Off Course From Public Place To Market Place At Melbourne University:

No End of a Lesson Stuart Macintyre, André Brett, Gwilym Croucher, 2017-10-02 A revolution swept through universities three decades ago transforming them from elite institutions into a mass system of higher education Teaching was aligned with occupational outcomes research was directed to practical results Campuses grew and universities became more entrepreneurial Students had to juggle their study requirements with paid work and were required to pay back part of the cost of their degrees The federal government directed this transformation through the creation of a Unified National System How did this happen What were the gains and the losses No End of a Lesson explores this radical reconstruction and assesses its consequences

Australia p ix Privatising the Public University Margaret Thornton, 2011-08 First Published in 2011 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Governance and the Public Good William G. Tierney, 2012-02-01 The public good is not merely an economic idea of goods and services but a place where thoughtful debate and examination of the polis can occur In differentiating the university from corporations and other private sector businesses Governance and the Public Good provides a framework for discussing the trend toward politicized and privatized postsecondary institutions while acknowledging the parallel demands of accountability and autonomy placed on sites of higher learning If one accepts the notion of higher education as a public good does this affect how one thinks about the governance of America s colleges and universities Contributors to this book explore the role of the contemporary university its relationship to the public good beyond a simple obligation to educate for jobs and the subsequent impact on how institutions of higher education are and should be governed Grappling with Societies and Institutions in an Era of Socio-Ecological Crisis Hans A.

Baer, 2020-12-10 Grappling with Societies and Institutions in an Era of Socio Ecological Crisis is an autobiographical ethnography of the journey through various societies and institutions and how they function in the midst of an era of socio ecological crises The volume traces the steps of the author in becoming a radical anthropologist namely through the experience of immigration and naturalization from Peru to the United States and then to Australia politicization while working as an engineer in the aircraft industry during the late 1960s socialization in and subsequent exit from Roman Catholicism and experiences as an academic working in the corporate university As well the author illuminates the practices of research and engagement as a scholar activist on various topics such as the Levites of Utah and African American Spiritual churches socio political and religious life in East Germany complementary and alternative medicine the Australian climate movement and democratic eco socialism Sociology Australia Judith Bessant, 2020-07-16 Sociology gives us the tools we need to understand our life and the lives of the people around us It reveals that our commonsense view of the world isn't always right and enables us to find out what actually shapes our experiences In this widely used and very readable introductory text Judith Bessant and Rob Watts show us how to develop a sociological perspective on what is happening in Australia today Rapid and far reaching social changes are taking place which affect us all globalisation is impacting on our economy and culture technological developments increase the pace of life and many people worry about the decline of traditional values and about environmental and personal security Using a sociological perspective we can explain why different groups of people experience these changes as exciting unsettling or devastating Sociology Australia is structured around six key questions What is sociology Who are we and how do we come to be who we are How do we know the world in which we live Can we make our lives as we want them Who makes the decisions that shape our society What changes are taking place in Australia today Sociology Australia is an ideal introduction to the discipline of sociology and to the dynamics of Australian society today This third edition of Sociology Australia has been substantially revised and updated and includes new chapters on religion education and sustainability The Corporatization and Environmental Sustainability of Australian Universities Hans Baer, 2023-11-08 Analysing the juxtaposition of two trends in universities corporatisation and environmental sustainability this book explores how they are more contradictory than compatible Hans A Baer argues that this contradiction is unavoidable because of the capitalist parameters in which they operate including a commitment to on going economic growth which contributes to social inequality environmental degradation and greenhouse gas emissions Drawing on archival sources and Baer s experiences in university sustainability forums the book exposes how what universities claim to do in relation to environmental sustainability compares with their research educational operational and institutional activities Presenting a critique of and a radical alternative to the status quo this book is suitable for academics and students of anthropology environmental studies and higher education Globalization and Internationalization in Higher Education Felix Maringe, Nick Fosskett, 2012-08-16 International contributions exploring the internationalisation agenda in higher education drawing together strategic and management issues successful practice giving an understanding of the new challenges Shifting the Boundaries Carolyn Rasmussen, 2018-07-30 The University of Melbourne was already over 110 years old when this history begins The second oldest university in Australia it has been graced with a number of histories written by eminent historians Each of these histories has documented the University s evolution and diversification from the perspective of their time Shifting the Boundaries The University of Melbourne 1975 2015 continues that story but the period covered is entirely within living memory It pauses at ten year intervals the first at 1975 to look back at the previous decade We are invited to enter the University of Melbourne as a living institution and to watch it as it responds to changing expectations of students staff and community to shifting policy frameworks and to an evolving economic and social context The principal themes that arc across this story involve massive growth the evolution towards a research intensive institution changing pedagogical imperatives bureaucratisation and internationalisation in the face of declining public funding Neoliberalism, the Security State, and the Quantification of Reality David R. Lea, 2016-12-14 As the security state grows in power and dominance commercial and financial interests increasingly penetrate our social existence Neoliberalism the Security State and the Quantification of Reality addresses the relationship between these two trends in its discussion of neoliberalism financialization and managerialism with a particular focus on the decline of professionalism the restructuring of tertiary education and the university's abandonment of the humanities Additionally David Lea links these developments with the failings of democratic institutions the growth of the disciplinary society and the emergence of the security state which relentlessly governs by extraordinary fiat dividing disempowering and excluding Lea identifies one such linkage in the common form of rationality which underlies contemporary approaches to reality Others have noted that one of the most notable political developments of the last thirty years or so has been increasing public and governmental demand for the quantification of social phenomena Moreover A W Crosby has attributed Europe's unprecedented imperial success which began in early European Modernity to a paradigmatic shift from a qualitative world view grounded in Platonic and Neo Platonic idealism to a more quantitative world view Nevertheless this quantitative approach towards the natural and social worlds alienates humans from other species and even from ourselves and fails to represent life as we actually experience it While a quantitative world view may have facilitated imperial success and the interlocking exercise of power and authority by the state and the economically empowered this instrumental form of thinking rationales strategies and facilitates policies that restrict and vitiate individual autonomy to create a seamless controlled conformity This form of thinking that relies on the quantification of natural and social phenomena creates a value free equivalency which at the same time invidiously divides society into the wealthy and the impoverished the advantaged and the exploited the politically included and the excluded Knowledge as Value Ian Morley, Mira Crouch, 2008 This book considers the place and value of knowledge in contemporary society Knowledge is not a self evident concept both its denotations and connotations are historically situated Since the Enlightenment knowledge has been a matter of discovery through effort and knowledge for its own sake a taken for granted ideal underwriting progressive education as a process which not only taught for and about something but also ennobled the soul While this ideal has not been explicitly rejected in recent decades there has been a tacit move away from a strong emphasis on its centrality even in Higher Education The authors address the values that inform knowledge production in its present forms and seek to identify social and cultural factors that support these values Against the background of increasingly restrictive conditions of academic work the first section of this volume offers incisive critiques of Higher Education with examples drawn from Australia and New Zealand The second group of chapters considers how academics have viewed and have tried to adapt to present circumstances The third section comprises papers that consider epistemological issues in the generation and promulgation of knowledge The chapters in this volume are indicative of the work that needs to be done so that we can come to comprehend and perhaps try and improve our relationship to learning and knowledge in the 21st Century This timely book will be of particular interest to workers in higher education it should also inform and challenge all those who have concerns for the future of the intellectual life of our civilization Radical Hospitality - space for human flourishing in a complex world Geoff Boyce,2018-05-04 Geoff Boyce offers an exploration of one of the urgent challenges of our time how are we all going to get along together despite our differences He develops an insight by Henri Nouwen the creation of free space for the other applying this concept to the personal interpersonal and organisational He draws on personal insights and experiences and the contributions of scholars and public figures Virtual Nation Gerard Goggin,2004 The first comprehensive book on the Australian Internet Virtual Nation offers a surprising thought provoking and rigorous introduction to a technology that we now can't do without Faith's Knowledge Paul Tyson,2013-05-02 Can we know truth even though certain proof is unattainable Can we be known by Truth Is there a relationship between belief and truth and if so what is the nature of that relationship Do we need to have faith in reason and in real meaning to be able to reason towards truth These are the sorts of questions this book seeks to address In Faith's Knowledge Paul Tyson argues that all knowledge that aims at truth is always the knowledge of faith If this is the case then against our modernist cultural assumptions about knowledge truth cannot be had by proof Yet if this is true then mere information and simply objective facts do not for us as knowers exist Knowledge is always embedded in belief and knowledge and belief is always expressed in relationships histories narratives shared meanings and power Hence a theological sociology of knowledge emerges out of these explorations in thinking about knowledge as a function of faith A History of the Modern Australian University Hannah Forsyth,2014-10-01 In 1857 all of the Arts students at the University of Sydney could fit into a single photograph Now there are more than one million university students in Australia After World War II Australian universities became less elite but more important growing from six small institutions educating less than 0.2 per cent of the population to a system enrolling over a quarter of high school graduates And yet universities today are plagued with ingrained problems More than 50 per cent of the cost of universities goes to just running them They now have an explicit commercial focus They compete bitterly for students and funding an issue sharply underlined by the latest federal budget Scholars rarely feel their vice chancellors represent them and within their own ranks academics squabble for scraps Knowing Australia is a perceptive clear eyed account of Australian universities recounting their history from the 1850s to the present Investigating the changing nature of higher education it asks whether this success is likely to continue in the 21st century as the university's hold over knowledge grows ever more tenuous An Improbable Feast - the surprising dynamic of hospitality at the heart of multifaith chaplaincy Geoff Boyce,2011-01-05 How are we all going to live together in spite of all our differences Editor Geoff Boyce has collected anecdotes from fellow members of his non Aboriginal church congregation shedding light on the yawning gap between Australia's First and Second Peoples while also revealing their underlying yearning for justice and mutuality Back cover Critical Perspectives on International Education Yvonne Hébert, Ali A.
