Non-Muslims in Muslim Majority Societies Kajsa Ahlstrand, Goran Gunner, 2011-09-29 In a world where almost all societies are multi religious and multi ethnic we need to study how social cohesion can be achieved in different contexts In some geographical areas as in the Middle East and the Indian subcontinent people of different religious belonging have through the ages lived side by side sometimes in harmony and sometimes in dissonance In other geographical regions as in Scandinavia societies have been quite religiously homogeneous but only recently challenged by immigration In both locations the relations between religious minority and majority are very much on the agenda In order to discuss the situation for non Muslims in Muslim majority societies a consultation was convened with both Muslim and Christian participants from Pakistan Palestine Lebanon and Sweden Some of the participants work in academic settings others in faith based organisations some in jurisprudence and others with theological issues Non Muslims in Muslim Majority Societies is the result of that consultation The intention of the book is to trigger reflection and further thinking through papers that discuss issues such as freedom of religion minority rights secular and religious legislation and inter religious dialogue in Muslim majority societies Although the articles are presented as works in progress and remain tentative in many of their conclusions this book is an important contribution to the global debate over religious tolerance and religious pluralism
