Erving Goffman Tom Burns,2002-09-11 Few sociologists have commanded a larger readership than Erving Goffman From his first book The Presentation of Self In Everyday Life 1956 to his last Forms of Talk 1981 his publications were eagerly awaited and his ideas widely discussed In 1982 when he died at the age of 60 the response was that a figure of outstanding importance had left the stage of modern sociology In this powerful study Tom Burns provides a meticulous and incomparable examination of Erving Goffman s work Burn s arranges Goffman s writings into a series of themes such as Social Order Acting Out normalisation abnormalisation grading and discrimination and realms of being This is a useful device because it brings out the richness and diversity of Goffman s preoccupations This richness and diversity is often lost in secondary accounts which insist on labelling Goffman as a micro sociologist or symbolic interactionist In a painstaking and accurate discussion Burns shows the meaning and application of Goffman s key concepts He also guides the reader in the direct influences upon Goffman s thought He shows more clearly than anyone else how Goffman was influenced by Durkheim Simmel the Chicago School animal ethology and linguistic philosophy The book ends with a crisp and incisive critical assessment of Goffman s sociology The Imperial Encyclopaedic Dictionary Robert Hunter,1901 Pioneers in the Attic Sara M. Patterson,2020-05-01 Why do thousands of Mormons devote their summer vacations to following the Mormon Trail Why does the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Day Saints spend millions of dollars to build monuments and Visitor Centers that believers can visit to experience the history of their nineteenth century predecessors who fled westward in search of their promised land Why do so many Mormon teenagers dress up in Little House on the Prairie style garb and push handcarts over the highest local hills they can find And what exactly is a traveling Zion In Pioneers in the Attic Sara Patterson analyzes how and why Mormons are engaging their nineteenth century past in the modern era arguing that as the LDS community globalized in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries its relationship to space was transformed Following their exodus to Utah nineteenth century Mormons believed that they must gather together in Salt Lake Zion their new center place They believed that Zion was a place you could point to on a map a place you should dwell in to live a righteous life Later Mormons had to reinterpret these central theological principles as their community spread around the globe but to say that they simply spiritualized concepts that had once been understood literally is only one piece of the puzzle Contemporary Mormons still want to touch and to feel these principles so they mark and claim the landscapes of the American West with versions of their history carved in stone They develop rituals that allow them not only to learn the history of the nineteenth century journey west but to engage it with all of their senses Pioneers in the Attic reveals how modern day Mormons have created a sense of community and felt religion through the memorialization of early Mormon pioneers of the American West immortalizing a narrative of shared identity through an emphasis on place and collective memory

Frederic Manning Jonathan Marwil, 1988 In January 1930 Her Privates We appeared in London advertised as a record of experience on the Somme and Ancre fronts in 1916 from the pen of Private 10922 a well known man of letters already distinguished in another kind of literature Reviewers praised the novel as the most accurate and moving portrayal yet rendered of the common soldier and the work quickly became a bestseller Shortly thereafter the author was revealed as Frederic Manning a reclusive and little known author of narrative poetry philosophical dialogues and works on Epicurus An early contributor to Criterion Manning enjoyed considerable esteem among his peers T E Lawrence Ernest Hemingway Ezra Pound and T S Eliot among others How did a classical and noncommercial author come to write a grittily realistic war novel Manning fled from the attendant publicity avoiding the limelight assiduously and successfully Marwil's search for the answer to this riddle and for the details of his life in some ways the search is as interesting and revealing as the results and his account of Manning's life and work reveal a great deal of the intellectual and social world of Edwardian and Georgian England
