deserves
