environmental literature one that is dependent on an understanding of nature as home rather than as a place of temporary retreat He examines three captivity narratives written in the 1820s and 1830s A Narrative of the Life of Mrs Mary Jemison The Captivity and Adventures of John Tanner and Life of Black Hawk all of which engage with the Jacksonian policy of Indian removal and resist tropes of the so called Vanishing Indian As Lyndgaard shows the authors and the editors with whom they collaborated often saw their stories as a plea for environmental and social justice At the same time audiences have embraced them for their vision of a more inclusive and less exploitative American society than was proffered by the rhetoric of Manifest Destiny Their legacy is that while environmental and social justice has been slow in fulfilment their continued popularity testifies to the fact that the struggle for justice has never been ceded

The Spanish Borderlands Frontier, 1513-1821
 John Francis Bannon, 1974 The classic history of the Spanish frontier from Florida to California The Latest Early American Literature R. C. De Prosopo, 2016-01-21 The Latest Early American Literature according to readers for the University of Delaware Press is a collection of polemics and manifestoes In it R C De Prosopo bids to follow in the footsteps of the two rare early Americanist dissenters whom Philip F Gura once distinguished as prophets without honor in the field William Spengemann and Michael Colacurcio The book contends that a supposedly retired nationalist modernist telos continues to reign in most of the latest scholarship and even more influentially in all of the current literary histories and anthologies no matter how expansive in gender ethnic racial and hemispheric inclusiveness they profess to be Old teloi in particular that old American exceptionalist one can be cunning Updating and expanding upon essays written over the past thirty years De Prosopo proposes not only negatively to critique how the latest scholarly receptions of early American literature differ insignificantly from the earlier ones but positively to propose how a transnationalist concession that as a neocolonial culture America's lags behind that of Europe might advance post modern historiography by radically repositioning the past as no longer the present's diachronic predecessor but to quote Lyotard's semiotics its synchronic differend Closer to earth De Prosopo tries at the same time to remain mindful of the pedagogical imperative that ultimately to save the texts of early American literature will require making them legible to average non specialist never to become specialist undergraduate general education students To facilitate this he introduces in the concluding section of The Latest Early American Literature what will probably be taken as its most radical intervention the redefinition of Edgar Allan Poe as an early American writer
