Official History Of Colonial Devel Volume 5:

The Official History of Colonial Development: The origins of British aid policy, 1924-1945 David John Morgan, 1980

Colonialism and Development Michael A. Havinden, David Meredith, 2002-06-01 British colonial rule of the tropics is the critical background to contemporary development issues This study of Britain's economic and political relationship with its tropical colonies provides detailed analyses of trade and policy The considerations of past successes and failures elucidate current opportunities and developments No other book covers this broad topic with such detail and clarity The Battle for Asia Mark T. Berger, 2004-03-01 Asia has long been an ideological battleground between capitalism and communism between nationalism and Westernisation and between the nation state and globalization This book is a history of the Asian region from 1945 to the present day which delineates the various ideological battles over Asia's development Subjects covered include theories of development decolonization US political and economic intervention the effects of communism the end of the Cold War the rise of neo liberalism Asia after the crisis Asia in the era of globalisation Broad in sweep and rich in theory and empirical detail this is an essential account of the growth of Asian miracle and its turbulent position in the global economy of the twenty first century Completing Humanity Umut Özsü, 2023-12-21 Examines the history of the rise and fall of the twentieth century's last major attempt to decolonize international law Winding up the British Empire in the Pacific Islands W. David McIntyre, 2016-11-24 Little has been written about when how and why the British Government changed its mind about giving independence to the Pacific Islands Using recently opened archives Winding Up the British Empire in the Pacific Islands gives the first detailed account of this event As Britain began to dissolve the Empire in Asia in the aftermath of the Second World War it announced that there were some countries that were so small remote and lacking in resources that they could never become independent states However between 1970 and 1980 there was a rapid about turn Accelerated decolonization suddenly became the order of the day Here was the death warrant of the Empire and hastily arranged independence ceremonies were performed for six new states Tonga Fiji Solomon Islands Tuvalu Kiribati and Vanuatu The rise of anti imperialist pressures in the United Nations had a major role in this change in policy as did the pioneering examples marked by the release of Western Samoa by New Zealand in 1962 and Nauru by Australia in 1968 The tenacity of Pacific Islanders in maintaining their cultures was in contrast to more strident Afro Asia nationalisms The closing of the Colonial Office by merger with the Commonwealth Relations Office in 1966 followed by the joining of the Commonwealth and Foreign Offices in 1968 became a major turning point in Britain's relations with the Islands In place of long nurtured traditions of trusteeship for indigenous populations that had evolved in the Colonial Office the new Foreign Commonwealth Office concentrated on fostering British interests which came to mean reducing distant commitments and focussing on the Atlantic world and Europe Argument and Change in World Politics Neta Crawford, 2002-07-25 Arguments have consequences in world politics that are as real as the military forces of states or the balance of power among them Neta

Crawford proposes a theory of argument in world politics which focuses on the role of ethical arguments in fostering changes in long standing practices She examines five hundred years of history analyzing the role of ethical arguments in colonialism the abolition of slavery and forced labour and decolonization Pointing out that decolonization is the biggest change in world politics in the last five hundred years the author examines ethical arguments from the sixteenth century justifying Spanish conquest of the Americas and from the twentieth century over the fate of Southern Africa The book also offers a prescriptive analysis of how ethical arguments could be deployed to deal with the problem of humanitarian intervention Co winner of the APSA Jervis Schroeder Prize for the best book on international history and politics Eviction from the Chagos Islands

Sandra Evers, Marry Kooy, 2011-05-27 This book examines the history and contemporary living conditions of Chagossians who were evicted from the Chagos archipelago in the Indian Ocean to make way for a strategic U S military base Initially part of colonial Mauritius Chagos was integrated into a new colony named the British Indian Ocean Territory in 1965 In 1966 Great Britain transferred control of Diego Garcia the largest Chagos island to the Americans under a fifty year lease The expulsions which followed were designed to satisfy the U S demand for an unpopulated territory The Chagossians were thus forced to resettle in Mauritius and the Seychelles where livelihoods are poor and marginalized The Chagossians are currently engaged in a campaign seeking right of return to the archipelago and recognition as a people forced to live in diaspora Media in

Hong Kong Carol P. Lai, 2007-03-12 Making full use of newly declassified material extensive interviews and specific case studies this book examines the Hong Kong media over a forty year period focusing in particular on how its newspapers and TV stations have struggled for press freedom under the colonial British administration as well as Chinese rule Reckoning with Empire: Self-Determination in International Law Miriam Bak Mckenna, 2022-11-28 The book adopts a new approach to self determination s international legal history tracing the ways in which various actors have sought to reinvent self determination in different juridical political and economic iterations to create the conditions for global transformation The value of the book s approach lies not only in a more nuanced understanding of self determination s legal history but in excavating the multiple ways in which actors particularly those from the Global South have challenged the existing normative and legal structures which rendered them unequal under the European system of international law Rethinking this process touches on issues that are relevant not only to debates about the enduring legacy of imperialism in our present but also to contemporary discussions of the position self determination has come to occupy in international law Britain and

Kenya's Constitutions, 1950-1960 , Hong Kong and the Cold War Chi-kwan Mark, 2004-08-05 After 1949 the British Empire in Hong Kong was more vulnerable than the lack of Chinese demand for return and the success of Hong Kong s economic transformations might have suggested Its vulnerability stemmed as much from Britain s imperial decline and America s Cold War requirements as from a Chinese threat It culminated in the little known 1957 Question a year when the British position in Hong Kong appeared more uncertain than any time since 1949 This is the first scholarly study that places

Hong Kong at the heart of the Anglo American relationship in the wider context of the Cold War in Asia Unlike existing works which tend to treat British and US policies in isolation this book explores their dynamic interactions how the two allies perceived responded to and attempted to influence each other s policies and actions It also provides a major reinterpretation of Hong Kong s involvement in the containment of China Dr Mark argues that concerned about possible Chinese retaliation the British insisted and the Americans accepted that Hong Kong s role should be as discreet and non confrontational in nature as possible Above all top decision makers in Washington evaluated Hong Kong s significance not in its own right but in the context of the Anglo American relationship Hong Kong was seen primarily as a bargaining chip to obtain British support for US policy elsewhere in Asia By using a variety of British and US archival material as well as Chinese sources Dr Mark examines how the British and US government discussed debated and disagreed over Hong Kong s role in the Cold War and reveals the dynamics of the Anglo American alliance and the dilemmas of small allies in a global conflict Margery

Perham and British Rule in Africa Mary Bull, Alison Smith, 2013-12-02 Margery Perham was an outstanding influence on official and academic thinking on British Colonial rule and decolonization in Africa during the middle part of the century The book traces how the Second World War transformed her view of colonial rule and of the rate at which it would have to be relinquished The Modern Plantation in the Third World Edgar Graham, Ingrid Floering, 2024-02-01 Originally published in 1984 this was the first study to define and rationalise the character and functions of the plantation in the contemporary world The author Edgar Graham was uniquely placed to do this having had long experience of Unilever s plantations in West Africa Zaire Malaysia and the Pacific Writing as a pragmatist from observed fact his starting point was the fact that the modern plantation bears very little resemblance to that of the past on which most hostile accounts are still based Two changes altered the very nature of the issue First the 20th Century plantation existed within an economic framework controlled by independent governments Secondly the rapid development in technology has revolutionised most aspects of plantation production The result it is argued is that the modern plantation offers host governments the option of using this as the most efficient way of utilising available factors of production to provide a maximum social return Exemplified by case studies this study presents a powerful argument for the continue use of the plantation system when properly applied to a variety of tropical crops Imperialism and Development Nicholas Westcott, 2020 A compelling exploration of one of the most ill advised and calamitous interventions in colonial development history The United States and Decolonization in West Africa, 1950-1960 Ebere Nwaubani, 2001 He also gives a nuanced appraisal of the Cold War demonstrating that it was not as important as popularly believed in determining U S behavior in Africa The primary focus of the book is on West Africa with case studies focusing on the Ewe Ghana including the Volta dam project and Guinea The broad issues discussed are framed in the larger context of sub Saharan Africa and against the backdrop of the larger debates about the nature of post 1945 United States diplomacy BOOK JACKET Surviving Small Size Patsy Lewis, 2002 In 1987 St Vincent s Prime Minister

James Mitchell called on his fellow Prime Ministers in the Eastern Caribbean to merge their separate countries into a single state. He argued that individually they had exhausted the possibilities of separate independence and they could only pursue regional and international development and indeed economic survival by pooling their scarce resources to combat common problems. By the end of the year all the Leeward Islands rejected the initiative although it remained very much alive among the governments of the Windward chain: Grenada, St Vincent and the Grenadines, St Lucia and the Commonwealth of Dominica. During the next eight years efforts of the Windward Islands to merge were debated but the initiative for unification ultimately died. Through extensive interviews and analyses of primary documents, Lewis paints a compelling picture of island and regional jealousies and conflicting economic priorities which prevented the Windward and Leeward Islands from cooperating and which ultimately destroyed the movement for political unification in the Windwards.

Making a World after Empire Christopher J. Lee, 2010-06-15. In April 1955, twenty-nine countries from Africa, Asia and the Middle East came together for a diplomatic conference in Bandung, Indonesia, intending to define the direction of the postcolonial world. Representing approximately two-thirds of the world's population, the Bandung conference occurred during a key moment of transition in the mid-twentieth century, amid the global wave of decolonization that took place after the Second World War and the nascent establishment of a new cold war world order in its wake. Participants such as Jawaharlal Nehru of India, Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, Zhou Enlai of China, and Ahmed Sukarno of Indonesia seized this occasion to attempt the creation of a political alternative to the dual threats of Western neocolonialism and the cold war interventionism of the United States and the Soviet Union. The essays in this volume explore the diverse repercussions of this event, tracing the diplomatic, intellectual, and sociocultural histories that have emanated from it. Making a World after Empire consequently addresses the complex intersection of postcolonial history and cold war history and speaks to contemporary discussions of Afro-Asianism, empire, and decolonization, thus reestablishing the conference's importance in twentieth-century global history.

Imperialism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2003-08-29. One of the few studies of imperialism to concentrate on Southeast Asia, Tarling's work focuses on the establishment of political control from 1870 to 1914 and analyses attempts to re-establish control after the Second World War.

British Imperialism P.J. Cain, A. G. Hopkins, 2014-01-14. A milestone in the understanding of British history and imperialism and truly global in its reach, this magisterial account received numerous accolades from reviewers in its first edition. The first to coin the phrase 'gentlemanly capitalism', Cain and Hopkins make the strong and provocative argument that it is impossible to understand the nature and evolution of British imperialism without taking account of the peculiarities of her economic development. In particular, the growth of the financial sector and above all the City of London played a crucial role in shaping the course of British history and Britain's relations overseas. Now with a substantive new introduction and a conclusion the scope of the original account has been widened to include an innovative discussion of globalization

Decolonization and African Society Frederick Cooper, 1996-08-28 This detailed and authoritative volume changes our conceptions of imperial and African history Frederick Cooper gathers a vast range of archival sources in French and English to achieve a truly comparative study of colonial policy toward the recruitment control and institutionalization of African labor forces from the mid 1930s when the labor question was first posed to the late 1950s when decolonization was well under way Professor Cooper explores colonial conceptions of the African worker and shows how African trade union and political leaders used the new language of social change to claim equality and a share of power This helped to persuade European officials that the modern Africa they imagined was unaffordable Britain and France could not reshape African society As they left the continent the question was how they had affected the ways in which Africans could reorganize society themselves
