Of All Possible Worlds:

The Best of All Possible Worlds Steven M. Nadler, 2008-10-28 In this lively and engaging book Nadler brings to life a debate between three brilliant and resolute philosophers in 1672 Paris that had obsessed its participants captivated European intellectuals and continues to inform our ways of thinking about God morality and the world THE BEST OF ALL POSSIBLE WORLDS. R. MADDOX, 2004 Of All Possible Worlds. (Re-issued.) William Tenn, 1966 Atheism Michael Martin, 1990 In this book Michael Martin provides logical reasons for being an atheist Carefully examining the current debate in Anglo American analytic philosophy regarding God's existence Martin presents a comprehensive critique of the arguments for the existence of God and a defense of arguments against the existence of God showing in detail their relevance to atheism Claiming that atheism is a rational position while theistic beliefs are not he relies both on logic and evidence and confines his efforts to showing the irrationality of belief in a personal supreme being who is omniscient omnipotent perfect and the creator of heaven and earth The author's approach is two fold By presenting and criticizing arguments that have been advanced in favor of belief he makes a case for negative atheism By offering arguments against atheism and defending it from these attacks he presents a case for positive atheism Along the way he confronts the views of numerous philosophers among them Anselm Aquinas Plantinga Hick and Swinburne and refutes both classical and contemporary arguments that have been advanced through the history of this debate In his conclusion Martin considers what would and would not follow if his main arguments were widely accepted and he defines and distinguishes atheism from other isms and movements Building on the work of religious skeptics and atheists of the past and present he justifies his reconstruction of this philosophical dispute by citing some of the most interesting and important arguments for atheism and criticisms of arguments for the existence of God that have appeared in recent journal articles and have yet to be systematically addressed Author note Michael Martin is Professor of Philosophy at Boston University and author of several books including The Legal Philosophy of H L A Hart A Critical Appraisal and The Case Against Christianity both from Temple All possible worlds Preston Everett James, 1981 The Best of All Possible Worlds Liv Wilson, 2025-03-07 Of All Possible Worlds William Tenn, 2016-03-03 It was a good job and Max Alben knew whom he had to thank for it his great grandfather Good old Giovanni Albeni he muttered as he hurried into the laboratory slightly ahead of the escorting technicians all of them despite the excitement of the moment remembering to bob their heads deferentially at the half dozen full fleshed and hard faced men lolling on the couches that had been set up around the time machine THE BEST OF ALL POSSIBLE WORLDS: A STORY OF PHILOSOPHERS, GOD, AND EVIL IN THE AGE OF REASON. Steven M. Nadler, Of All Possible Worlds William Tenn (pseud. van Philip Klass), 1966 All Possible Worlds Preston Everett James, 1972 The Best of All Possible Worlds (or Pretty Darn Close). Reinier H. Kraakman, 2002 The Nature of All Being Raymond Bradley, 1992-03-05 In this comprehensive study of Wittgenstein's modal theorizing Bradley offers a radical reinterpretation of Wittgenstein's early thought and presents both an interpretive and a philosophical thesis. A unique feature of Bradley's analysis is his reliance on Wittgenstein's Notebooks which he believes offer indispensable guidance to the interpretation of difficult passages in the Tractatus. Bradley then goes on to argue that Wittgenstein's account of modality and the related notion of possible worlds is in fact superior to any of the currently popular theories in this area. In this context he examines and critiques the work of such figures as Adams, Carnap, Hintikka, Lewis, Rescher, and Stalnaker.

An Act of God? Erwin W. Lutzer, 2012-01-05 How can we begin to understand or explain the tough questions about world disasters? Should we question if God is in control of major disasters or even ask if he caused them? How do we answer the probing questions of non-Christians? How can God be considered good and just in light of the tsunamis, hurricanes, fires, earthquakes, and floods that are visited on his creation and his children? An updated, timely, and even more accessible edition of Where Was God? by Erwin Lutzer, bestselling author and senior pastor of The Moody Church. An Act of God is a faith journey discussion about these and other life dilemmas.

Philosophy of Religion Norman L. Geisler, Winfried Corduan, 2003-01-15 Is there any basis in reality for a religious experience? Is there any basis in reason for belief in God? Is it even possible to speak meaningfully of a transcendent being? And how does one account for evil? The authors answer these questions representing the four most important issues in the philosophy of religion in a comprehensive way and from the perspective of classical theism. They support this position with in-depth argumentation taking into account both classical and contemporary writers. With its well-outlined text, Philosophy of Religion is user-friendly. An introduction, chapter summaries, a glossary, indexes, and bibliography contribute to this end. In this second edition, the authors have not only updated the text and bibliography but also refined some of the arguments, scaled down and evened out the vocabulary, and added several pedagogical aids. The first edition, written by Norman L. Geisler alone, appeared in 1974.

First Philosophy Andrew Bailey, 2002-08-01 This introductory anthology brings together forty-eight readings on eight topics central to philosophy. Mindful of the intrinsic difficulty of much of the material, the editor has provided comprehensive introductions both to the eight topics and to each individual selection. By providing a detailed discussion of the historical and intellectual background to each piece, he aims to enable readers to approach the material without unnecessary barriers to understanding. The topics from Does God exist? to Do we have free will? and What is justice? have been chosen with a view both to their philosophical importance and to their interest to the first-year student. In an introductory chapter, the editor provides a brief introduction to the nature of philosophical enquiry, to the nature of argument, and to the process of reading and writing within the academic discipline of philosophy.

Philosophical Analysis D.S. Austin, 2012-12-06 Analytic philosophy is alive and in good health as this collection of twenty previously unpublished essays most ably demonstrates. The reader will find here assembled some of the finest writings of modern analytic philosophers at the top of their form. Matthews discusses Plato's attempt to deal with the problem of false belief about identities. Parson evaluates Russell's early theory of denoting phrases. Chisholm exhibits the utility of thirteen epistemic categories Plantinga criticizes Chisholm's account of justification Conee argues that solving the Gettier Problem is important and Ginet proposes a solution to it Lehrer criticizes an argument based on the simplicity of our belief in material objects and other minds R Feldman defends an account of having evidence F Feldman defends a propositional account of pleasure Van Fraassen criticizes Garber's solution to the problem of old evidence Casta eda investigates the nature of negation McKay argues that de se analyses of belief do not account for belief de re Richard argues that no Fregean semantics for belief attribution will succeed Ryckman suggests that the Millian theory of names has little to do with the theory of belief is no threat to God's omniscience Dunn investigates constraints imposed on non classical modal logics by extensionality Fitch argues that singular propositions perform important functions in modal logic Jubien evaluates arguments for and against possible worlds Ratzsch argues that there must be a deeper source of nomicality than ordinary subjunctives and Stalnaker argues that there is room for determinacy of identity and indeterminacy in reference

The Impossibility and Necessity of Theodicy Andrea Poma, 2012-09-22 This book provides an analytical interpretation of Leibniz's Essais de Théodique with wide ranging references to all his works It shows and upholds many thesis Leibniz's rational conception of faith his rational notion of mystery the reformation of classical ontology and the importance of Leibniz's thought in the tradition of the critical idealism In his endeavor to formulate a theodicy Leibniz emerges as a classic exponent of a non immanentist modern rationalism capable of engaging in a close dialogue with religion and faith This relation implies that God and reason are directly involved in posing the challenge and that the defence of one is the defence of the other Theodicy and logodicy are two key aspects of a philosophy which is open to faith and of a faith which is able to intervene in culture and history What Caused the Big Bang? Rem Blanchard Edwards, 2001 This book critically explores answers to the big question What produced our universe around fifteen billion years ago in a Big Bang It critiques contemporary atheistic cosmologies incl Steady State Oscillationism Big Fizz that affirm the eternity self sufficiency of the universe without God It defends and revises Process Theology and arguments for God's existence from the universe's life supporting order contingent existence A Companion to David Lewis Barry Loewer, Jonathan Schaffer, 2015-02-10 In A Companion to David Lewis Barry Loewer and Jonathan Schaffer bring together top philosophers to explain discuss and critically extend Lewis's seminal work in original ways Students and scholars will discover the underlying themes and complex interconnections woven through the diverse range of his work in metaphysics philosophy of language logic epistemology philosophy of science philosophy of mind ethics and aesthetics The first and only comprehensive study of the work of David Lewis one of the most systematic and influential philosophers of the latter half of the 20th century Contributions shed light on the underlying themes and complex interconnections woven through Lewis's work across his enormous range of influence including metaphysics language logic epistemology science mind ethics and aesthetics Outstanding Lewis scholars and leading philosophers working in the fields Lewis influenced explain discuss and critically extend Lewis's work in original ways An essential resource for students and researchers across analytic philosophy that covers the major themes of Lewis's work The Essential Schopenhauer Arthur Schopenhauer, 2024-04-16 We should be grateful to Schopenhauer for managing to express the truth about life so beautifully Alain De Botton author of The Consolations of Philosophy Schopenhauer's philosophy has had a special attraction for those who wonder about life's meaning along with those engaged in music literature and the visual arts Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy The Essential Schopenhauer delivers the first comprehensive English anthology of the seminal philosopher's writings Edited by Wolfgang Schirmacher president of the International Schopenhauer Association this indispensable collection affords readers a uniquely accessible gateway into the monolithic thinker's prodigious body of work

Just as the Harper Perennial Basic Writings series renders the work of Heidegger and Nietzsche accessible for English readers The Essential Schopenhauer gives us unprecedented access to the complex ideas of this profound and influential thinker
